This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. BULLETINS.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 2, 1863.

Whitehall, January 2, 1863.

THE Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, having on the 24th day of December, 1862, appointed George Wingrove Cooke, Esq., Barrister-at-Law, to be a Commissioner under the Act 14 and 15 Vic., cap. 53, intituled "An Act "to consolidate and continue the Copyhold and "Inclosure Commissions, and to provide for the "completion of proceedings under the Tithe Com-"mutation Acts;" the said George Wingrove Cooke has this day made a declaration before Sir George William Wilshere Bramwell, Knt., one of the Barons of Her Majesty's Court of Exchequer, for the due execution of the duties under the said Act.

Board of Trade, Whitehall, December 31, 1862.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade give Notice, that the Moniteur of the 30th instant, contains a French Imperial Decree, abolishing from the 1st January, 1863, the drawbacks accorded by the Decrees of the 18th August, 1852, 19th January, 1856, 29th May, 1861, and 20th July, 1862 respectively, on the exportation of products derived from Salt.

Board of Trade, Whitehall,
December 31, 1862.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade, give Notice that the Moniteur of the 30th instant, contains a French Imperial Decree, of which the following is a translation, fixing the import duties on British and Belgian products, having Salt as their basis, and abolishing the supplementary duties upon glass of British or Belgian origin :

Art. 1. The British and Belgian productions, having salt as their basis, which are specified in the table annexed to the present decree, will, after the 1st January, 1863, pay on importation, in lieu of the existing supplementary duties, the supplementary duties therein set forth, to countervail the direct and indirect charges attaching to the manufacture of soda.

Nevertheless, the supplementary duties fixed by the treaties of the 16th November, 1860, and the 1st May, 1861, with England and Belgium respectively, will continue to be levied :—1st, on sulphate of anhydrous soda, containing more than 25 per cent. of salt; 2nd, upon artificial raw sodas below 30 degrees ; 3rd, upon carbonates of soda below 60 degrees.

Art. 2. From the 1st of January, 1863, the supplementary duties upon looking glass or mirrors, upon glass wares, window glass, and other white glass and glass bottles of British or Belgium origin, will be abolished.

Board of Trade, Whitehall,
January 1, 1863.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade, give Notice that the Moniteur of the 30th ultimo, contains a French Imperial Decree, exempting from Customs' Duties the following articles, when imported into France:

Silk unbleached, raw or thrown, including double thread (Doupions). Waste silk in mass, unbleached, or dyed.

Bones and hoofs of animals, of European origin, raw or calcined (calcinés à blanc), imported in French vessels, or by land.

Board of Trade, Whitehall,
December 22, 1862.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs the following translation of the Customs Tariff and Regulations recently promulgated by the Government of the Netherlands, which came into force on the 1st November last.

ART. 1.

Under the name of import duty, a duty shall be paid on the articles, as specified in the following list (1) and declared for home consumption.

ART. 2.

No duty is to be paid on articles not mentioned in the art. 1, except that they could be classed, according to their nature or destination, as one of the articles mentioned in the list.

The excise on foreign turf for fuel is to be paid, conformably to art. 1 of the law of the 26th December, 1833 (Offic. Journal, No. 77).

ART. 3.

No import duty is to be paid on:

(1) See the Tariff hereafter.

a. The merchandise, relanding within two years from our colonial possessions, after being exported from the Netherlands;

b. The merchandise of certified Dutch origin, relanded within two years, after being exported to foreign markets;

c. The merchandise relanded, after being exported from the Netherlands to places where it cannot be imported in consequence of prohibition or augmentation of import duty, which could not be known when exported.

Art. 4.

When the merchandise mentioned by the art. 3 is exported from the Netherlands, with discharge or restitution of excises, it cannot be relanded before the drawback is repaid.

Art. 5.

No import-duty is to be paid on provisions and victuals for consumption on board inward-bound ships, unless the merchandise is declared as such, and does not exceed the quantity fixed by the law.

When it exceeds the fixed quantity, freedom of import-duty will be granted, when it is to be exported in the same ship. In this case it must remain under the care of the custom-house until exported.

These articles are free of excise.

Art. 6.

No import-duty is to be paid on:

a. Utensils and cordages belonging to and whereof use is made on rafts of wood descending the rivers provided this use is duly stated by an inventory when imported;

b. Goods belonging to ambassadors of foreign states in the Netherlands, but only for those states where the goods of our ambassadors are also exempted from duty;

c. Carriages used in travelling;

d. Luggage of travellers;

e. Furniture in course of removal;

f. Fruits and productions of the earth and trees, the produce of places situated within the distance of five thousand five hundred ells from the frontiers of the country, imported for consumption in the Netherlands, provided that they are imported between sun-rise and sun-set and during the ordinarytime of harvest. The possession or the occupation of the grounds is to be duly stated;

g. Empty bags, barrels, baskets, and all objects intended only for the transport of merchandise when exported;

h. Merchandise free of excise imported to be dressed or prepared and re-exported;

i. Merchandise free of excise exported for restoration in any foreign country, and which is imported again within six months.

The goods mentioned sub b are free of excise.

Art. 7.

The stipulations necessary to prevent abuse, relative to the freedom mentioned in the articles 3, 5, and 6, are fixed by the law.

Art. 8.

For the calculation of the import-duty, the fractions of the lb., the litre, the cubic ell or the florin, shall be reckoned integrally.

Fractions of cents are counted for whole cents.

Art. 9.

No less import-duty than five cents will be charged for any declaration, however trifling the quantity or value may be.

Art. 10.

For merchandise, of which the tare is not fixed by the tariff, the following tare may be subtracted from the gross weight:

a. For merchandise packed in barrels, or wooden boxes, fifteen per cent.;

b. For merchandise packed in leather, mats, baskets, canisters, linen or such articles, eight per cent.

Art. 11.

When the importers object to the tare, as fixed by the preceding article, they may pay the import-duty of the net weight, which shall be determined by the custom-officers at the expense of the importers.

Art. 12.

When there are a great number of barrels, casks, baskets, canisters, bales, or packets of the same size and sort, the tare may be determined by weighing the empty barrels, &c., which shall be indicated by the custom-officer. The tare shall be fixed according to the result.

Art. 13.

When ad-valorem goods are packed with those whereof duty is to be paid according to the weight, then the net weight can be determined by the custom-officers at the expense of the importer.

Art. 14.

For the determination of the import-duty on liquids, which do not pay excise, the following deduction will be allowed for leakage.

a. When imported by sea, from the harbours of the North Sea and Baltic, of France, Portugal, and Spain, from this side of the Strait of Gibraltar, six per cent.

b. When imported from elsewhere, twelve per cent.

Art. 15.

When the importer objects to the deduction fixed by the preceding article, he may pay duty for the real quantity, to be determined at his own expense.

Art. 16.

For liquids, imported by land or by the rivers, which do not pay excise, and which are charged according to the measure, no deduction will be allowed.

The duty is to be paid for the whole contents of barrels, except when the importer should prefer to have the real contents determined by the custom-officers, at his own expense.

Art. 17.

In extraordinary circumstances, or whenever it should be for the interests of trade and industry, the duty fixed by the tariff can be decreased or annulled by the law.

In this case our resolution shall be communicated to the States-General within thirty days after the opening of the session, accompanied by a project of law.

When circumstances require that a resolution should be taken when the States-General are assembled, then the communication shall be made within thirty days after the date of the resolution.

When the project of law is rejected by the States-General, the resolution remains in force for twenty days after the date of rejection.

ART. 18.

The duties that are determined by the tariff shall not be increased.

ART. 19.

Importation of the following articles is:

a. Reprints of books, the copyright of which exist in the Netherlands or in foreign states with which they have concluded a copyright convention.

b. Copper coin and plates for copper coin.

Copper-plates for coin, however, may be imported, with our consent, for the use of the mint, by paying the import duty as fixed by the tariff for beaten copper, leaves or plates.

ART. 20.

An export duty of five guilders per 100 lbs. shall be paid on linen and cotton rags, including old useless paper, torn or not, linen and cotton, worn clothes of linen and cotton, sold by weight, pulp for paper, and all these articles when they are mixed with woollen rags.

An export-duty of two guilders fifty cents, per 100 lbs. shall be paid on unmixed woollen rags.

ART. 21.

The export or transit of gunpowder and ammunition can be prohibited, entirely or partially, by the law.

ART. 22.

The existing legal stipulations concerning the formalities of transit, which are to be observed, may be modified by the law when it can tend to the accommodation of trade, preserving the necessary rules to secure the import-duties.

Art. 23.

The duty of four per cent., mentioned in art. the 2d. of the Law of the 8th August, 1850 (Off. Journ., No. 49), shall be reduced to two per cent.

Art. 24.

The exemption of inland passports for transports, as provided by art. 161, litt. f, of the Law of the 26th August, 1862 (Off. Journ., No. 38), is limited for linen, cotton and woollen rags, to a quantity of not less than five pounds.

Art. 25.

The following Laws are annulled; Law of the 19th June, 1845 (Off. Journ., No. 28), those of the 30th May, 1847 (Off. Journ, No. 24), with exception of the articles 3, 4, and 5, the articles 1, 2, 4, and 5 of the Law of the 8th August, 1850 (Off. Jour., No. 47), art. 1 of this Law however, only concerning the freedom, specified by art. 3 § 1 of the Law of the 19th June, 1845 (Off. Journ., No. 28), the Laws of the 18th Septemb., 1852 (Off. Journ., No. 176), of the 9th Septemb., 1853 (Off. Journ., No 101), and of the 1st Septemb., 1854 (Off. Journ., No. 126), art 1 of the Law of the 19th of December, 1857 (Off. Journ., No. 164), and the Law of the 23rd of December, 1859 (Off. Journ., No. 136).

Art. 26.

The present Law shall come into operation on the 1st November, 1862.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the Session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her Majesty, for the regulation of the duties of postage, power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, by Warrant, under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage, or Inland postage, payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and make and establish any new and other rates in lieu thereof, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid. And it is provided that the power thereby given should extend to any increase, or reduction, or remission of postage.

And whereas further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act, made and passed in the Session of Parliament, holden in the tenth and eleventh years of the reign of Her Majesty, for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post Office.

And whereas certain powers are also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act passed in the eighteenth year of the reign of Her Majesty, for amending the laws relating to the stamp duties on newspapers, and for providing for the transmission by post of printed periodical publications.

And whereas the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by certain Warrants in writing, under their hands, relating to the transmission by the post of letters, and newspapers, and other printed papers, between the United Kingdom and Bremen, and between Bremen and Her Majesty's colonies, and foreign countries through the United Kingdom respectively, and bearing date respectively, the 31st day of August, 1841; the 30th day of September, 1841; the 8th day of October, 1847; the 27th day of June, 1859; and the 16th day of April, 1860; did make and give certain orders, directions, and regulations relating to the transmission by the post of such letters, and newspapers, and other printed papers respectively.

And whereas a Convention hath been lately made and entered into between the General Post Office of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Post Office of Bremen, for the purpose of regulating the communications by post between the United Kingdom and Bremen; and it is expedient for the better carrying out of the same, that the said recited Warrants of the several dates hereinbefore-mentioned should be respectively repealed, and that certain other regulations should be made in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us, in and by the said hereinbefore recited Acts of Parliament, and every of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do, by this Warrant (under the hands of two of us, the said Commissioners, by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided), order and direct as follows:—

1 The said recited Warrants, bearing date respectively, the 31st day of August, 1841; the 30th day of September, 1841; the 8th day of October, 1847; the 27th day of June, 1859; and the 16th day of April, 1860; be, and the same are hereby repealed, revoked, and annulled, and the several orders, directions, regulations, and rates of postage therein mentioned and set forth, shall wholly cease and determine, except so far as the said recited Warrants shall respectively repeal, revoke, or annul any other Warrants, or any orders, directions, regulations, or rates of postage therein mentioned and set forth, which said several last mentioned Warrants, orders, directions, regulations, or rates of postage shall remain repealed, revoked, and annulled, as if this present Warrant had not been made or signed.

2. On every letter, not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to Bremen, and on every letter not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, posted in Bremen, addressed to any place within the United Kingdom, when the said respective letters are conveyed between the United Kingdom and Bremen in closed mails viâ Belgium, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, an uniform rate of British postage of two-pence halfpenny, if such respective letters be prepaid; and if such respective letters be not prepaid, an uniform rate of British postage of three pence halfpenny; and when the said respective letters are conveyed between the United Kingdom and Bremen direct, by private ship, there shall be charged, taken, and paid an uniform rate of British postage of fourpence halfpenny, if such respective letters be prepaid, and if such respective letters be not prepaid, an uniform rate of British postage of sixpence.

3. On every letter, not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, posted in Bremen, addressed to any place in any of Her Majesty's Colonies, or any foreign country, transmitted by the post between Bremen and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom, and on every letter, not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, posted in any of Her Majesty's Colonies, or any foreign country, addressed to Bremen, transmitted by the post between any of Her Majesty's Colonies or any foreign country and Bremen through the United Kingdom, when the said respective letters are conveyed beween the United Kingdom and Bremen, in closed mails, viâ Belgium, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, an uniform rate of British postage of two pence halfpenny, if such respective letters be prepaid, and if such respective letters be not prepaid, an uniform rate of British postage of three pence halfpenny; and when the said respective letters are conveyed between the United Kingdom and Bremen direct, by pr,ivate ship, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, an uniform rate of British postage of fourpence halfpenny, if such respective letters be prepaid; and if such respective letters be not prepaid, an uniform rath of British postage of sixpence; and also on every letter mentioned in this 3rd Clause there shall be charged, taken, and paid, such a further or additional rate of British postage for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and the colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded as shall from time to time be charged and payable for British postage on letters, not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and transmitted direct between such port, and any such colony or foreign country; provided, that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny in respect of the inland conveyance, under this clause, of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

4. On every letter transmitted, as is hereinbefore in this Warrant mentioned, exceeding one half o an ounce in weight, there shall be charged, taken and paid, progressive and additional rates o postage, according to the scale of weight and number of rates following, that is to say :

On every such letter so transmitted, exceeding one half of an ounce in weight, and not exceeding one ounce in weight, two rates of postage.

On every such letter so transmitted, exceeding one ounce, and not exceeding two ounces in weight, four rates of postage.

On every such letter so transmitted, exceeding two ounces, and not exceeding three ounces in weight, six rates of postage.

And for every ounce in weight of any such letter above the weight of three ounces there shall be charged, taken, and paid, two additional rates of postage, and every fractional part of such additional ounce shall be charged as an additional ounce in weight, and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this Clause shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight.

5. If any letter shall be posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to Bremen, or if any letter shall be posted in Bremen, addressed to the United Kingdom, and the value of the postage stamp or stamps affixed thereto shall be less in amount than the rate of postage to which such letter would be liable under or by virtue of this Warrant, every such letter shall be forwarded charged with the amount of the difference between the value of the postage stamp or stamps thereon, and the rate of postage payable under or by virtue of this Warrant as an unpaid letter.

6. Registered letters may be transmitted by the post, under the authority of this Warrant, upon the payment of such additional charges or rates of postage, or otherwise, as the Postmaster-General may from time to time direct or appoint, provided that all rates of postage and additional charges or rates from time to time payable thereupon shall be prepaid, and that no payment shall be made thereupon on the delivery of any such registered letters.

7. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed to extend to any letters transmitted by the post between the United Kingdom and Bremen, viâ France, all which said letters shall be charged and chargeable with the same rates of postage as are now chargeable and payable thereon, as if this Warrant had not been made.

8. All packets consisting of printed newspapers, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and all packets consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and not being respectively of the dimensions or weight hereinafter in the 10th clause of this Warrant specified, posted in any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the first column of the schedule A to this Warrant annexed, addressed to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the second column of the said schedule A, may be transmitted by the post from any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said first column of the said schedule A, to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said second column of the said schedule A, and all such respective packets shall be transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to, the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions hereinafter mentioned and contained relating thereto, and the single rate of postage for the transmission of such packets shall be that which is mentioned and set forth against such respective countries and places in the said schedule A, and all such respective packets so transmitted, and chargeable with postage under this clause, shall be subject to the several progressive and additional rates of postage hereinafter mentioned and set forth (that is to say):—

On every such packet so transmitted, if not exceeding two ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid for the transmission thereof respectively, as aforesaid, the uniform single rate of postage which is mentioned and set forth against the said places, respectively, in the said schedule A.

And on every such packet, exceeding two ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid progressive and additional rates of postage as follows (that is to say)—

On every such packet if exceeding two ounces and not exceeding four ounces in weight, two rates of postage.

And on every such packet if exceeding four ounces and not exceeding one-half of a pound in weight, four rates of postage.

And on every such packet if exceeding one-half of a pound and not exceeding one pound in weight, eight rates of postage.

And on every such packet if exceeding one pound and not exceeding one pound and the half of another pound in weight, twelve rates of postage.

And on every such packet if exceeding one pound and the half of another pound and not exceeding two pounds in weight, sixteen rates of postage.

And for every additional half of a pound in weight of any such packet above the weight of two pounds, there shall be charged, taken, and paid four additional rates of postage, and every fractional part of such additional half of a pound in weight shall be charged as an additional half of a pound in weight, and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such packet would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding two ounces in weight.

9. Every packet consisting of a printed newspaper, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and every packet consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and not being respectively of the dimensions or weight hereinafter in the 10th clause of this Warrant specified, posted in any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the first column of the schedule B to this Warrant annexed addressed to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the second column of the said schedule B, may be transmitted by the post from any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said first column of the said schedule B to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said second column of the said schedule B; and all such respective packets shall be transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to, the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions hereinafter mentioned and contained relating thereto; and for the purposes of this Warrant every printed newspaper shall be deemed and considered a packet, and shall be charged and chargeable with a separate and distinct single rate or separate and distinct progressive and additional rates of postage according to the weight thereof, as hereinafter mentioned, notwithstanding two or more newspapers shall be enclosed and transmitted in one and the same cover, wrapper, envelope, or bundle, and form only one parcel or bundle of newspapers; and the single rate of postage for the transmission of every such packet respectively, shall be that which is mentioned and set forth respectively against such countries and places in the said schedule B; and all such respective packets transmitted under this clause, shall be subject to the several progressive and additional rates of postage hereinafter mentioned and set forth; that is to say:—

On every such packet consisting of a printed newspaper, or consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art. so transmitted if not exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid for the transmission thereof respectively, as aforesaid, the uniform single rates of postage which are respectively mentioned and set forth against the said respective places in the said schedule B.

And on every such packet exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid progressive and additional rates of postage as follows, that is to say,—

On every such packet if exceeding four ounces and not exceeding one-half of a pound in in weight, two rates of postage.

And on every such packet if exceeding one-half of a pound and not exceeding one pound in weight, four rates of postage.

And on every such packet if exceeding one pound and not exceeding one pound and the half of another pound in weight, six rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and the half of another pound, and not exceeding two pounds in weight, eight rates of postage;

And for every additional half a pound in weight of any such packet above the weight of two pounds, there shall be charged, taken, and paid two additional rates of postage, and every fractional part of such additional half of a pound in weight, shall be charged as an addititional half of a pound in weight; and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause, shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such packet would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding four ounces in weight.

10. Every packet which shall be transmitted by the post, under the 8th or 9th clause of this Warrant hereinbefore contained, shall be so transmitted, in conformity with, and under and subject to the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions hereinafter contained; that is to say:

Every British newspaper which shall be posted in the United Kingdom under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be printed and published at intervals not exceeding thirty-one days between any two consecutive numbers or parts of such publication, and the same shall be registered by the proprietor or printer thereof at the General Post Office, in London, and shall be posted within fifteen days from the date of the publication, and the title and date of the newspaper shall be printed at the top of every page thereof;

No packet shall be transmitted by the post under the 8th or 9th clause of this Warrant, which in length, or breadth, or width, shall exceed the dimensions of two feet (British), or which shall exceed three zoll pounds in weight;

Every packet transmitted by the post under the 8th or 9th clause of this Warrant, shall be sent open at the ends or sides, and either without a cover, or in a cover or envelope open at the ends or sides; and there shall be no written letter, either closed or open, nor any written communication in the nature of a letter, either closed or open (whether such letter or communication be addressed to, or intended for the person to whom the packet shall be directed, or any other person), nor any inclosure, sealed or otherwise closed against inspection, nor any other inclosure not authorised by this Warrant, sent in or with any such packet, nor shall there be any writing, figures, or manual marks whatsoever of any description upon any such packet, or on the cover or envelope thereof, not authorized by this Warrant, except the name and address of the person to whom the same is sent; but the name or title of any newspaper, and the name and address of the publisher, newsvender, or agent, by whom the same is sent, may be printed on the cover thereof; and any other packet, not being a newspaper, may have any matter or thing printed on the cover thereof;

Every packet transmitted by the post under the 8th or 9th clause of this Warrant, and posted in the United Kingdom, shall be put into the post-office, at such hours in the day, and under all such regulations as the Postmaster-General may appoint.

The postage of every packet transmitted by the post under the 8th or 9th clause of this Warrant, shall be paid at the time of the same being posted by being duly stamped with the proper postage stamp or stamps affixed thereto, which stamp or stamps shall, in every case, be affixed, or appear on the outside of every such packet, near the address or direction, and shall be of the value or amount of the postage duty payable thereon, under or by virtue of this Warrant.

11. If any packet, authorized to be transmitted by the post under this Warrant, shall be posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to Bremen, or if any such packet shall be posted in Bremen, addressed to the United Kingdom, the postage whereof shall be insufficiently prepaid by having thereupon, or affixed thereto, a postage stamp or stamps which shall represent a sum less than the amount of postage duty payable in respect thereof, every such packet shall be charged with double the amount of the postage which shall be so insufficiently prepaid upon any such packet.

12. If any packet transmitted by the post under the 8th or 9th clause of this Warrant, shall be so transmitted otherwise than in conformity with the conditions and regulations established by or under the authority of this Warrant (except only as in the last preceding clause mentioned), the same shall and may be detained and opened, and at the option of the Postmaster-General, shall be either returned or given up to the sender thereof, or be given up to the person to whom the same shall be addressed, or be forwarded to the place of its destination; and any such packet on being so returned, given up, or forwarded, shall, at the option of the Postmaster-General, be either free of postage or be charged with any rate of postage he may think fit, not exceeding the rate that would be chargeable on such packet as an unpaid letter.

13. The respective letters and packets transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be subject to the several orders, directions, regulations, and rates of postage respectively contained in a certain other Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, under the hands of two of the said Commissioners, bearing date the 19th day of February, 1855, relating to redirected rates of postage upon letters and packets which shall be redirected and again forwarded by the post.

14. The rates of postage chargeable on letters, printed newspapers, books, publications, or works of literature or art, and other printed papers, transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be in lieu of any rates of British postage now chargeable by law thereon.

15. Nothing herein contained shall be construed in anywise to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exceptions and privileges granted by the said recited Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, or to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the privileges which seamen and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's Service, are now by law entitled to, of sending and receiving by the post letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

16. The term "books, publications, or works of literature or art," in this Warrant used, shall, for the purposes of this Warrant, mean and comprise all printed books, or other printed publications, printed or lithographed letters, and such artistic productions as prints, printed maps (whether on paper, parchment, or vellum), and photographs (when not on glass, or in frames containing glass), together with any binding, mounting, or covering of or upon or belonging to any such article or production, or any portion thereof, and including also any cases or rollers of prints or maps, book markers (whether of paper or otherwise), or other thing usually appertaining to any such article or production, or necessary for its safe transmission, which shall be sent in the same packet with any such article or production to which they or it shall belong, and also when contained in any packet consisting of unbound proof sheets only, any ordinary corrections in writing of such unbound proof sheets, provided nevertheless, that nothing herein contained shall extend to authorize the sending by the post, under the provisions of this Warrant, of any patterns or books of patterns or papers of patterns of any article or thing whatsoever, unless such patterns consist merely of paper, and the other terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her Majesty, for the regulation of the duties of postage.

17. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may, by Warrant under their hands duly made at any time hereafter, alter, repeal, or revoke any of the rates of postage hereby fixed or altered, or any of the orders, directions, regulations, and conditions hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other rates, orders, regulations, and conditions in lieu thereof, and from time to time appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

18. This Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of January, 1863.

jesty's Treasury, by certain Warrants in writing, under their hands, relating to the transmission, by the post, of letters and newspapers, and other printed papers, between the United Kingdom and Hamburg, and between Hamburg and Her Majesty's colonies and foreign countries, through the United Kingdom respectively, and bearing date, respectively, the 18th day of August, 1847; the 27th day of June, 1859; the 28th day of July, 1859; and the 17th day of April, 1860; did make and give certain orders, directions, and regulations relating to the transmission, by the post, of such letters and newspapers, and other printed papers respectively.

And whereas a convention hath been lately made and entered into between the General Post-office of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the Post Office of Hamburg, for the purpose of regulating the communications by post between the United Kingdom and Hamburg, and it is expedient, for the better carrying out of the same, that the said recited Warrants of the several dates hereinbefore mentioned should be respectively repealed, and that certain other regulations should be made in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said hereinbefore recited Acts of Parliament, and every of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do, by this Warrant (under the hands of two of us, the said Commissioners, by the authority of the statute in that case made and provided), order and direct as follows:

1. The said recited Warrants, bearing date respectively the 18th day of August, 1847; the 27th day of June, 1859; the 28th day of July, 1859; and the 17th day of April, 1860; be, and the same are hereby repealed, revoked, and annulled: and the several orders, directions, regulations, and rates of postage therein mentioned and set forth shall wholly cease and determine, except so far as the said recited Warrants shall respectively repeal, revoke, or annul any other Warrants, or any orders, directions, regulations, or rates of postage therein mentioned and set forth, which said several last-mentioned Warrants, orders, directions, regulations, or rates of postage shall remain repealed, revoked, and annulled as if this present Warrant had not been made or signed.

2. On every letter not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight, posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to Hamburg, and on every letter not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight, posted in Hamburg, addressed to any place within the United Kingdom, when the said respective letters are conveyed between the United Kingdom and Hamburg, in closed mails, viâ Belgium, there shall be charged, taken, and paid an uniform rate of British postage of two pence half-penny, if such respective letters be prepaid, and if such respective letters be not prepaid, an uniform rate of British postage of three pence half-penny; and when the said respective letters are conveyed between the United Kingdom and Hamburg direct by private ship, there shall be charged, taken, and paid an uniform rate of British postage of four pence halfpenny if such respective letters be prepaid, and if such respective letters be not prepaid an uniform rate of British postage of sixpence.

3. On every letter not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to any place in any of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country, transmitted between the United Kingdom and such colony or foreign country, through Hamburg, and on every letter not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight, posted in any of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country, addressed to any place in the United Kingdom, transmitted between such colony or foreign country and the United Kingdom, through Hamburg, when the said respective letters are conveyed between the United Kingdom and Hamburg in closed mails, viâ Belgium, there shall be charged, taken, and paid an uniform rate of British postage of two pence halfpenny if such respective letters be prepared, and if such respective letters be not prepaid an uniform rate of British postage of three pence halfpenny; and when the said respective letters are conveyed between the United Kingdom and Hamburg direct by private ship, there shall be charged, taken, and paid an uniform rate of British postage of four pence halfpenny, if such respective letters be prepaid, and if such respective letters be not prepaid an uniform rate of British postage of sixpence.

4. On every letter not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight, posted in Hamburg, or posted in any of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country, and forwarded through Hamburg, addressed to any place in any of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country, transmitted by the post between Hamburg and any of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country, through the United Kingdom; and on every letter not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight, posted in any of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country, addressed to Hamburg, or to any place in any of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country, and forwarded through Hamburg, transmitted by the post between any of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country and Hamburg, he may think fit, not exceeding the rate that would be chargeable on such packet as an unpaid letter.

13. The respective letters and packets transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be subject to the several orders, directions, regulations, and rates of postage respectively contained in a certain other Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, under the hands of two of the said Commissioners, bearing date the 19th day of February, 1855, relating to redirected rates of postage upon letters and packets which shall be redirected and again forwarded by the post.

14. The rates of postage chargeable on letters, printed newspapers, books, publications, or works of literature or art, and other printed papers, transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be in lieu of any rates of British postage now chargeable by law thereon.

15. Nothing herein contained shall be construed in anywise to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exceptions and privileges granted by the said recited Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, or to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the privileges which seamen and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's Service, are now by law entitled to, of sending and receiving by the post letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

16. The term "books, publications, or works of literature or art," in this Warrant used, shall, for the purposes of this Warrant, mean and comprise all printed books, or other printed publications, printed or lithographed letters, and such artistic productions as prints, printed maps (whether on paper, parchment, or vellum), and photographs (when not on glass, or in frames containing glass), together with any binding, mounting, or covering of or upon or belonging to any such article or production, or any portion thereof, and including also any cases or rollers of prints or maps, book markers (whether of paper or otherwise), or other thing usually appertaining to any such article or production, or necessary for its safe transmission, which shall be sent in the same packet with any such article or production to which they or it shall belong, and also when contained in any packet consisting of unbound proof sheets only, any ordinary corrections in writing of such unbound proof sheets, provided nevertheless, that nothing herein contained shall extend to authorize the sending by the post, under the provisions of this Warrant, of any patterns or books of patterns or papers of patterns of any article or thing whatsoever, unless such patterns consist merely of paper, and the other terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her Majesty, for the regulation of the duties of postage.

17. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may, by Warrant under their hands duly made at any time hereafter, alter, repeal, or revoke any of the rates of postage hereby fixed or altered, or any of the orders, directions, regulations, and conditions hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other rates, orders, regulations, and conditions in lieu thereof, and from time to time appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

18. This Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of January, 1863.

7. Registered letters may be transmitted by the post under the authority of this Warrant, upon the payment of such additional charges or rates of postage or otherwise as the Postmaster-General may from time to time direct or appoint, provided that all rates of postage and additional charges or rates from time to time payable thereupon shall be prepaid, and that no payment shall be made thereupon on the delivery of any such registered letters.

8. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed to extend to any letters transmitted by the post between the United Kingdom and Hamburg, viâ France, all which said letters shall be charged and chargeable with the same rates of postage as are now chargeable and payable thereon, as if this Warrant had not been made.

9. All packets consisting of printed newspapers, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and all packets consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and not being respectively of the dimensions or weight hereinafter in the 11th clause of this Warrant specified, posted in any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the first column of the schedule A to this warrant annexed, addressed to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the second column of the said schedule A may be transmitted by the post from any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said first column of the said schedule A to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said second column of the said schedule A, and all such respective packets shall be transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to, the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions hereinafter mentioned and contained relating thereto, and the single rate of postage for the transmission of such packets shall be that which is mentioned and set forth against such respective countries and places in the said schedule A, and all such respective packets so transmitted and chargeable with postage under this clause shall be subject to the several progressive and additional rates of postage hereinafter mentioned and set forth (that is to say):—

On every such packet so transmitted, if not exceeding two ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid for the transmission thereof respectively, as aforesaid, the uniform single rate of postage which is mentioned and set forth against the said places respectively in the said schedule A.

And on every such packet, exceeding two ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid progressive and additional rates of postage as follows (that is to say):—

On every such packet, if exceeding two ounces and not exceeding four ounces in weight, two rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding four ounces and not exceeding one half of a pound in weight, four rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one half of a pound and not exceeding one pound in weight, eight rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and not exceeding one pound and the half of another pound in weight, twelve rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and the half of another pound and not exceeding two pounds in weight, sixteen rates of postage.

10. Every packet consisting of a printed newspaper, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and every packet consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and not being respectively of the dimensions or weight hereinafter in the 11th clause of this Warrant specified, posted in any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the first column of the schedule B to this Warrant annexed, addressed to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the second column of the said schedule B, may be transmitted by the post from any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said first column of the said schedule B, to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said second column of the said schedule B; and all such respective packets shall be transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to, the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions hereinafter mentioned and contained, relating thereto; and for the purposes of this Warrant, every printed newspaper shall be deemed and considered a packet, and shall be charged and chargeable with a separate and distinct single rate, or separate and distinct, progressive, and additional rates of postage, according to the weight thereof, as hereinafter mentioned, notwithstanding two or more newspapers shall be inclosed and transmitted in one and the same cover, wrapper, envelope, or bundle, and form only one parcel or bundle of newspapers; and the single rate of postage for the transmission of every such packet respectively, shall be that which is mentioned and set forth respectively against such countries and places in the said schedule B, and all such respective packets transmitted under this clause shall be subject to the several progressive and additional rates of postage hereinafter mentioned and set forth (that is to say):—

On every such packet consisting of a printed newspaper, or consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, so transmitted, if not exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid for the transmission thereof respectively as aforesaid, the uniform single rates of postage which are respectively mentioned and set forth against the said respective places in the said schedule B.

And on every such packet exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, progressive and additional rates of postage as follows; that is to say:—

On every such packet, if exceeding four ounces and not exceeding one half of a pound in weight, two rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one half of a pound and not exceeding one pound in weight, four rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and not exceeding one pound and the half of another pound in weight, six rates of postage.

And for every additional half of a pound in weight of any such packet above the weight of two pounds, there shall be charged, taken, and paid four additional rates of postage, and every fractional part of such additional half of a pound in weight shall be charged as an additional half of a pound in weight; and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such packet would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding two ounces in weight.

10. Every packet consisting of a printed newspaper, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and every packet consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and not being respectively of the dimensions or weight hereinafter in the 11th clause of this Warrant specified, posted in any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the first column of the schedule B to this Warrant annexed, addressed to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the second column of the said schedule B, may be transmitted by the post from any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said first column of the said schedule B, to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said second column of the said schedule B; and all such respective packets shall be transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to, the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions hereinafter mentioned and contained, relating thereto; and for the purposes of this Warrant, every printed newspaper shall be deemed and considered a packet, and shall be charged and chargeable with a separate and distinct single rate, or separate and distinct, progressive, and additional rates of postage, according to the weight thereof, as hereinafter mentioned, notwithstanding two or more newspapers shall be inclosed and transmitted in one and the same cover, wrapper, envelope, or bundle, and form only one parcel or bundle of newspapers; and the single rate of postage for the transmission of every such packet respectively, shall be that which is mentioned and set forth respectively against such countries and places in the said schedule B, and all such respective packets transmitted under this clause shall be subject to the several progressive and additional rates of postage hereinafter mentioned and set forth (that is to say):—

On every such packet consisting of a printed newspaper, or consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, so transmitted, if not exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid for the transmission thereof respectively as aforesaid, the uniform single rates of postage which are respectively mentioned and set forth against the said respective places in the said schedule B.

And on every such packet exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, progressive and additional rates of postage as follows; that is to say:—

On every such packet, if exceeding four ounces and not exceeding one half of a pound in weight, two rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one half of a pound and not exceeding one pound in weight, four rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and not exceeding one pound and the half of another pound in weight, six rates of postage.

And for every additional half of a pound in weight of any such packet above the weight of two pounds, there shall be charged, taken, and paid four additional rates of postage, and every fractional part of such additional half of a pound in weight shall be charged as an additional half of a pound in weight; and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such packet would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding two ounces in weight.

10. Every packet consisting of a printed newspaper, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and every packet consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and not being respectively of the dimensions or weight hereinafter in the 11th clause of this Warrant specified, posted in any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the first column of the schedule B to this Warrant annexed, addressed to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the second column of the said schedule B, may be transmitted by the post from any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said first column of the said schedule B, to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said second column of the said schedule B; and all such respective packets shall be transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to, the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions hereinafter mentioned and contained, relating thereto; and for the purposes of this Warrant, every printed newspaper shall be deemed and considered a packet, and shall be charged and chargeable with a separate and distinct single rate, or separate and distinct, progressive, and additional rates of postage, according to the weight thereof, as hereinafter mentioned, notwithstanding two or more newspapers shall be inclosed and transmitted in one and the same cover, wrapper, envelope, or bundle, and form only one parcel or bundle of newspapers; and the single rate of postage for the transmission of every such packet respectively, shall be that which is mentioned and set forth respectively against such countries and places in the said schedule B, and all such respective packets transmitted under this clause shall be subject to the several progressive and additional rates of postage hereinafter mentioned and set forth (that is to say):—

On every such packet consisting of a printed newspaper, or consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, so transmitted, if not exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid for the transmission thereof respectively as aforesaid, the uniform single rates of postage which are respectively mentioned and set forth against the said respective places in the said schedule B.

And on every such packet exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, progressive and additional rates of postage as follows; that is to say:—

On every such packet, if exceeding four ounces and not exceeding one half of a pound in weight, two rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one half of a pound and not exceeding one pound in weight, four rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and not exceeding one pound and the half of another pound in weight, six rates of postage.

And for every additional half of a pound in weight of any such packet above the weight of two pounds, there shall be charged, taken, and paid four additional rates of postage, and every fractional part of such additional half of a pound in weight shall be charged as an additional half of a pound in weight; and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such packet would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding two ounces in weight.

10. Every packet consisting of a printed newspaper, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and every packet consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, whether British, Colonial, or Foreign, and not being respectively of the dimensions or weight hereinafter in the 11th clause of this Warrant specified, posted in any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the first column of the schedule B to this Warrant annexed, addressed to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the second column of the said schedule B, may be transmitted by the post from any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said first column of the said schedule B, to any of the respective countries and places mentioned and set forth in the said second column of the said schedule B; and all such respective packets shall be transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to, the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions hereinafter mentioned and contained, relating thereto; and for the purposes of this Warrant, every printed newspaper shall be deemed and considered a packet, and shall be charged and chargeable with a separate and distinct single rate, or separate and distinct, progressive, and additional rates of postage, according to the weight thereof, as hereinafter mentioned, notwithstanding two or more newspapers shall be inclosed and transmitted in one and the same cover, wrapper, envelope, or bundle, and form only one parcel or bundle of newspapers; and the single rate of postage for the transmission of every such packet respectively, shall be that which is mentioned and set forth respectively against such countries and places in the said schedule B, and all such respective packets transmitted under this clause shall be subject to the several progressive and additional rates of postage hereinafter mentioned and set forth (that is to say):—

On every such packet consisting of a printed newspaper, or consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, so transmitted, if not exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid for the transmission thereof respectively as aforesaid, the uniform single rates of postage which are respectively mentioned and set forth against the said respective places in the said schedule B.

And on every such packet exceeding four ounces in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, progressive and additional rates of postage as follows; that is to say:—

On every such packet, if exceeding four ounces and not exceeding one half of a pound in weight, two rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one half of a pound and not exceeding one pound in weight, four rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and not exceeding one pound and the half of another pound in weight, six rates of postage.

And on every such packet, if exceeding one pound and the half of another pound and not exceeding two pounds in weight, eight rates of postage.

And for every additional half of a pound in weight of any such packet above the weight of two pounds, there shall be charged, taken, and paid two additional rates of postage; and every fractional part of such additional half of a pound in weight, shall be charged as an additional half of a pound in weight; and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause, shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such packet would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding four ounces in weight.

11. Every packet which shall be transmitted by the post under the 9th or 10th clauses of this Warrant hereinbefore contained, shall be so transmitted in conformity with, and under, and subject to the several regulations, orders, directions, and conditions hereinafter contained; that is to say:—

Every British newspaper which shall be posted in the United Kingdom under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be printed and published at intervals not exceeding thirty-one days between any two consecutive numbers or parts of such publication, and the same shall be registered by the proprietor or printer thereof, at the General Post Office, in London, and shall be posted within fifteen days from the date of its publication, and the title and date of the newspaper shall be printed at the top of every page thereof.

No packet shall be transmitted by the post under the 9th or 10th clause of this Warrant, which in length, or breadth, or width, shall exceed the dimensions of two feet (British), or which shall exceed three zoll pounds in weight.

Every packet transmitted by the post under the 9th or 10th clause of this Warrant shall be sent open at the ends or sides, and either without a cover, or in a cover or envelope open at the ends or sides; and there shall be no written letter either closed or open, nor any written communication in the nature of a letter, either closed or open (whether such letter or communication be addressed to or intended for the person to whom the packet shall be directed, or any other person), nor any inclosure sealed or otherwise closed against inspection, nor any other inclosure not authorized by this Warrant sent in or with any such packet, nor shall there be any writing, figures, or manual marks whatsoever of any description upon any such packet, or on the cover or envelope thereof not authorized by this Warrant, except the name and address of the person to whom the same is sent; but the name or title of any newspaper, and the name and address of the publisher, newsvendor, or agent, by whom the same is sent, may be printed on the cover thereof, and any other packet not being a newspaper may have any matter or thing printed on the cover thereof.

Every packet transmitted by the post under the 9th or 10th clause of this Warrant, and posted in the United Kingdom, shall be put into the Post Office at such hours in the day and under all such regulations as the Postmaster-General may appoint.

The postage of every packet transmitted by the post under the 9th or 10th clause of this Warrant shall be paid at the time of the same being posted, by being duly stamped with the proper postage stamp or stamps affixed thereto, which stamp or stamps shall in every case be affixed or appear on the outside of every such packet near the address or direction, and shall be of the value or amount of the postage duty payable thereon under or by virtue of this Warrant.

12. If any packet authorized to be transmitted by the post under this warrant shall be posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to Hamburg, or if any such packet shall be posted in Hamburg, addressed to the United Kingdom, the postage whereof shall be insufficiently prepaid, by having thereupon or affixed thereto a postage stamp or stamps which shall represent a sum less than the amount of postage duty payable in respect thereof, every such packet shall be charged with double the amount of the postage which shall be so insufficiently prepaid upon any such packet.

13. If any packet transmitted by the post under the 9th or 10th clause of this Warrant shall be so transmitted otherwise than in conformity with the conditions and regulations established by or under the authority of this Warrant (except only as in the last preceding clause mentioned), the same shall and may be detained and opened, and, at the option of the Postmaster General, shall be either returned or given up to the sender thereof, or be given up to the person to whom the same shall be addressed, or be forwarded to the place of its destination; and any such packet, on being so returned, given up, or forwarded, shall, at the option of the Postmaster General, be either free of postage, or be charged with any rate of postage he may think fit, not exceeding the rate that would be chargeable on such packet as an unpaid letter.

14. The respective letters and packets transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant shall be subject to the several orders, directions, regulations, and rates of postage respectively contained in a certain other Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, under the hands of two of the said Commissioners, bearing date the 19th day of February, 1855, relating to redirected rates of postage upon letters and packets which shall be redirected and again forwarded by the post.

15. The rates of postage chargeable on letters, printed newspapers, books, publications, or works of literature or art, and other printed papers transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be in lieu of any rates of British postage now chargeable by law thereon.

16. Nothing herein contained shall be construed in anywise to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exemptions and privileges granted by the said recited Act passed in the Session of Parliament, holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, or to annul prejudice, or to affect any of the privileges which seamen and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's service, are now by law entitled to, of sending and receiving by the post letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

17. The term "books, publications, or works of literature or art," in this Warrant used shall, for the purposes of this Warrant, mean and comprise all printed books, or other printed publications, printed or lithographed letters, and such artistic productions as prints, printed maps (whether on paper, parchment, or vellum), and photographs (when not on glass or in frames containing glass), together with any binding, mounting, or covering of, or upon, or belonging to any such article, or production, or any portion thereof, and including also any cases, or rollers of prints, or maps, book markers (whether of paper or otherwise), or other thing usually appertaining to any such article, or production, or necessary for its safe transmission, which shall be sent in the same packet with any such article or production to which they or it shall belong, and also when contained in any packet consisting of unbound proof sheets only, any ordinary corrections in writing of such unbound proof sheets. Provided, nevertheless, that nothing herein contained shall extend to authorize the sending by the post under the provisions of this Warrant of any patterns, or books of patterns, or papers of patterns of any article or thing whatsoever, unless such patterns consist merely of paper, and the other terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects, as they would have had if inserted in the said Act passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her Majesty, for the regulation of the duties of postage.

18. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may, by Warrant under their hands duly made, at any time hereafter alter, repeal, or revoke any of the rates of postage hereby fixed or altered, or any of the orders, directions, regulations, and conditions hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other rates, orders, directions, regulations, and conditions in lieu thereof, and from time to time appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

19. This Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of January, 1863.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 6, 1863.

Foreign Office, January 5, 1863.

HER Majesty's Government have received from the Honourable Henry Elliot, a copy of the following Memorandum, which he had delivered to the President of the Provisional Government of Greece:

MEMORANDUM.

IT is Her Majesty's earnest desire to contribute to the welfare and prosperity of Greece.

The Treaties of 1827 and 1832, bear evidence of this desire on the part of the British Crown.

The Provisional Government of Greece declared, upon the withdrawal of King Otho from Greece, that their mission is to maintain for Greece, Constitutional Monarchy and the Relations of Peace with all other States.

If the new Assembly of the Representatives of the Greek Nation should prove faithful to this declaration, should maintain Constitutional Monarchy, and should refrain from all aggression against neighbouring States, and if they should choose a Sovereign against whom no well founded objection could be raised, Her Majesty would see in this course of conduct a promise of future freedom and happiness for Greece. In such a case, Her Majesty, with a view to strengthen the Greek Monarchy, would be ready to announce to the Senate and Representatives of the Ionian Islands, Her Majesty's wish to see them united to the Monarchy of Greece, and to form with Greece one united state; and if this wish should be expressed also by the Ionian Legislature, Her Majesty would then take steps for obtaining the concurrence of the Powers who were parties to the Treaty by which the seven Ionian Islands and their dependencies were placed as a separate state under the protectorate of the British Crown.

I am to take care, in my communications upon this subject, to make it understood, that the election of a Prince, who should be the symbol and precursor of revolutionary disturbance, or of the adoption of an aggressive policy towards Turkey, would prevent any relinquishment of Her Majesty's protectorate of the Ionian Islands.

Her Majesty's Government trust that, in the selection of a sovereign to rule over Greece, the Greek Assembly will choose for their king a prince from whom they can expect a regard for religious liberty, a respect for constitutional freedom, and a sincere love of peace. A prince, possessing these qualities will be fitted to promote the happiness of Greece, and will be honoured with the friendship and confidence of Her Majesty the Queen.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 9, 1863.

War Office, Pall Mall,
January 8, 1863.

THE Secretary of State for War has received a Despatch and its Enclosures, addressed to him by Brigadier-General Staveley, C.B., Commanding Her Majesty's Troops in China, of which the following are copies:

Head-Quarters, near Kah-ding,
SIR, 24th October, 1862.

I have the honor to report, for your information, that the Chinese authorities having expressed their willingness to place a garrison in Kah-ding, if the allied forces would recapture it for them, the place was taken by storm after a bombardment of two hours, this morning, by the force under my immediate command, mentioned in the accompanying return marked (A), as well as the British naval force under Captain Borlase, C.B., and the French troops, placed respectively at my disposal by Vice-Admiral Sir James Hope and Captain Fancón, commanding His Imperial Majesty's forces in China, also the so-called Ward's force, under the command of an American (Colonel Burgoviene), and Lieutenant Kingsley's 67th Regiment, battalion of 500 Chinese, and 6 mortars worked by Chinese, under Lieutenant Cane, R.A., all detailed in return marked (A).

The guns and mortars were got into position during the night; and opened fire so soon as the walls could be seen. At 8 o'clock, two practicable breaches having been made, the French and British each established their bridges, the British under the direction of Lieutenant Knevitt, R.N., and Lieutenant Lyster, R.E., the storming parties of the 31st and 67th Regiments, under the command of Captain Christian, 31st Regiment, then planted their ladders and entered the place without opposition, the enemy escaping by the opposite side of the city.

The place had been considerably strengthened since our last visit, by an outwork made to flank the walls, and protected by a sort of bomb-proof, which however was not proof against 8-inch mortar shells.

I gave over the place to Colonel Burgoviene and his men, and, except the storming parties, none of Her Majesty's naval or military forces were allowed to enter it.

The re-capture of Kah-ding completes the radius of thirty miles round Shanghai, which it was decided should be cleared of the Tai-ping rebels.

I trust that the excellent conduct of the troops under very tempting circumstances, and the very arduous nature of the service, will be favourably considered.

I wish to mention for favourable notice, Captain C. Gordon, commanding Royal Engineers; Captain Mansergh, Deputy Assistant-Adjutant-General; Captain Gammell, Deputy Assistant-Quartermaster-General; Dr. Rennie, 31st Regiment, Senior Medical Officer; Assistant-Commissary-General Thompson, in charge of Commissariat; Lieutenant Jebb, 31st Regiment; and the Prince Witgenstein, of the 1st Prussian Lancer Guard Regiment, who acted as my Aides-de-Camp.

I take this opportunity of recording the great assistance I have invariably received on the occasions of the various expeditions from Mr. Consul Medhurst, and Mr. C. Alabaster, of the Consular service.

I also wish to mention the services performed by Commander Strode, of Her Majesty's ship "Vulcan," who was employed during the whole of the operations against the Tai-pings, and whose name was inadvertently omitted in my recommendatory despatch; also of his first lieutenant, Lieutenant Grant.

Commander Strode had the working of the naval 32-pounders on all occasions when they were used, and was assisted by Lieutenant Grant.

In transmitting a list of casualties marked (B), I have much satisfaction in calling your attention to the Senior Medical Officer's report (herewith forwarded) on the health of the field force.

I have, &c.,

C. STAVELEY, Brigadier-General,
Commanding Her Majesty's Troops in China.

The Right Honourable the Secretary of State for War, War Office, Pall Mall, London.

A PROCLAMATION.

VICTORIA, R.

WHEREAS Our Parliament stands prorogued to Tuesday the thirteenth day of January instant; We, with the advice of Our Privy Council, do hereby publish and declare, that the said Parliament shall be further prorogued, on the said thirteenth day of January instant, to Thursday, the fifth day of February next; and We have given order to Our Chancellor of that part of Our United Kingdom called Great Britain to prepare a Commission for proroguing the same accordingly: and We do hereby further, with the advice aforesaid, declare Our royal will and pleasure, that the said Parliament shall, on the said Thursday, the fifth day of February next, assemble and be holden for the dispatch of divers urgent and important affairs: and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, and the Commissioners for Shires and Burghs of the House of Commons, are hereby required and commanded to give their attendance accordingly, at Westminster, on the said Thursday, the fifth day of February next.

Given at Our Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, this ninth day of January, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and in the twenty-sixth year of Our reign.

GOD save the QUEEN.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 9th day of January, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Order in Council, dated, at Windsor, the thirtieth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two (reciting certain provisions of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to prevent "the enlisting or engagement of Her Majesty's "Subjects to serve in Foreign Service, and the "fitting out or equipping in Her Majesty's "dominions vessels for warlike purposes, without "Her Majesty's licence)"; Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, being desirous of enabling Her subjects to engage in and enter the naval and military service of the Emperor of China, was pleased to order, and it was thereby ordered, that from and after the first day of September then next, it should be lawful for Horatio Nelson Lay, one of Her Majesty's subjects, and Sherard Osborn, a Captain in Her Majesty's Navy, to enter into the military and naval service of the said Emperor, and to accept any commission, warrant, or other appointment under the said Emperor, and to accept any money, pay, or reward for their services, and to fit out, equip, purchase, and acquire ships or vessels of war for the use of the said Emperor, and to engage and enlist British subjects to enter the military and naval service of the said Emperor. And it was thereby further ordered, that it should be lawful for every British subject to enlist and enter himself, by engaging and enlisting himself with the said Horatio Nelson Lay and Sherard Osborn, and no other person or persons whatsoever, in the military and naval service of the said Emperor, and to serve the said Emperor in any military, warlike, or other operations, either by land, or by sea, and, for that purpose, to go to any place or places beyond the seas, and to accept any commission, warrant, or other appointment from or under the said emperor, and to accept any money, pay, or reward for his service: Provided always, that the licence and permission thereby given should be in force only for the term of two years from the said first day of September then next, unless by Order in Council, made in manner aforesaid, such period should be further extended;

And whereas Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is desirous of extending and enlarging the permission and licence contained in the said Order in Council.

Her Majesty is therefore pleased to Order, and it is hereby Ordered, that, from and after the sixteenth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, it shall be lawful for all military officers in Her Majesty's service to enter into the military service of the said Emperor, and to accept any commission, warrant, or other appointment under the said Emperor, and to accept any money, pay, or reward for their services.

And it is hereby ordered, that it shall be lawful for all officers in Her Majesty's military service to serve the said Emperor in any military, warlike, or other operations, and for that purpose to go to any place or places beyond the seas, and to accept any commission, warrant, or other appointment from or under the said Emperor, and to accept any money, pay, or reward for their services: Provided always, that the licence and permission hereby given shall be in force only until the first day of September, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, unless by Order in Council, made in manner aforesaid, such period should be further extended.

Edmund Harrison.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 9th day of January, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the Act of the Session of Parliament of the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign (Chapter ninety-four), "to remove doubts as to the exercise of power "and jurisdiction by Her Majesty within divers "countries and places out of Her Majesty's "dominions and to render the same more effec-"tual," hereinafter called The Foreign Jurisdiction Act, it was enacted (among other things) that it was and should be lawful for Her Majesty to hold, exercise, and enjoy any power or jurisdiction which Her Majesty then had or might at any time thereafter have within any country or place out of Her Majesty's dominions, in the same and as ample a manner as if Her Majesty had acquired such power or jurisdiction by the cession or conquest of territory:

And whereas Her Majesty has had and now has power and jurisdiction in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte:

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased on the twenty-seventh day of August, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to make, by Order in Council dated that day, provision for the exercise of Her power and jurisdiction aforesaid:

And whereas it has seemed to Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to be expedient at the present time to revise the provisions of the said Order, and to make further provision for the due exercise of Her Majesty's power and jurisdiction aforesaid, and for the more regular and efficient administration of justice and the better maintenance of order among all classes of Her Majesty's subjects and of persons enjoying Her Majesty's protection resident in or resorting to the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers in this behalf by The Foreign Jurisdiction Act or otherwise in Her vested, is pleased by and with the advice of Her Privy Council to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:

I.—Preliminary.

1. This Order shall come into operation on the first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three.

2. The Order of the twenty-seventh day of August, one thousand eight hundred and sixty, shall be repealed.

This repeal shall not affect the past operation of that Order, or any appointment made or thing done under it.

Pending proceedings shall be regulated by this Order as far as the nature and circumstance of each case admit.

3. In this Order—the term "the Ottoman dominions" means the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte;

the term "month" means calendar month;

words importing the plural or the singular may be construed as referring to one person or thing, or more than one person or thing, and words importing the masculine as referring to females (as the case may require).

4. The provisions of this Order relating to British subjects apply to all subjects of Her Majesty, whether by birth or by naturalization, and also to all persons enjoying Her Majesty's protection in the Ottoman dominions.

The provisions of this Order relating to British subjects shall also, until it is otherwise ordered, extend to subjects of the United States of the Ionian Islands, resident in or resorting to the Ottoman dominions, except in the following particulars:—

(1.) So far as those provisions relate to trial in civil cases with a jury (with respect to which Ionian subjects shall be in the same position as foreigners), or to the serving on juries in civil cases:

(2.) So far as those provisions confer or relate to the power of imposing punishment of an amount greater than that which can now be lawfully awarded in the case of an Ionian subject by a Consular Officer of Her Majesty in the Ottoman dominions:

(3.) So far as those provisions confer or relate to the power of deporting from the Ottoman dominions.

The provisions of this Order relating to British vessels extend to vessels navigating under the national commercial flag of the United States of the Ionian Islands.

The provisions of this Order relating to foreigners apply to subjects of the Sublime Ottoman Porte and subjects or citizens of any other Power or State (not being enemies of Her Majesty).

II. General Provisions respecting Her Majesty's Jurisdiction.

5. All Her Majesty's jurisdiction exercisable in the Ottoman dominions for the judicial hearing and determination of matters in difference between British subjects, or between British subjects and foreigners,—or for the administration or control of the property or persons of British subjects,—or for the repression or punishment of crimes or offences committed by British subjects,—or for the maintenance of order among British subjects,—shall be exercised under and according to the provisions of this Order, and not otherwise.

6. Subject to the other provisions of this Order, the civil and criminal jurisdiction aforesaid shall, as far as circumstances admit, be exercised upon the principles of and in conformity with the Common Law, the Rules of Equity, the Statute Law, and other Law, for the time being in force in and for England, and with the powers vested in and pursuant to the course of procedure and practice observed by and before Courts of Justice and Justices of the Peace in England, according to their respective jurisdictions and authorities.

7. Nothing in this Order shall be deemed to deprive Her Majesty's Consular Officers of the right to observe and to enforce the observance of any reasonable custom obtaining within the Ottoman dominions or to deprive any person of the benefit thereof, except where this Order contains some express and specific provision incompatible with the observance of such custom.

8. Except as to offences against the Capitulations, Articles of Peace, and Treaties between Her Majesty and the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or against any Rules and Regulations for the observance thereof or for the maintenance of order among British subjects in the Ottoman dominions made by or under the authority of Her Majesty, or against any of the provisions of this Order, or any Rule made under it,—

No act done by a British subject in the Ottoman dominions or on board a British vessel within those dominions, which would not by a Court or Justice having criminal jurisdiction in England be deemed a crime or offence rendering the person doing such act amenable to punishment in England, shall, in the exercise of criminal jurisdiction under this Order, be deemed a crime or offence rendering the person doing such act amenable to punishment.

III.—Constitution of Her Majesty's Consular Courts.

1.—The Supreme Consular Court at Constantinople.

9. There shall be a Court styled "Her Britannic Majesty's Supreme Consular Court for the Dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte."

10. The Supreme Consular Court shall hold its ordinary sittings at Constantinople; but may, on emergency, sit at any other place within the district of the Consulate-General of Constantinople, and may at any time hold its ordinary sittings at any such place within the Ottoman dominions as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may approve.

11. There shall be one Judge of the Supreme Consular Court.

He shall be appointed by Her Majesty by warrant under Her Royal sign manual.

He shall be, at the time of his appointment, a member of the Bar of England, Scotland, or Ireland, of not less than seven years' standing, or a subject of Her Majesty (by birth or naturalization) who shall have filled the office of Legal Vice-Consul in the Ottoman dominions or the office of Law Secretary to the Supreme Consular Court.

He shall hold by special commission from Her Majesty the appointment of Vice-Consul, but shall have rank and precedence as if he held the appointment of Consul-General.

He may, in case of his absence from the district of the Consulate-General of Constantinople, either in the discharge of his duty, or with permission of one Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, or in case of illness, appoint, by writing under his hand and seal, a fit person to be his Deputy, who shall have all the power and authority of Judge.

During a vacancy in the office of Judge, or on emergency, a fit person, approved by one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, may temporarily be and act as Acting Judge, with all the power and authority of Judge.

12. There shall be attached to the Court—

(1.) One Legal Vice-Consul:

(2.) One Law Secretary:

(3.) So many officers and clerks as one of Her Majesty's Secretaries of State may from time to time think fit.

One of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may from time to time temporarily attach to the Court such persons holding appointments as Consuls or Vice-Consuls as he may think fit.

13. The legal Vice-Consul and the Law Secretary shall be appointed by Her Majesty.

They shall respectively hold by special commission from Her Majesty the appointment of Vice-Consul; but the Legal Vice-Consul shall always have rank and precedence above the Law Secretary.

The Legal Vice-Consul shall act as Registrar of the Court.

The Law Secretary shall discharge such duties in connexion with the conduct of criminal prosecutions as the Judge may from time to time direct.

The Legal Vice-Consul shall hear and determine in a summary way such criminal charges as may under this Order be properly so heard and determined, and as may be specially referred to him by the Judge.

The Law Secretary shall hear and determine in a summary way such criminal charges as may under this Order be properly so heard and determined, and as the Judge may from time to time think necessary for the despatch of urgent business to refer specially to him.

Where a suit or proceeding of a civil nature, originally instituted in the Supreme Consular Court, relates to money, goods, or other property, or any civil right or other matter at issue of a less amount or value than one hundred pounds sterling, or is instituted for the recovery of damages of a less amount than one hundred pounds sterling, the Judge may refer such suit or proceeding specially to the Legal Vice-Consul to be heard and determined by him, or if it appears to the Judge necessary for the despatch of urgent business he may refer such suit or proceeding specially to the Law Secretary to be heard and determined by him; but in all such cases an appeal shall lie as of course to the Judge.

In case of the absence or illness of the Legal Vice-Consul or Law Secretary, or during a vacancy in the office of Legal Vice-Consul or Law Secretary, or during the temporary employment of the Legal Vice-Consul or Law Secretary in any other capacity, the Judge may, by writing under his hand and seal, appoint the Law Secretary to act temporarily as Legal Vice-Consul (if the case so requires), or any fit person approved by one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State to act temporarily as Legal Vice-Consul or as Law Secretary (as the case may require). The Law Secretary or other person so appointed shall have all the power and authority of Legal Vice-Consul or of Law Secretary (as the case may be).

Every Consul or Vice-Consul temporarily attached to the Court under Article 12 shall discharge such duties in connexion with the Court as the Judge may from time to time, with the approval of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, direct; and for that purpose shall have the like power and authority as the Legal Vice-Consul.

II.—THE PROVISIONAL CONSULAR COURTS.

14. Each of Her Majesty's Consuls-General, Consuls, and Vice-Consuls (holding a commission as such from Her Majesty), resident in the Ottoman dominions (with the exception of Her Majesty's Consul-General at Constantinople, and with such other exceptions as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may at any time think fit to make), or any person acting temporarily, with the approval of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, as such a Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul, shall, for and in his own Consular district, hold and form a Court styled "Her Britannic Majesty's Consular Court at [Smyrna, or as the case may be]," —hereinafter called a Provincial Consular Court.

IV.—JURIES. ASSESSORS.

15. Every male British subject resident in the Ottoman dominions,—being of the age of twenty-one years or upwards,—being able to speak and read English,—having or earning a gross income at the rate or not less than fifty pounds a year,—not having been attainted of treason or felony, or convicted of any crime that is infamous (unless he has obtained a free pardon),—and not being under outlawry,—shall be qualified to serve on a jury.

16. All persons so qualified shall be liable so to serve, except the following:—

Persons in Her Majesty's Diplomatic, Consular, or other Civil Service in actual employment;

Officers, clerks, keepers of prisons, messengers, and other persons attached to or in the service of any Consular Court;

Officers and others on full pay in Her Majesty's Navy or Army, or in actual employment in the service of any Department connected therewith;

Persons holding appointments in the Civil service, and Commissioned Officers in the Naval or Military service, of the Sublime Ottoman Porte;

Clergymen and ministers in the actual discharge of professional duties;

Advocates and attorneys in actual practice;

Physicians, surgeons, and apothecaries in actual practice;

And except persons disabled by mental or bodily infirmity.

17. On or before the fourteenth day of March, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and on or before the fourteenth day of January, in every subsequent year, each Consular Court shall make out a list of the persons so qualified and liable, resident within its district.

The list shall, on or before the twenty-first day of the same respective month, be affixed in some conspicuous place in the Court, and shall be there exhibited until the thirty-first day of that month, with a notice annexed that on a day specified, not being sooner than the seventh or later than the fourteenth day of the then next month, the Court will hold a special sitting for the revision of the list.

The Court shall hold such special sitting accordingly, and at such sitting, or at some adjournment thereof (of which public notice shall be given), shall revise the list by striking out the name of any person appearing to be not qualified or not liable to serve, and by inserting the name of any person omitted and appearing to be so qualified and liable, either on the application of the person omitted, or on such notice to him as the Court may direct.

The list shall be finally revised and settled not later than the twenty-first day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and not later than the twenty-first day of February, in every subsequent year, and when settled shall be affixed in some conspicuous place in the Court, and be there exhibited during not less than two months.

Such list, as settled in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and in every subsequent year respectively, shall be brought into use, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, on the first day of May, and in every subsequent year on the first day of March, and shall be used as the Jury List of the Court, as to the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three for the ten months, and as to every subsequent year for the twelve months, then next ensuing.

18. Where, in pursuance of this Order, a jury is required, the Court shall summon so many of the persons comprised in the jury list, not fewer than fifteen, as may seem requisite.

Any person failing to attend according to such summons shall be liable to such fine of not more than ten pounds sterling, as the Court may impose.

Any such fine shall not be levied until after the expiration of fourteen days. The proper officer of the Court shall forthwith give to the person fined notice in writing of the imposition of the fine, and require him within six days after receipt of the notice to file an affidavit excusing his non-attendance (if he desire to so do). The Court shall consider the affidavit, and may, if it seems proper, remit the fine.

19. A jury shall consist of five jurors.

In civil and in criminal cases the like challenges shall be allowed as in England, with this addition, that in civil cases each party may challenge three jurors peremptorily.

A jury shall be required to give an unanimous verdict.

Where there is a jury, all the proceedings at the trial shall be conducted in English,—evidence, if given in any other language, being interpreted in the usual way.

20. Where a Provincial Consular Court (not held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul) proceeds, in pursuance of this Order, to hear and determine any case, civil or criminal, with Assessors, the Court shall nominate and summon as Assessors not less than two and not more than four indifferent British subjects of good repute, resident in the district of the Court.

Where, however, by reason of local circumstances, the Court is able to obtain the presence of one fit person only as Assessor, the Court may sit with him alone as Assessor, and where for like reasons it is not able to obtain the presence of any fit person as Assessor, it may sit without an Assessor; but in every such case the Court shall record in the minutes of proceedings its reasons for sitting with one Assessor only, or without an Assessor.

An Assessor shall not have voice or vote in the decision of the Court in any case, civil or criminal, but an Assessor dissenting in a civil case from any decision of the Court, or in a criminal case from any decision of the Court or the conviction or the amount of punishment awarded, may record in the minutes of proceedings his dissent and the grounds thereof, and an Assessor dissenting shall be entitled to receive gratis a certified copy of the minutes.

V.—Jurisdiction and Authorities of the Consular Courts.

1.—In General.

21. All Her Majesty's jurisdiction, civil and criminal, exerciseable in the Ottoman dominions shall, for and within the district of the Consulate-General of Constantinople, be vested exclusively in the Supreme Consular Court as its ordinary original jurisdiction.

22. All Her Majesty's jurisdiction, civil and criminal, exerciseable in the Ottoman dominions beyond the district of the Consulate-General of Constantinople, and not under this Order vested exclusively in the Supreme Consular Court, shall, to the extent and in the manner provided by this Order, be vested in the Provincial Consular Courts each for and within its own district.

23. The Supreme Consular Court shall have, in all matters civil and criminal, an original jurisdiction concurrent with the jurisdiction of the several Provincial Consular Courts, such concurrent jurisdiction to be exercised subject and according to the other provisions of this Order.

24. The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may visit, or appoint the Legal Vice-Consul or the Law Secretary of the Supreme Consular Court to visit, in a magisterial or judicial capacity, any Provincial Consular Court, and there inquire of, or hear and determine, any case, civil or criminal, pending in that Court, or arising within its district,—or may appoint the resident Legal Vice-Consul of any Provincial Consular Court to visit in like manner any Provicial Consular Court where there is not a resident Legal Vice-Consul.

25. A Provincial Consular Court may, of its own motion, or on the application of any person concerned, report to the Supreme Consular Court the pendency of any case, civil, or criminal, which appears to the Provincial Consular Court fit to be heard and determined by the Supreme Consular Court.

The Supreme Consular Court shall thereupon direct in what mode and where the case shall be heard and determined.

26. Every Consular Court shall, in the exercise of every part of its respective jurisdiction, be a Court of Record.

27. Each Provincial Consular Court shall execute any writ or order issuing from the Supreme Consular Court, and take security from any person named in any writ or order for his appearance personally or by attorney, and in default of such security being given, or when specially ordered by the Supreme Consular Court so to do, send such person to Constantinople on board one of Her Majesty's vessels of war, or if there is no such vessel available, then on board any British or other fit vessel.

The order of the Supreme Consular Court shall be sufficient authority to the commander or master of such vessel of war or other vessel to receive and detain such person, and carry him to and deliver him up at Constantinople according to the order.

28. The several Consular Courts shall be auxiliary to one another in all particulars relative to the administration of justice, civil or criminal.

29. Each Provincial Consular Court shall, every six months, furnish to the Supreme Consular Court a full and faithful report of every case, civil and criminal, brought before it, in such form as the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may from time to time direct.

II.—In Civil Matters.

Reconciliation and Arbitration.

30. Every Consular Court and its officers shall, as far as there is proper opportunity, promote reconciliation, and encourage and facilitate the settlement in an amicable way, and without recourse to litigation, of matters in difference between persons over whom the Court has jurisdiction.

31. Every Consular Court may promote reconciliation, and encourage and facilitate the settlement in an amicable way, of any suit or proceeding pending before it.

32. A Consular Court may, with the consent of the parties, refer to arbitration the final determination of any suit or proceeding pending before it, or of all matters in difference between the parties, on such terms and with such directions as to appointment of an arbitrator and other things as may seem fit, and may, if it thinks fit, take from the parties, or any of them, security to abide by the result of the reference.

In any such case, the award shall be final and conclusive.

On the application of any party, a decree of the Court may be entered in conformity with the award, and such decree shall not be open to any appeal or re-hearing whatever.

33. Every agreement for reference to arbitration or submission to arbitration, by consent between or by British subjects, may, on the application of any party, be made a rule of the Consular Court having jurisdiction in the matter of the reference or submission, which Court shall thereupon have power and authority to enforce the agreement or submission, and the award made thereunder, and to control and regulate the proceedings before and after the award, in such manner and on such terms as may be just.

General Authority of Courts.

34. The Supreme and every other Consular Court shall be a Court of Law and of Equity; and (subject to the other provisions of this Order) shall have and may exercise all jurisdiction, power and authority, legal, equitable, or other, which any Consul of Her Majesty, by custom has or may exercise in the Ottoman dominions.

Special Authorities of Courts.

35. The Supreme and every other Consular Court shall be a Court of Bankruptcy, and as such shall, as far as circumstances admit, have, each for and within its own district, with respect to British subjects, and to their debtors and creditors, being either British subjects or foreigners submitting to the jurisdiction of the Court, all such jurisdiction as for the time being belongs to the Court of Bankruptcy and the County Courts in England, or to any other judicial authority having for the time being jurisdiction in England in Bankruptcy.

36. The Supreme Consular Court shall be a Court of Vice-Admiralty, and as such shall, for and within the Ottoman dominions, and for vessels and persons coming within those dominions, have all such jurisdiction as for the time being belongs to any Court of Vice-Admiralty in any of Her Majesty's possessions abroad, excepting any jurisdiction relating to prize or booty.

Every Provincial Consular Court held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul shall be a Court of Vice-Admiralty, and as such shall, for its own district, and for vessels and persons coming within that district have the like jurisdiction.

37. The Supreme Consular Court shall, as far as circumstances admit, have in itself exclusively, for and within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, with respect to British subjects, all such jurisdiction relative to the custody and management of the persons and estates of persons of unsound mind, as for the time being belongs to the Lord Chancellor, or other person or persons in England, intrusted by virtue of Her Majesty's sign manual, with the care and commitment of the custody of the persons and estates of persons found by inquisition in England, idiotic, lunatic, or of unsound mind.

38. The Supreme Consular Court shall be a Court for Matrimonial Causes, and as such shall, as far as circumstances admit, have in itself exclusively, for and within the Ottoman dominions, with respect to British subjects, all such jurisdiction, except the jurisdiction relative to dissolution or nullity or jactitation of marriage, as for the time being belongs to the Court for Divorce and Matrimonial Causes in England.

39. The Supreme Consular Court shall be a Court of Probate, and as such shall, as far as circumstances admit, have, for and within the Ottoman dominions, with respect to the property of British subjects, having at the time of death their fixed places of abode within those dominions, all such jurisdiction, as for the time being belongs to Her Majesty's Court of Probate in England.

A Provincial Consular Court shall, however, also have power to grant probate or administration where there is no contention respecting the right to the grant, and it is proved on oath that the deceased had at the time of his death his fixed place of abode within the jurisdiction of the particular Court.

Probate or administration granted by a Provincial Consular Court shall have effect over all the property of the deceased within the Ottoman dominions, and shall effectually discharge persons dealing with an executor or administrator thereunder, notwithstanding any defect may afterwards appear in the grant. Such a grant shall not be impeachable by reason only that the deceased had not at the time of his death his fixed place of abode, within the particular jurisdiction.

From the death of a British subject, having at the time of death his fixed place of abode within the Ottoman dominions, intestate, until administration granted, his personal property within those dominions, shall be vested in the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court, as the personal property of an intestate in England, is vested in the Judge of Her Majesty's Court of Probate there.

If any person, other than one of Her Majesty's Consular Officers, takes possession of, and in any manner administers any part of the personal property of any person deceased, without obtaining probate or administration within three months after the death of the deceased, or within one month after the termination of any suit or dispute respecting probate or administration (if there is any such which is not ended within two months after the death of the deceased), he shall be liable to such penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds sterling, as the Court having jurisdiction in the matter of the property of the deceased may think fit to impose.

Trial with a Jury.

40. Where a suit instituted in the Supreme Consular Court, or in a Provincial Consular Court held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul, relates to money, goods, or other property, or any civil right or other matter at issue, of the amount or value of fifty pounds sterling or upwards,—or is brought for recovery of damages, of the amount of fifty pounds sterling or upwards,—the suit shall, on the demand of either party, be tried with a jury.

In any case (except where, according to the Rules of the Court, the suit is to be heard and determined in a summary way) a suit so instituted may be tried with a jury, if the Court, of its own motion, or on the application of either party, thinks fit so to order.

One of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may, by order under his hand, extend the present provision to any Provincial Consulate Court not held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul, where it appears to him a sufficient jury list can be obtained.

Trial with Assessors.

41. Where a suit instituted in a Provincial Consular Court not held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul, relates to money, goods, or other property, of a less amount or value than three hundred pounds sterling, or does not relate to, or involve, directly or indirectly, a question respecting any civil right or other matter at issue, of the amount or value of three hundred pounds sterling, or upwards,—or is brought for recovery of damages of a less amount than three hundred pounds sterling,—the Court may hear and determine the case without Assessors.

In all other cases the Court shall hear and determine the case with Assessors.

III.—In Criminal Matters.

42. Every Consular Court shall have authority to cause to be apprehended and brought before it, any British subject being within the district of the Court, and charged with having committed a crime or offence within the Ottoman dominions, or on board a British vessel within those dominions, and to deal with the accused according to the jurisdiction of the Court, and in conformity with the provisions of this Order; or where the crime or offence is triable, and is to be tried in England, to take the preliminary examination, and to commit the accused for trial, and cause or allow him to be taken to England.

43. Where a person charged with a crime or offence escapes or removes from the Consular district within which the crime or offence was committed and is found within another Consular district, the Consular Court within the district of which he is found may proceed in the case to examination, trial, and punishment, or in a summary way (as the case may require), in the same manner as if the crime or offence had been committed in its own district; or may, on the requisition or with the consent of the Court of the district within which the crime or offence was committed, send him in custody to that Court, or require him to give security for his surrender to that Court, there to answer the charge and be dealt with according to law.

Where any person is to be so sent in custody a warrant shall be issued by the Court within the district of which he is found, and such warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named, and carry him to and deliver him up to the Court of the district within which the crime or offence was committed, according to the warrant.

44. Where a warrant or order of arrest is issued by a competent authority in Malta for the apprehension of a British subject, a native of Malta, or of any of its dependencies, who is accused of having committed a crime or offence within the jurisdiction of the authority issuing the warrant or order, and who is, or is supposed to be, in the Ottoman dominions, and the warrant or order is produced to a Consular Court, the Court may back the warrant or order, and the same, when so backed, shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom the warrant or order was originally directed, and also to any constable or other officer of the Court by which it is backed, to apprehend the accused at any place in the Ottoman dominions where the Court by which the warrant or order is backed has jurisdiction, and to carry him to and deliver him up at Malta, according to the warrant or order.

45. Malta shall be (under the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, section iv.) the British Colony to which any person may be sent for trial who is charged with the commission of any crime or offence the cognizance whereof appertains to a Consular Court in the Ottoman dominions, where it is expedient that the crime or offence should be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished within Her Majesty's dominions.

The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may, where it appears so expedient, by warrant under his hand and seal and the seal of the Supreme Consular Court, cause the accused to be sent for trial to Malta accordingly.

Such warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named, and carry him to and deliver him up at Malta, according to the warrant.

Where any person is to be so sent to Malta, the Consular Court before which he is charged shall take the preliminary examination, and shall bind over such of the proper witnesses as may be British subjects in their own recognizances to appear and give evidence on the trial.

46. A Consular Court may promote reconciliation and encourage and facilitate the settlement in an amicable way of proceedings for assault or any other offence not amounting to felony and being of a private or personal character, on terms of payment of compensation or other terms that may seem reasonable or expedient, and may thereupon order the proceedings to be stayed.

47. All crimes which in England are capital shall be tried by the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court with a jury.

Other crimes and offences above the degree of misdemeanour, tried before the judge or any Officer of the Supreme Consular Court, and not heard and determined in a summary way, shall be tried with a jury.

Any crime or offence tried before the Judge or any Officer of the Supreme Consular Court may be tried with a jury where the Judge or other Officer so directs.

Subject to the foregoing provisions, such classes of criminal cases within the original jurisdiction (ordinary or concurrent) of the Supreme Consular Court as the Judge, having regard to the law and practice existing in England, may from time to time direct, shall be heard and determined in a summary way.

48. The Supreme Consular Court may impose the punishment of imprisonment for any term not exceeding twenty years, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine not exceeding five hundred pounds sterling, or the punishment of a fine alone not exceeding five hundred pounds sterling.

49. Where any person is convicted of murder, the proper officer of the Court, under the direction of the Judge, shall, in open court, require the offender to state if he has anything to say why judgment of death should not be recorded against him. If such offender does not allege anything that would be sufficient in law to prevent such judgment if the offence had been committed and the trial had been had in England, the Court may order such judgment to be entered on record.

Thereupon the proper officer shall enter judgment of death on record against such offender, as if judgment of death had been actually pronounced against him in open court by the Court.

The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court shall forthwith send a report of every such judgment, with a copy of the minutes of proceedings and notes of evidence and any observations he may think fit to make, to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, for his direction as to the punishment to be actually imposed, such actual punishment not to exceed the measure of imprisonment and fine mentioned in Article 48.

50. Where a Provincial Consular Court is held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul, crimes and offences above the degree of misdemeanour, tried before the Court, and not heard and determined in a summary way, shall be tried with a jury.

Any crime or offence may be tried with a jury where the Court so directs.

Subject to the foregoing provisions, such classes of criminal cases as the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court, with the advice and assistance of the resident Legal Vice-Consul, having regard to the law and practice existing in England, may from time to time direct, shall be heard and determined in a summary way.

51. A Provincial Consular Court held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul may impose the punishment of imprisonment for any term not exceeding two years, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds sterling, or the punishment of a fine alone not exceeding one hundred pounds sterling.

52. Where the crime or offence with which any person is charged before a Provincial Consular Court, not held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul, is any crime or offence other than assault endangering life, cutting, maiming, arson, or housebreaking, and appears to the Court to be such that, if proved, it would be adequately punished by imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for not more than three months, or by a fine of not more than twenty-five pounds sterling, the Court shall hear and determine the case in a summary way and without Assessors.

In other cases the Court shall hear and determine the case on indictment and with Assessors.

53. A Provincial Consular Court not held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul may impose the punishment of imprisonment for any term not exceeding twelve months, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine of fifty pounds sterling, or the punishment of a fine alone not exceeding fifty pounds sterling.

54. Where the crime or offence with which any person is charged before a Provincial Consular Court appears to the Court to be such that, if proved, it would not be adequately punished by such punishment as the Court has power to impose, and the accused is not to be sent for trial to England or Malta, the Court shall reserve the case to be heard and determined by or under the special authority of the Supreme Consular Court.

The Provincial Consular Court shall take the depositions, and forthwith send them, with a minute of other evidence, if any, and a report on the case, to the Supreme Consular Court.

The Supreme Consular Court shall direct in what mode and where the case shall be heard and determined.

55. The Supreme and every other Consular Court in imposing punishments shall have regard, as far as circumstances admit, and subject to the other provisions of this Order, to the punishments imposed by the law of England in like cases.

56. A Consular Court may order any person convicted before it of any crime or offence to pay all or any part of the expenses of his trial and imprisonment or other punishment.

Where it appears to the Court that a charge is malicious, or frivolous and vexatious, the Court may order all or any part of the expenses of the prosecution to be paid by the prosecutor.

57. Where the circumstances of the case render it just or expedient, the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may report to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State recommending a mitigation or remission of any punishment awarded by the Supreme or any other Consular Court; and on such recommendation any such punishment may be mitigated or remitted.

But no such recommendation shall be made with respect to any punishment awarded by a Provincial Consular Court, except on the recommendation of that Court, or on the dissent of the Assessors or Assessor, if any, from the conviction or from the amount of punishment awarded.

58. The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may, where it seems expedient, by warrant under his hand and the seal of the Supreme Consular Court, cause any offender convicted before any Consular Court and sentenced to imprisonment, to be sent to and imprisoned at any such place in the Ottoman dominions, as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may, from time to time, approve.

Such warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed, to receive and detain the person therein named and carry him to and deliver him up at such place, according to the warrant.

59. Malta shall be (under the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, section v.) the British Colony to which any offender sentenced to suffer imprisonment in respect of any crime or offence of which he is convicted before any Consular Court may be sent, where it is expedient that the sentence passed in the Ottoman dominions should be carried into effect within Her Majesty's dominions.

The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may, where it appears so expedient, by warrant under his hand and seal and the seal of the Supreme Consular Court, cause such offender to be sent to Malta, in order that the sentence passed upon him may be there carried into effect accordingly.

Such warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named and carry him to and deliver him up at Malta, according to the warrant.

60. The Supreme Consular Court shall forthwith send to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State a report of the sentence passed by the Judge or any Officer of the Court in every case not heard and determined in a summary way, with a copy of the minutes of proceedings and notes of evidence and any observations the Court may think fit to make.

Every Provincial Consular Court shall forthwith send to the Supreme Consular Court a report of the sentence passed by it in every case not heard and determined in a summary way, with a copy of the minutes of proceedings and notes of evidence and any observations the Court may think fit to make. The Supreme Consular Court shall forthwith transmit the same, with any observations the Court may think fit to make, to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

VI.—Deportation of Offenders.

61. (i.) Where it is shown on oath, to the satisfaction of a Consular Court, that there is reasonable ground to apprehend that any British subject in the Ottoman dominions is about to commit a breach of the public peace,—or that the acts or conduct of any such British subject are or is likely to produce or excite to a breach of the public peace,—the Court may cause him to be brought before it and require him to give security to the satisfaction of the Court, to keep the peace, or for his future good behaviour, as the case may require:

(ii.) Where any British subject is convicted of any crime or offence before a Consular Court, or before a Court in the sentence of which one of Her Majesty's Consular Officers concurs, the Consular Court for the district in which he happens to be may require him to give security to the satisfaction of the Court for his future good behaviour.

In either of these cases, if the person required to give security fails to do so, the Court may order that he be deported from the Ottoman dominions to such place as the Court may direct.

The Court shall not, however, without the consent of the person to be deported, direct the deportation of a native of Malta or any of its dependencies to any place other than Malta,—or of a native of Gibraltar to any place other than Gibraltar,—or of a native of any part of Her Majesty's dominions other than Malta, its dependencies, or Gibraltar, to any place other than England.

A Provincial Consular Court shall forthwith report to the Supreme Consular Court any order of deportation made by it, and the grounds thereof. The Supreme Consular Court may reverse the order, or may confirm it with or without variation, and in case of confirmation, shall direct it to be carried into effect.

The person to be deported shall be detained in custody until a fit opportunity for his deportation occurs.

He shall, as soon as may be practicable, (and in the case of a person convicted, either after execution of the sentence or while it is in course of execution,) be embarked in custody, under the warrant of the Supreme Consular Court on board one of Her Majesty's vessels of war, or, if there is no such vessel available then on board any British or other fit vessel bound to the place of deportation.

The warrant of the Court shall be sufficient authority to the commander or master of such vessel of war, or other vessel, to receive and detain the person to be deported and carry him to and deliver him up at the place of deportation, according to the warrant.

The Supreme or other Consular Court may order the person to be deported to pay all or any part of the expenses of his deportation. Subject thereto, the expenses of deportation shall be defrayed as the expenses relating to distressed British subjects are defrayed, or in such other manner as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may from time to time direct.

The Supreme Consular Court shall forthwith report to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State any order of deportation made or confirmed by it and the grounds thereof, and shall also inform Her Majesty's Ambassador, Minister, or Chargé d'Affaires at the Sublime Ottoman Porte of the same.

If any person deported returns to the Ottoman dominions without the permission of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State (which permission the Secretary of State may give) he shall be liable on conviction thereof to punishment (in the discretion of the Court before which he is convicted) by imprisonment for not more than one month, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine of not more than ten pounds sterling, or by a fine of not more than twenty pounds sterling alone, and also to be forthwith again deported in manner hereinbefore provided.

VII.—Registration of Residents and Others.

62. Every British subject resident in the Ottoman dominions,—being of the age of 21 years or upwards,—or being married or a widower or widow, though under that age,—shall, in the year 1863, in the month of March, and in every subsequent year in the month of January, register himself or herself in a register to be kept at the Consulate of the Consular district within which he or she resides.

Every such British subject, not so resident arriving at any place within the Ottoman dominions where a Consular Office is maintained, unless borne on the muster-roll of a British vessel there arriving, shall, within one month after his or her arrival, register himself or herself in a register to be kept at the Consular Office,—but so that no person shall be required to register himself or herself more than once in any year, reckoned from any 1st day of January.

Every such British subject shall on every such registration of himself or herself pay a fee of five shillings.

Any such British subject failing so to register himself or herself, and not excusing his or her failure to the satisfaction of the Consular Officer, shall not be entitled to be recognized or protected as a British subject in the Ottoman dominions, and shall be liable to a fine of not more than forty shillings for each instance of such failure; in the case of a married woman (not living apart from her husband) such fine to be levied on her husband's property.

The Consular Officer shall issue to every British subject so registered a certificate of registration under his hand and Consular seal.

VIII.—Deaths of British Subjects Non-Resident.

63. Where a British subject, not having at the time of death his fixed place of abode in the Ottoman dominions, dies in those dominions, the Consular Court, within whose district he dies, shall, where the circumstances of the case appear to the Court so to require, forthwith on the death of the deceased, or as soon after as may be, take possession of his personal property within the particular jurisdiction, or put it under the seal of the Court (in either case, if the nature of the property or other circumstances so require, making an inventory), and so keep the property until it can be dealt with according to law.

IX.—Offences against Religion.

64. If any British subject is guilty of publicly deriding, mocking, or insulting any religion established or observed within the Ottoman dominions,—or of publicly offering any insult to any religious service, feast, or ceremony established or kept in any part of those dominions, or to any place of worship, tomb, or sanctuary belonging to any such religion, or to the ministers or professors thereof,—or wilfully commits any act tending to bring any such religion, or its ceremonies, mode of worship, or observances into hatred, ridicule, or contempt, and thereby to provoke a breach of the public peace,—he shall be liable (in the discretion of the Court) to imprisonment for not more than two years, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine of not more than one hundred pounds sterling, or to a fine of not more than one hundred pounds sterling alone.

Notwithstanding anything in this Order, every charge against a British subject of having committed any such offence shall be heard and determined in a summary way, and any Provincial Consular Court shall have power to impose the punishment aforesaid.

Her Majesty's Consular Officers shall take such precautionary measures as may seem to them proper and expedient for the prevention of such offences.

X.—Foreigners. Foreign Tribunals.

65. Where a foreigner desires to institute or take any suit or proceeding of a civil nature against a British subject, or a British subject against a foreigner, the Supreme or other Consular Court, according to its respective jurisdiction, shall entertain the same, and shall hear and determine it, either by the Judge or proper Consular Officer sitting alone, or, if all parties desire, or the Court think fit to direct, a trial with a jury, then by such Judge or Officer with a jury, but in all other respects according to the ordinary course of the Court:

Provided that the foreigner first obtains and files in the Court the consent in writing of the competent local authority on behalf of the Sublime Ottoman Porte or of the Consul of his own nation (as the case may be) to his submitting, and does submit, to the jurisdiction of the Court, and, if required, gives security to the satisfaction of the Court, by deposit or otherwise, to pay fees, damages, costs, and expenses, and abide by and perform such decision as may be given by the Supreme or other Consular Court originally or on appeal (as the case may require).

66. Where it is shown to a Consular Court that the attendance of a British subject to give evidence, or for any other purpose connected with the administration of justice, is required in a Court or before a judicial officer of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or in a Court or before a judicial officer in the Ottoman dominions of any State in amity with Her Majesty, the Consular Court may, in cases and under circumstances which would require the attendance of such British subject before one of Her Majesty's Consular Courts in the Ottoman dominions, and if it seems to the Consular Court just and expedient so to do, make an order for the attendance of such British subject in such Court or before such judicial officer and for such purpose as aforesaid,—but so that a Provincial Consular Court shall not have power to make an order for such attendance of a British subject at any place beyond the particular jurisdiction of the Court.

Any British subject, duly served with such an order, and with reasonable notice of the time and place at which his attendance is required, failing to attend accordingly, and not excusing his failure to the satisfaction of the Court making the order, shall be liable to a fine of not more than one hundred pounds sterling, or to imprisonment for not more than one month, in the discretion of the Court.

XI.—Appeal to Supreme Consular Court.

I.—In Civil Cases.

67. Where any decision of a Provincial Consular Court, sitting with or without Assessors, is given in a civil case in respect of a sum or matter at issue of the amount or value of fifty pounds sterling or upwards,—or determines, directly or indirectly, any claim or question respecting property or any civil right, of the amount or value of fifty pounds sterling or upwards,—any party aggrieved by the decision may apply to the Provincial Consular Court for leave to appeal to the Supreme Consular Court, and shall be entitled to leave on the terms prescribed by the Rules made under this Order, and subject to such restrictions and exceptions as may be therein contained.

In any other case the Provincial Consular Court may, if it seems just and expedient, give leave to appeal on like terms.

In any case the Supreme Consular Court may give leave to appeal on such terms as may seem just.

II.—IN CRIMINAL CASES.

68. Where any person is convicted otherwise than in any summary way of a crime or offence, the Court or Consular Officer before whom he is tried may reserve for the consideration of the Supreme Consular Court any question of law arising on the trial.

The Court or Officer shall then state a special case setting out the question reserved, with the facts and circumstances on which it arose, and shall send the case to the Supreme Consular Court.

69. Where any person is convicted in a summary way of a crime or offence, and is dissatisfied with the conviction as being erroneous in point of law, the Court or Consular Officer before whom he is tried shall, on his application, unless the application appears merely frivolous, in which case the Court or Officer may refuse the application, state a special case setting out the facts and the grounds of the conviction for the opinion of the Supreme Consular Court, and send it to that Court.

70. In any such case the Court or Consular Officer shall, as may seem fit, either postpone judgment on the conviction, or respite execution of the judgment, and either commit the person convicted to prison, or take proper security for him to appear and receive judgment, or to render himself in execution (as the case may require) at an appointed time and place.

71. The Supreme Consular Court shall hear and finally determine the matter, and thereupon shall reverse, affirm, or amend any judgment given at the trial,—or set aside such judgment, and order an entry to be made in the minutes of proceedings that in the judgment of the Supreme Consular Court the person ought not to have been convicted,—or arrest the judgment,—or order judgment to be given at a subsequent sitting of the Court or Officer by whom the case is stated,—or make such other order as justice may require,—and shall also give all necessary and proper consequential directions.

72. The judgment of the Supreme Consular Court shall be delivered in open court after the public hearing of any argument offered on behalf of the prosecution or of the person convicted.

73. Before delivering judgment, the Supreme Consular Court may, if necessary, cause the special case to be amended by the Court or Consular Officer by whom it was stated.

XII.—Appeal to Her Majesty in Council.

74. Where any decision of the Supreme Consular Court is given in a civil case in respect of a sum or matter at issue of the amount or value of five hundred pounds sterling or upwards,—or determines directly or indirectly any claim or question respecting property or any civil right of the amount or value of five hundred pounds sterling or upwards,—any party aggrieved by the decision may, within fifteen days after the same is given, apply by motion to the Supreme Consular Court for leave to appeal to Her Majesty in Council,

If leave to appeal is applied for by a party adjudged to pay money or perform a duty, the Supreme Consular Court shall direct either that the decision appealed from be carried into execution, or that the execution thereof be suspended, pending the appeal, as the Court may consider to be consistent with real and substantial justice.

If the Court directs the decision to be carried into execution, the party in whose favour it is given shall, before the execution of it, give security to the satisfaction of the Court for the due performance of such order as Her Majesty in Council may think fit to make.

If the Court directs the execution of the decision to be suspended pending the appeal, the party against whom the decision is given shall, before any order for suspension of execution, give security to the satisfaction of the Court for the due performance of such order as Her Majesty in Council may think fit to make.

In all cases security shall also be given by the appellant to the satisfaction of the Court to an amount not exceeding five hundred pounds sterling, for the prosecution of the appeal, and for payment of all such costs as may be awarded to any respondent by Her Majesty in Council, or by the Lords of the Judicial Committee of Her Majesty's Privy Council.

If the last-mentioned security is given within one month from the filing of the motion-paper for leave to appeal, then, and not otherwise, the Supreme Consular Court shall give leave to appeal, and the appellant shall be at liberty to prefer and prosecute his appeal to Her Majesty in Council according to the rules for the time being in force respecting appeals to Her Majesty in Council from her colonies, or such other rules as Her Majesty in Council may from time to time think fit to make concerning appeals from the Supreme Consular Court.

In any case other than the cases hereinbefore described, the Supreme Consular Court, if it considers it just or expedient to do so, may give leave to appeal on the terms and in the manner aforesaid.

This Order shall not affect the right of Her Majesty at any time, on the humble petition of a party aggrieved by a decision of the Supreme Consular Court, to admit his appeal thereon, on such terms and in such manner as Her Majesty in Council may think fit, and to deal with the decision appealed from in such manner as may be just.

XIII.—Rules.

75. The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may, notwithstanding anything herein contained, at any time after the making of this Order, and from time to time, frame Rules for the effectual execution of this Order, and for the observance of the Capitulations, Articles of Peace, and Treaties between Her Majesty and the Sublime Ottoman Porte, and for the maintenance of order among British subjects in the Ottoman dominions, and may thereby impose reasonable penalties; and also Rules for the regulation of procedure and pleading, forms of writs, and other proceedings, expenses of witnesses and prosecutions, costs and fees, in civil and criminal cases, in the Supreme Consular Court and other Consular Courts, and the regulation of appeals to the Supreme Consular Court from the other Consular Courts.

The Rules affecting the conduct of civil suits shall be so framed as to secure, as far as may be, that cases shall be decided on their merits according to substantial justice without excessive regard to technicalities of pleading or procedure and without unnecessary delay.

No Rules shall take effect unless and until approved by one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

A copy of the Rules for the time being in force shall be exhibited in some conspicuous place in each Consular Court and Consulate in the Ottoman dominions. Printed copies shall be provided and sold at such reasonable price as the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court shall from time to time direct.

No penalty shall be enforced in any Court for the breach of any Rule until the Rule has been so exhibited in the Court for one month.

For the purpose of convicting any person committing a breach of any Rule, and for all other purposes of law, a printed copy of the Rule, purporting to be certified under the hand of the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court, and the seal of the Court, or under the hand and Consular seal of one of Her Majesty's Consular Officers, shall be taken as conclusive evidence of the same, and no proof of the handwriting or seal purporting to certify the same, shall be required.

XIV.—Miscellaneous Provisions.

76. In every case, civil or criminal, heard in a Consular Court, proper minutes of the proceedings shall be drawn up, and shall be signed by the Judge or Consular Officer before whom the proceedings are taken, and sealed with the seal of the Court, and shall, where Assessors are present, be open for their inspection and for their signature, if concurred in by them.

The minutes, with depositions of witnesses and notes of evidence taken at the trial by the Judge or Consular Officer, shall be preserved in the public office of the Court.

77. In a civil case a Consular Court may order such costs, or costs, charges, and expenses as to the Court seem reasonable, to be paid by any party to the proceeding, or out of any fund to which the proceeding relates.

78. A Consular Court, either of its own motion, or in civil cases, on the application of any party to any suit or proceeding or reference, may summon as a witness any British subject in the Ottoman dominions,—but so that a Provincial Consular Court shall have power so to summon British subjects in its own district only.

Any British subject, duly served with such a summons, and with reasonable notice of the time and place at which his attendance is required, failing to attend accordingly, and not excusing his failure to the satisfaction of the Court, shall, over and above any other liability to which he may be subject, be liable to a fine of not more than one hundred pounds sterling, or to imprisonment for not more than one month, in the discretion of the Court.

79. In civil cases a Consular Court may, where the circumstances appear to justify it, order that the expenses of a witness, on his appearing to give evidence, shall be defrayed by the parties, or any of them.

80. Any person appearing before a Consular Court to give evidence in any case, civil or criminal, may be examined or give evidence on oath in such form or with such ceremony as he may declare to be binding on his conscience.

81. Any British subject wilfully giving false evidence in any suit or proceeding, civil or criminal, or on any reference, shall be liable to the penalties attaching to wilful and corrupt perjury.

82. All costs and all charges and expenses of witnesses, prosecutions, punishments, and deportations, and other charges and expenses, and all fees, fines, forfeitures, and pecuniary penalties payable under this Order, may be levied by distress and seizure and sale of ships, goods, and lands; and no bill of sale, or mortgage, or transfer of property, made with a view to security in regard to crimes or offences committed, or to be committed, shall be of any avail to defeat the provisions of this Order.

83. All fees, fines, forfeitures, and pecuniary penalties levied under this Order shall be carried to the public account, and be applied in diminution of the public expenditure on account of Her Majesty's Consular service in the Ottoman dominions.

84. A copy of this Order shall be exhibited in each Consular Court and Consulate in the Ottoman dominions. Printed copies shall be provided and sold at such reasonable price as the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court shall direct.

85. Any suit or proceeding shall not be commenced in a Consular Court against any person for anything done or omitted under this Order, or any Rule made under it, unless notice in writing is given by the intending plaintiff or prosecutor to the intended defendant one month at least before the commencement of the suit or proceeding, nor unless it is commenced within three months next after the act or omission complained of, or in case of a continuation of damage within three months next after the doing of such damage has ceased.

The plaintiff in any such suit shall not succeed if tender of sufficient amends is made by the defendant before the commencement thereof; and if no tender is made the defendant may by leave of the Court at any time pay into Court such sum of money as he may think fit, whereupon such proceeding and order shall be had and made in and by the Court as may be had and made on the payment of money into Court in an ordinary suit.

XV.—Joint Jurisdiction.

86. In any case in the decision of which, under the Capitulation, Articles of Peace, and Treaties with the Sublime Ottoman Porte, any of Her Majesty's Consuls may or ought to concur, the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court or a Consular Officer exercising jurisdiction under this Order shall exclusively act on the part and on behalf of Her Majesty.

And the Right Honourable the Earl Russell and the Most Noble the Duke of Newcastle, two of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

Edmund Harrison.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 9th day of January, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the rules and practice observed for preventing collisions at sea, which were formerly adopted by maritime nations, have proved insufficient to satisfy the requirements of modern navigation; and whereas various alterations in such rules and practice, have from time to time been made by different nations, but the rules so altered have been found to be in some cases inconsistent with each other, and in other cases to have the force of municipal law only; and whereas in consequence of communications from the Government of the Emperor of the French inviting Her Majesty's Government to consider the expediency of making the said Rules uniform and international Her Majesty's Government prepared a project of regulations for preventing collisions at sea and submitted it to the Government of the Emperor of the French; and the project so prepared by Her Majesty's Government was approved by the Government of the Emperor of the French with certain modifications, which were assented to by Her Majesty's Government; and whereas the said Regulations so modified have been sanctioned by the "Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862" and are contained in Table C in the schedule to that Act: and whereas by the said Act it is provided that Her Majesty may from time to time on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade by Order in Council modify any of the said regulations or make new regulations in substitution therefor: and whereas certain clerical errors have been discovered in the regulations contained in the schedule to the said Act and the Admiralty and the Board of Trade have jointly recommended Her Majesty to modify the said Regulations for the purpose of correcting the said clerical errors; and the Regulations so modified are appended to this Order: and whereas by virtue of the said Act and of this Order the said Regulations appended hereto will, so far as relates to British ships and also so far as relates to Foreign ships when within British jurisdiction, come into operation on the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three: and whereas it is provided by the same Act that whenever it is made to appear to Her Majesty that the Government of any Foreign country is willing that the Regulations for preventing collision contained in Table C in the schedule to the said Act, or such other regulations for preventing collision as are for the time being in force under the said Act should apply to the ships of such country when beyond the limits of British jurisdiction Her Majesty may by Order in Council direct that such Regulations shall apply to the ships of the said foreign country whether within British jurisdiction or not: and it is further provided by the said Act that whenever an Order in Council has been issued applying any regulation made by or in pursuance of the said Act to the ships of any foreign country such ships shall in all cases arising in any British Court be deemed to be subject to such Regulation, and shall for the purpose of such Regulation be treated as if they were British ships: and whereas it has been made to appear to Her Majesty that the Government of the Emperor of the French is willing that the said Regulations appended to this Order should on and after the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three apply to French ships when beyond the limits of British jurisdiction;

Now therefore Her Majesty by virtue of the power vested in Her by the said recited Act, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to direct:—

First,—That the Regulations contained in the schedule to the said Act shall be modified by the substitution for such Regulations of the Regulations appended to this Order.

Secondly,—That the said Regulations appended to this Order shall on and after the said first day of June one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three apply to French ships whether within British jurisdiction or not.

Edmund Harrison.

18. Construction of Articles 12, 14, 15 and 17.
19. Proviso to save special cases.
20. No Ship under any circumstances to neglect proper precautions.

Preliminary.

Art. 1. In the following Rules every Steam Ship which is under sail and not under steam is to be considered a Sailing Ship; and every Steam Ship which is under steam, whether under sail or not, is to be considered a ship under steam.

Rules Concerning Lights.

Lights.

Art. 2. The Lights mentioned in the following Articles, numbered 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9, and no others, shall be carried in all weathers, from sunset to sunrise.

Lights for Steam Ships.

Art. 3. Sea-going Steam-ships when under weigh shall carry:

(a.) At the Foremast Head, a bright White Light, so fixed as to show an uniform and unbroken Light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the ship, viz., from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least five miles:

(b.) On the Starboard Side, a Green Light so constructed as to throw an uniform and unbroken Light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the starboard side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles:

(c.) On the Port Side, a Red Light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the port side; and of such a character, as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles:

(d.) The said Green and Red Side Lights shall be fitted with inboard screens, projecting at least three feet forward from the Light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

Lights for Steam Tugs.

Art. 4. Steam Ships, when towing other ships, shall carry two bright White Mast-head Lights vertically, in addition to their side lights, so as to distinguish them from other Steam Ships. Each of these Mast-head Lights shall be of the same construction and character as the Mast-head Lights which other Steam-Ships are required to carry.

Lights for Sailing Ships.

Art. 5. Sailing Ships under weigh, or being towed, shall carry the same lights as Steam Ships under weigh, with the exception of the White Mast-head Lights, which they shall never carry.

Exceptional Lights for small Sailing Vessels.

Art. 6. Whenever, as in the case of small vessels during bad weather, the Green and Red lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept on deck, on their respective sides of the vessel, ready for instant exhibition; and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the Green light shall not be seen on the port side, nor the Red light on the starboard side.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with suitable screens.

Lights for Ships at Anchor.

Art. 7. Ships, whether steam ships or sailing ships, when at anchor in roadsteads or fairways, shall exhibit, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding twenty-feet above the hull, a White Light, in a globular lantern of eight inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon, and at a distance of at least one mile.

Lights for Pilot Vessels.

Art. 8. Sailing Pilot Vessels shall not carry the lights required for other sailing vessels, but shall carry a White Light at the mast head, visible all round the horizon,—and shall also exhibit a Flare-up Light every fifteen minutes.

Lights for Fishing Vessels and Boats.

Art. 9. Open Fishing Boats and other open boats shall not be required to carry the side lights required for other vessels; but shall, if they do not carry such lights, carry a lantern having a Green Slide on the one side and a Red Slide on the other side; and on the approach of or to other vessels, such lantern shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the Green light shall not be seen on the port side, nor the Red light on the starboard side.

Fishing Vessels and open boats when at anchor, or attached to their nets and stationary, shall exhibit a bright White Light.

Fishing Vessels and open boats shall, however, not be prevented from using a Flare up in addition, if considered expedient.

Rules concerning Fog Signals.

Fog Signals.

Art. 10. Whenever there is fog, whether by day or night, the Fog Signals described below shall be carried and used, and shall be sounded at least every five minutes; viz. :—

(a.) Steam Ships under weigh shall use a Steam Whistle placed before the funnel, not less than eight feet from the deck:

(b.) Sailing ships under weigh shall use a Fog Horn:

(c.) Steam Ships and Sailing Ships when not under weigh shall use a Bell.

Steering and Sailing Rules.

Two Sailing Ships meeting.

Art. 11. If Two Sailing Ships are meeting end on or nearly end on so as to involve risk of collision, the helms of both shall be put to port, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

Two Sailing Ships crossing.

Art. 12. When two sailing ships are crossing so as to involve risk of collision, then, if they have the wind on different sides, the ship with the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the ship with the wind on the starboard side; except in the case in which the ship with the wind on the port side is close hauled and the other ship free, in which case the latter ship shall keep out of the way; but if they have the wind on the same side, or if one of them has the wind aft, the ship which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the ship which is to leeward.

Two Ships under Steam Meeting.

Art. 13. If two ships under steam are meeting end on or nearly end on so as to involve risk of collision, the helms of both shall be put to port, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

Two Ships under Steam Crossing.

Art. 14. If two ships under steam are crossing so as to involve risk of collision, the ship which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

Sailing Ship and Ship under Steam.

Art. 15. If two ships, one of which is a sailing ship, and the other a steam ship, are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam ship shall keep out of the way of the sailing ship.

Ships under Steam to slacken Speed.

Art. 16. Every steam ship, when approaching another ship so as to involve risk of collision, shall slacken her speed, or, if necessary, stop and reverse; and every steam ship shall, when in a fog, go at a moderate speed.

Vessels overtaking other Vessels.

Art. 17. Every vessel overtaking any other vessel shall keep out of the way of the said last-mentioned vessel.

Construction of Articles, 12, 14, 15, and 17.

Art. 18. Where by the above rules one of two ships is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course, subject to the qualifications contained in the following Article.

Proviso to save special cases.

Art. 19. In obeying and construing these rules, due regard must be had to all dangers of navigation; and due regard must also be had to any special circumstances which may exist in any particular case rendering a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

No Ship, under any circumstances, to neglect proper precautions.

Art. 20. Nothing in these Rules shall exonerate any ship, or the owner, or master, or crew thereof, from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look-out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 9th day of January, 1863.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that whereas the Corporation of the Trinity House of Deptford Strond has placed a new light vessel near the west end of the Scarweather Sand, in the Bristol Channel, there shall be paid, in respect of the said light vessel, for every vessel, whether British or foreign, which, pursuant to the consolidated tables of light duties sanctioned by an Order in Council, dated the twenty-sixth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, shall become liable to the charge for the Nash Lights, in the case of an oversea voyage, the toll of four sixteenths of a penny per ton of the burthen of every such vessel, and in the case of a coasting voyage, the toll of one sixteenth of a penny per ton of the burthen of every such vessel; and that the said tolls in respect of the said light vessel shall be levied by the corporation of the Trinity House of Deptford Strond, subject to the gross abatement or discount of sixty per cent., mentioned in an Order in Council made under the authority of the said recited Act, and dated the twenty-fifth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, and subject also to the regulations and exemptions contained in the said consolidated tables of light duties sanctioned by the said Order in Council, dated the twenty-sixth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, and to the further exemption sanctioned by an Order in Council, dated the twelfth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 9th day of January, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by "The Passengers Act, 1855," it is amongst other things enacted, that before any passenger ship shall be cleared out, the emigration officer at the port of clearance shall satisfy himself that there is on board a sufficient quantity of pure water, carried in tanks or casks, to secure throughout the intended voyage the issue of three quarts daily to each statute adult, for the use of the passengers, exclusive of the quantity required for cooking.

And whereas it is also enacted, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by any Order in Council, to prescribe such rules and regulations as to Her Majesty may seem fit, for permitting the use on board passenger ships of an apparatus for distilling water, and for defining, in such case, the quantity of fresh water to be carried in tanks or casks for the passengers, and such Order in Council from time to time to alter, amend, and revoke, as occasion may require.

And whereas Her Majesty, by Orders in Council, dated, respectively, the sixth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and the thirteenth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, prescribed certain rules for permitting the use on board passenger ships propelled by steam engines of a certain power, and on board passenger ships propelled by sails, of a certain apparatus for distilling fresh water from salt water.

And whereas it is expedient to repeal the said Order in Council that relates to passenger ships propelled by sails, and to issue in lieu thereof the Order hereinafter contained.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty doth, by, and with the advice of Her Privy Council, and in pursuance and in exercise of the authority vested in Her by the said "Passengers Act, 1855," hereby repeal the said Order in Council of the thirteenth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, and order as follows:—

Any passenger ship propelled by sails only, or by steam engines of less power than is sufficient, without the aid of sails, to propel the ship at the rate of five statute miles an hour may be cleared out and proceed on her voyage, having on board, in tanks or casks, only half the quantity of pure water required by the said Act to be carried for the use of the passengers, provided the following conditions be observed; that is to say:

1. That there be on board such ship an efficient apparatus for distilling fresh water from salt water, of the description commonly known either as Normandy's Patent or Winchester and Graveley's Patent.

2. That the owners, charterers, or master of such ship, before clearance, lodge with such emigration officer a certificate from the engineer or surveyor of the Board of Trade, or from some other competent person to be named by such emigration officer, declaring that within seven days immediately preceding the date of such certificate, the apparatus has been examined by him and is then in good working condition, and stating the number of imperial gallons of pure fresh water which it is capable of producing in every twenty-four hours, and further, declaring that the apparatus on board is either Normandy's or Winchester and Graveley's Patent, as the case may be.

3. That in every case such emigration officer shall be satisfied that the number of gallons of pure water which the apparatus is so certified to be capable of producing, is not less than the whole number of persons about to proceed on the intended voyage of such ship,—that is to say, the whole number of cabin-passengers, passengers, and crew.

4. That there is rated on the ship's articles, and that there is on board the ship, some person or persons who, to the satisfaction of the said emigration officer, shall be competent for the proper management and repair of such distilling apparatus.

And, to prevent all doubts on the construction of this Order in Council, it is hereby further ordered, that the terms "passenger ship," "emigration officer," "statute adult," and "master," shall herein have the same significations as are assigned to them respectively in the said "Passengers Act, 1855."

And the Most Noble the Duke of Newcastle, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

Edmund Harrison.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 16, 1863.

Whitehall, January 15, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the attainment of his Majority by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Salford, in the county palatine of Lancaster, moved by a spirit of loyal and devoted affection, humbly offer to your Majesty our sincere congratulations upon the attainment to full age of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

We are, and, in common with all other your Majesty's subjects, must ever be deeply grateful that His Royal Highness has had the advantage of the parental guidance and bright example of your Majesty, and your late, ever to be revered, Royal Consort, and we humbly trust that the influence of the sound religious and virtuous education which His Royal Highness has received, will be fully developed in the life of His Royal Highness.

We rejoice that your Majesty has been spared to witness this auspicious event, and fervently pray that in his future career His Royal Highness will be the means of alleviating the cares and anxieties and conducing to the comfort and happiness of your Majesty.

Given under the Common Seal of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Salford aforesaid, in Council assembled, this 10th day of November, 1862, and attested by the signature of His Worship, the Mayor, and countersigned by the Town Clerk.

Wm. Pearson, Mayor.
Geo. Brett, Town Clerk.

Also the following on the same subject: from

The Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Tenby.

The Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Bolton.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 9th day of January, 1863.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the representation duly prepared (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament, made and passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter 96 for the regulation of the duties of postage, certain scales of weight and rates of postage were fixed, and were made chargeable and payable upon, for, and in respect of letters, newspapers, parliamentary proceedings, and printed papers transmitted and forwarded by the post, and various regulations were made for facilitating the transmission of such letters and papers by the post; and by the same Act power was given to the Postmaster-General to charge such higher rates of postage on certain letters, newspapers, and other printed papers therein mentioned, as the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by Warrant under their hands, should from time to time deem expedient; and also to remit any of the rates of British postage or inland postage for the time being payable by law on the transmission of post letters, newspapers, or other printed papers to such extent as the lords of the Treasury should from time to time direct; and by the same Act power was also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury from time to time, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of Foreign or Colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant; and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any of such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof;

And whereas by another Act of Parliament, made and passed in the session of Parliament holden in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter 49, for the better regulation of Colonial posts, power is also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of Colonial postage payable by law for the transmission of letters by the post, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant; and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any of such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof;

And whereas further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act of Parliament, made and passed in the session of Parliament, holden in the tenth and eleventh years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter 85, for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post Office;

And whereas by another Act of Parliament, made and passed in the eighteenth year of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter 27, for amending the laws relating to the stamp duties on newspapers, and providing for the transmission by post of printed periodical publications, power was given to Her Majesty's Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, at any time or time thereafter to make and issue such orders, regulations, conditions, and restrictions as he should deem to be necessary or expedient for the purpose of regulating the receipt, transmission, and delivery by post of periodical publications, under the provisions of that Act, or for preventing or detecting frauds or abuses in relation thereto, and for giving effect to the purposes of that Act, and also for the said Postmaster-General, with the like consent, from time to time to rescind or revoke all or any such orders, regulations, conditions, and restrictions, and to make and issue any new ones in lieu thereof; and it was provided that all periodical publications sent by post otherwise than in conformity with the terms, conditions, and regulations established by or under the authority of that Act might be detained by the Postmaster-General and any officer of the Post Office, and after being opened the same should be either returned to the senders thereof or forwarded to the place of their destination, charged with the like rates of postage as if the same were letters transmitted by the post, and that the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by Warrant under their hands, might authorize Her Majesty's Postmaster-General to charge in any such case any such less rate of postage as to him should seem fit; and it was also declared that the term "periodical publication" used in that Act, should be construed to mean and include (mongst other things) a newspaper as defined by the Acts in force relating to the stamp duties on newspapers;

And whereas certain orders, regulations, conditions, and restrictions have been from time to time made and issued by Her Majesty's Postmaster-General for the time being, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, for the purpose of regulating the receipt, transmission, and delivery by post of printed newspapers and certain printed periodical publications, under the provisions of the said last hereinbefore recited Act;

And whereas by the said orders, regulations, conditions, and restrictions so made and issued as aforesaid, it was ordered and declared that no newspapers transmitted by the post should have any word or communication printed thereon after the publication thereof, or upon any cover thereof, nor any writing or marks thereupon, or upon the cover thereof, other than the name and address of the person to whom sent, and except as therein also mentioned; and it was further ordered and declared that if any of the said regulations should be disregarded, the said newspapers, in certain cases therein mentioned. should be dealt with in accordance with the regulations contained in certain Treasury Warrants relating to the transmission by the post of book packets as therein mentioned;

And whereas the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to them in and by the said several hereinbefore recited Acts, some or one of them, and of all other powers enabling them in that behalf, have from time to time, by divers Warrants, in writing, under their hands, duly made, issued certain regulations, orders, directions, and conditions relating to the rates of postage and the mode and time of payment thereof, and to the mode and time of sending, under and subject to and in conformity with which certain newspapers might respectively, be transmitted by the post at lower rates than the letter rates of postage, and by which regulations newspapers so transmitted are prohibited in like manner from having any word or communication printed thereon after their publication, or upon the cover thereof, or any writing or marks upon them, or upon the covers of them, except the name and address of the person to whom sent;

And whereas in and by the said recited Warrants, some, or one of them, provision is made that where newspapers transmitted by the post, under the authority of the said respective Warrants, should not be transmitted in conformity with, and under and subject to, the regulations, orders, directions, and conditions therein, or in some or one of them respectively mentioned and contained, such newspapers should in certain cases be chargeable with a postage of double the amount of postage to which they would have been liable as letters if the postage had been paid by stamps when posted, and in certain other cases with certain other letter rates of postage therein, or in some or one of the said Warrants respectively mentioned;

And whereas it is expedient that power should be given to the Postmaster-General to charge newspapers transmitted by the post between places within the United Kingdom, and newspapers, British, Colonial, or Foreign, brought into the United Kingdom by British packet-boat, or private ship, or transmitted by the post between any ports or places beyond the sea through the United Kingdom, or transmitted by British packet-boat between any ports or places beyond the sea, without passing through the United Kingdom, and with respect to which the regulation hereinbefore mentioned has been infringed, with a less amount of postage at his discretion than some of the rates of postage now chargeable thereon in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said several hereinbefore recited Acts, any or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do by this Warrant, under the hands of two of us, the said Commissioners (by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided), order, direct, and declare as follows :—

1. In all cases where any newspapers, British, Colonial, or Foreign, brought into the United Kingdom by British packet-boat, or private ship, or transmitted by the post between any ports or places beyond the sea through the United Kingdom, or transmitted by British packet-boat between any ports or places beyond the sea, without passing through the United Kingdom, and in all cases where any newspapers transmitted by the post between places within the United Kingdom shall have any word or communication printed thereon after the publication thereof, or upon any cover thereof, or any writing or marks upon any such newspaper, or the cover thereof, other than the name and address of the person to whom sent (except the name or title of the newspaper, and the name and address of the publisher, newsvender, or agent, by whom sent, printed on the cover of any such newspaper), and shall by reason thereof have become liable to any increased rate of postage under or by virtue of any Warrant or Warrants of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury now in force, or under or by virtue of any order, regulation, condition, or restriction heretofore made by Her Majesty's Postmaster-General for the time being, with the consent of the said Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, the Postmaster-General for the time being shall, and may, and he is hereby authorized and empowered, at his discretion, in lieu of any postage heretofore charged thereupon, and payable under or by virtue of any such Warrant or Warrants, order, regulation, condition, or restriction, as last aforesaid, to charge any such newspaper with any other rate or amount of postage, or sum, which he shall think proper, not exceeding the rate or amount of postage to which such newspaper would have been liable as a letter, if the postage had been paid by stamps when posted, nor less than the rate or amount of postage which such newspapers would have been liable to or chargeable with if transmitted in conformity with the regulations in force relating to such newspapers, anything in any such last-mentioned Warrant or Warrants, order, regulation, condition, or restriction heretofore made, contained to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding.

And whereas by a certain other Warrant under the hands of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and bearing date at Whitehall Treasury Chambers, the 21st day of July, 1857, and by divers other Warrants in writing under the hands of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury since respectively made for regulating the duties of postage, and the transmission by the post of packets consisting of books, publications, and works of literature and art, between the United Kingdom and certain of Her Majesty's colonies, and also between certain of Her Majesty's colonies therein respectively mentioned, and also by a certain other Warrant under the hands of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and bearing date at Whitehall Treasury Chambers, the 16th day of October, 1857, and made for regulating the duties of postage and transmission by the post of packets, consisting of books, publications, and works of literature and art, between places within the United Kingdom. It was amongst other things ordered, directed, and declared, that the terms "books, publications, or works of literature or art," in those Warrants, or in certain other Warrants thereby referred to respectively used, should for the purposes of those Warrants respectively mean and comprise all such articles as in their general character were either literary, or consisted of printed written engraved or lithographed matter (although not strictly literary), including books (whether printed, written, or plain); publications or compilations (whether in print or in manuscript), almanacks, printed or lithographed letters, and such artistic productions as prints, maps, (whether on paper, or canvas, or cloth, and whether printed or written), and photographs, when not on glass, or in frames containing glass; and any description of paper, parchment, or vellum (whether printed, lithographed, written upon, or plain, or any mixture of the four; (together with any binding, mounting, or covering of or upon, or belonging to any such article or production, or any portion thereof, or of or belonging to any paper, parchment, or vellum, and including also any cases or rollers of prints or maps, book markers (whether of paper or otherwise), pencils, pens, or other thing usually appertaining to any such article or production, paper, parchment, or vellum, or necessary for its safe transmission, which should be sent in the same packet with any such article or production to which they or it should belong.

And whereas since the making of the said Warrants respectively a practice has obtained of putting printed matter upon leather and other substances and things not being paper parchment or vellum, and transmitting the same by the post under the privilege so given in and by the said several last hereinbefore recited Warrants, and it is expedient to make other regulations for preventing such abuses of the said privilege in manner hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the said Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us as aforesaid, do hereby further order, direct, and declare, as follows :—

2. In all cases where packets consisting of books, publications, or works of literature or art, may be transmitted by the post under the authority of any of such last-mentioned Warrants, whether the same be transmitted between the United Kingdom and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or between any of Her Majesty's colonies, or between any places within the United Kingdom, comprising prints or printed matter, such prints or printed matter shall consist only of prints or printed matter on paper, parchment, or vellum, and shall not comprise or include any printed matter on leather, cloth, canvas, or linen, or any other substance or thing whatsoever, except paper, parchment, or vellum, anything in the said last-mentioned Warrants respectively relating to any such packets, or any or either of them contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

3. In all cases in which any question shall hereafter arise, whether any article, matter, or thing transmitted by the post, under or by virtue of the said several warrants hereinbefore last-mentioned, or under or by virtue of this present Warrant, is entitled to the book-post privilege, and to be so transmitted within the intent and meaning of the said several last-mentioned Warrants, or of this present Warrant, or any or either of them, such question shall be referred to the determination of the Postmaster-General, whose decision thereupon shall be final and conclusive upon all parties.

4. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may by Warrant under their hands, duly made at any time, hereafter alter, repeal, or revoke the orders, regulations, and directions hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other rates, regulations, orders, directions, and conditions in lieu thereof, and from time to time appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

This Warrant shall come into operation on the second day of February next.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 20, 1863.

Whitehall, January 19, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the attainment of his Majority by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's Loyal and Devoted Servants, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Grantham, pray to be allowed to offer to your Majesty this fervent expression of our grateful joy for the blessing which has been granted to your Majesty and your dominions by the arrival at the age of Manhood of your eldest Son, The Prince of Wales.

Born to the noblest destiny on earth, nurtured by the tenderest and best of Mothers, guided and governed by the wisest and most accomplished of Fathers, he has received an education equal to his birth, and thus we earnestly trust, he has learned to appreciate the arduous but glorious duties of his station, and is prepared to undertake them, with humble, but firm reliance upon Him, by whom Kings reign and Princes decree justice.

Of this we are assured, by the exemplary conduct of his youth, and by the most important act of his life, the making an early choice of a Consort whom your Majesty has been pleased to welcome, as in every way worthy of his heart and throne.

That your Majesty may long live to rejoice in their happiness, and to continue to your subjects the blessings of your benign sway, is our devout and constant prayer.

Thomas Ekin, Mayor.

And the following on the same subject: from

The Board of Trustees of the Manchester Royal Infirmary, Dispensary, Lunatic Hospital or Asylum, and the Members of the Medical Profession, acting in connection with those Institutions.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. M. B. Sampson as Consul-General in England; of Mr. Juan Fairs as Consul in London; and of Mr. Juan Smith, jun., as Consul at Hull; for the Argentine Republic.

Foreign Office, January 17, 1863.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. James William Musson as Consul at Bermuda for His Majesty the King of Denmark.

The Queen has also been pleased to approve of Mr. Thomas Small as Vice-Consul at Lowestoft for His Royal Highness the Grand Duke of Mecklenburgh-Schwerin.

ORDER REGULATING THE USE OF LOCOMOTIVES WITHIN THE BOROUGH OF BURY ST. EDMUNDS.

WHEREAS it appears to me, the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that the use of Locomotives, unless restricted as hereinafter mentioned, on any highway within the limits of the borough of Bury St. Edmunds is dangerous and inconvenient to the public.

I do hereby, by virtue of the provisions of "The Locomotive Act, 1862," by this Order, under my hand, prohibit the use of any kind of Locomotive whatever propelled by steam, or any other than animal power, on the highways within the limits of the said borough at any time, except between the hours of nine at night and seven in the morning.

Given under my hand, at Whitehall, this 16th day of January, 1863.

Board of Trade, Whitehall, January 23, 1863.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's

Consul-General, in Norway, enclosing a translation of a Swedish Royal Decree, prohibiting the importation of corn brandy, and fixing as follows, the duties upon other kinds of brandies imported into Sweden:

In pottles or jars, without reference to strength, per pot, 21½ skillings.

In other packages, of a strength not exceeding 88 per cent., per lb., 12½ skillings.

For every half per cent. strength above 88, $\frac{1}{10}$ skilling additional per lb.

The strength to be determined by the authorized hydrometer.

If the wares are mixed with sugar or other ingredients causing the hydrometer to indicate incorrectly, the duty is to be paid as on spirits of 100 per cent. strength.

Tare on casks weighing from 250 lbs. or more, allowance is to be given of 15 per cent; on casks of less weight, 23 per cent.

The above resolution will come into force on the 1st February next, and remain in operation until the 1st April following.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 27, 1863.

Whitehall, January 26, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the attainment of his Majority by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Brecknock, in the principality of Wales, desire to convey our sincere and heartfelt congratulations on the attainment of his majority by your Royal Son, our own Prince.

We observe with the greatest satisfaction that your Majesty has sanctioned the Treaty for a Marriage between His Royal Highness and Her Royal Highness the Princess Alexandra of Denmark, and we feel assured that such a marriage is one of which not only the Principality, but the whole of your Majesty's dominions, has just reason to be proud.

We venture to hope that the time is not far distant when His Royal Highness may, in company with his future Bride be induced to visit the Principality, in order that the inhabitants thereof may have an opportunity of effectually demonstrating that the loyalty and attachment of which they pride themselves as a national characteristic, has not degenerated.

We trust that the life of your Majesty may be spared for many years to see realized in your noble son the fruits of that high moral, religious, and intellectual education which it has been the study of your Majesty, and your most deeply lamented Consort to inculcate, and that when the time shall come (which may God long avert) when he is called to ascend the Throne of this realm, he will emulate the deeds of his ancestors, and earn for himself a name as endearing to his country as that of Albert the Good.

Given under the Common Seal of the borough of Brecknock, this 29th day of December, 1862.

Wm. Pearce, K.H., Lieut.-Col. Retired, Mayor.

The Vicar, Churchwardens, and Representative Council of the parish of St. Pancras, Middlesex.

Foreign Office, January 27, 1863.

THE following Despatch has been received by Earl Russell from the British Vice-Consul at Shanghae:

No. 577. British Consulate,
My Lord, Shanghae, November 19, 1862.

I HAVE the honour to enclose for your Lordship's information a copy of my Despatch, No. 201, addressed to the Honourable F. W. A. Bruce.

I have, &c.,
JOHN MARKHAM,
Vice-Consul in Charge.

The Right Honourable Earl Russell,
Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, &c., &c., &c.

Victory gained by Combined Forces of Imperialists and Burgovine's Forces.

No. 201. British Consulate,
Sir, Shanghae, November 19, 1862.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that a large force of rebels, left Soochow, Hangchow, and Hoochow, heading by the Ting Wang, Mu Wang, and Ha Wang, for the purpose of attempting the recapture of Kahding and Tsingpo, and take if possible Sung Keong, Shanghae, and Paushun. They were to have assembled at Na-ziang and thence marched in three separate divisions on the above-named enterprise. Information being received that a large portion of this force had already reached Wangdo, between Tsingpo and Kahding, the Governor of the Province marched against them from this city in person, and Colonel Burgovine with a force of some 1,500 disciplined Chinese, simultaneously left Sung Keong for Tsingpo. Both parties fell in with the rebel force on the 16th instant, and after a hard fight of some hours the main body of rebels were dislodged from their position in a strong stockade by Colonel Burgovine's Artillery, and the whole force was utterly routed with immense loss. The Ting Wong was drowned, the Mu Wong badly wounded, and an extraordinary number of Chiefs killed and taken prisoners, the rebels having incautiously trusted to a floating bridge, which gave way at the first rush for escape. What with killed, prisoners, and deserters (chiefly the last), ten thousand only are said to have got away, and the Chinese authorities express their confidence that this victory will have the effect of keeping the 30 miles round Shanghae free from rebels for some time to come.

Colonel Burgovine's men are said to have behaved extremely well, and to have shewn great confidence in their officers. Their loss was trifling.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) JOHN MARKHAM,

Her Majesty's Vice-Consul in Charge.

The Honourable F. W. A. Bruce, C.B.,

Buckingham Palace, January 27, 1863.

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has been pleased to make the following appointments:

Sir William Dunbar, Bart., M.P., to be Keeper of the Privy Seal of His Royal Highness.

Sir William John Alexander, Bart., Q.C., to be Attorney-General of His Royal Highness.

To be the Council of His Royal Highness:

The Duke of Newcastle, K.G., Lord Warden of the Stannaries.

Sir William Dunbar, Bart., M.P., Keeper of the Privy Seal.

Sir William John Alexander, Bart., Q.C., Attorney-General.
Colonel the Honourable Sir Charles Beaumont Phipps, K.C.B., Receiver-General of the Duchy of Cornwall.
Lieutenant-General William Thomas Knollys, Comptroller and Treasurer of the Household of His Royal Highness.
The Lord Portman.

Whitehall, January 26, 1863.

The Queen has been pleased to present the Reverend Pascoe Grenfell Hill, B.A., to the rectory of Saint Edmund the King and Martyr with Saint Nicholas Acons, in the city and diocese of London, void by the death of the Reverend Thomas Hartwell Horne.

Board of Trade, Whitehall, January 26, 1863.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Acting Consul-General in Peru enclosing a translation of a Decree of the Peruvian Government extending to British vessels of less than 200 tons burden the privilege of national treatment, as regards port, light, tonnage, pilot, and quarantine dues.

Board of Trade, Whitehall, January 26, 1863.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires, at Hamburg, enclosing a copy of an ordinance recently passed by the Senate of Hamburgh, modifying, in various respects, the Customs' Laws of that State.

The principal alterations effected, are :—

(1.) Goods in transit, whether the property of citizens or imported on account of foreigners, may pass free of customs' duty.

(2.) The abolition of customs' duties on mohair yarn, mohair wool, slates, cement-stones, tufa stones, and the fat of whales, seals and walruses, for burning.

(3.) Ships wholly laden with rice, salt, or herrings, are to pay only half tonnage duty (viz., 1½d. per ton English).

(4). Ships arriving or departing in ballast are exempt from tonnage duty.

(5.) Ships not exceeding 60 commercial lasts burden (180 tons English), and taking no pilot, are exempted from pilotage duty.

The above alterations came into force on the 1st instant, and are to continue till the end of September next, equally with the other existing Customs' regulations.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to give orders for the appointment of Sir Roderick Impey Murchison, Knt., Director-General of the Geological Survey of the United Kingdom, and Director of the Royal School of Mines and Museum of Practical Geology, to be an Ordinary Member of the Civil Division of the Second Class, or Knights Commanders, of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath.

ORDER REGULATING THE USE OF LOCOMOTIVES WITHIN THE PARISHES OF MORDEN AND MITCHAM, IN THE COUNTY OF SURREY.

WHEREAS it appears to me, the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that the use of Locomotives, unless restricted as hereinafter mentioned, on any highway within the parishes of Morden and Mitcham, in the county of Surrey, is dangerous and inconvenient to the public.

I do hereby, by virtue of the provisions of "The Locomotive Act, 1861," by this Order, under my hand, prohibit the use of any kind of Locomotive whatever propelled by steam, or any other than animal power, in the highways within the limits of the said parishes, except between the hours of nine at night and eight in the morning.

Given under my hand, at Whitehall, this 31st of January, 1863,

Whitehall, January 13, 1863.

The Queen has been pleased to grant unto Frederic James Aldrich, Clerk, Master of Arts, Curate of Chingford, in the county of Essex, and to Louisa Blake Aldrich, his wife, daughter of William Morison, of Aberdeen, in North Britain, deceased, by Elizabeth, his wife, sister of Thomas Blake, formerly of the colony of British Guiana, and late of Loudoun-road, St. John's-wood, in the county of Middlesex, Esquire, also deceased, Her Royal licence and authority that they and their issue may, in compliance with a proviso contained in the last will and testament of the said Thomas Blake, the maternal uncle of the said Louisa Blake

Aldrich, take and henceforth use the surname of Blake in addition to and after that of Aldrich :

And to command that the said Royal concession and declaration be registered in Her Majesty's College of Arms, otherwise to be void and of none effect.

Board of Trade, Whitehall,
February 3, 1863.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received, from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of Regulations issued by the European Commissioners of the Danube to ensure the payment of the navigation dues on that river, of which the following is a translation:—

ART. 1.—The captain or master of every seagoing vessel, whatever may be its capacity, is required immediately after entering the Danube, to present his papers to the Accountant Agent of the Navigation Chest at Soulina. The Accountant Agent will insert in a register kept for the purpose, the name, nationality, and tonnage of the vessel, the nature and amount of the cargo (or state that she is in ballast), and the name of the captain or master. The vessels are inscribed year by year under a single series of numbers.

ART. 2.—The Accountant Agent will place upon the muster roll of every vessel entering the Danube a stamp bearing the words "Commission Européenne du Danube, Caisse de Navigation de Soulina," the date, and the number under which the vessel is inscribed upon the register mentioned in the preceding article.

ART. 3.—The muster roll must be presented to the Accountant Agent on the clearing of the vessel; the stamp affixed in accordance with Art. 2 will be cancelled, and the number of the counterfoil receipt will be delivered to the captain, or, in the case of vessels under 30 tons, the date of clearance will be inserted in the register referred to in Art. 1, opposite the vessel's name.

ART. 4.—Every sea-going ship found in the Danube, the muster roll of which is not stamped in conformity with Art. 2, or bears only cancelled stamps, will be liable to a penalty of 50 Dutch ducats.

ART. 5.—The penalty can be inflicted either by the Inspector-General of Navigation, or by the Captain of the port of Soulina.

These two officers may require at any moment the production of the muster rolls of any vessels which may be found in the Danube.

The amount of the fine must be paid into the Navigation Chest of Soulina before the vessel clears; and in case of appeal, the fine will be placed in the Chest as a deposit.

ART. 6.—The above regulations will come into force on the 1st January, 1863, and are not applicable either to ships of war or to steam-ships engaged in the mail service, and performing periodical voyages according to a published programme.

Board of Trade, Whitehall, February 3, 1863.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of an Order signed by the Belgian Minister of Finance, reducing the rate of duties levied on bottles and other objects of bottle glass, of French origin, imported into Belgium, of which the following is a translation: "It was stipulated by the Treaty of 1st May, 1861, R. 837, that the Belgian import duty on bottles and other objects of bottle glass of French origin should be reduced to 1 fr. per 100 kilos., in the event of the abolition of the supplementary duty levied in France by the terms of Art. 4 of the Treaty on similar articles of Belgian manufacture."

By an Imperial (French) Decree this supplementary duty has been suppressed from the 1st January, 1863.

In consequence and from that date, the import duty (in Belgium) fixed by the Treaty, on bottles and other objects of bottle glass, is reduced from 2 frs. to 1 fr. per 100 kilos.

SYDNEY,
Lord Chamberlain.

Whitehall, February 4, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the attainment of his Majority by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To Her Most Gracious Majesty the QUEEN.

AS Governor of the Military Knights of Windsor, I crave permission, on their part and my own, to approach your Majesty's sacred person to express the lively interest we all take in everything that contributes to the comfort and happiness of your Majesty and august family, and deeming the event of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales having attained his majority, such an one, humbly beg leave to express their most true and sincere congratulations on the occasion, and humbly hope your Most Gracious Majesty will condescend to accept the same from your most loyal and humble servants, the Military Knights of Windsor;—

Chas. Moore, Major, Governor M.K.W.

Lower Ward, Windsor Castle,
27th January, 1863.

The Speech of the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament, on Thursday, February 5, 1863.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

HER Majesty commands us to inform you that since you were last assembled She has declared Her consent to a Marriage between His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales and Her Royal Highness the Princess Alexandra, daughter of Prince Christian of Denmark; and Her Majesty has concluded thereupon a Treaty with the King of Denmark, which will be laid before you.

The constant proofs which Her Majesty has received of your attachment to Her person and family persuade Her that you will participate in Her sentiments on an event so interesting to Her Majesty, and which, with the blessing of God, will, She trusts, prove so conducive to the happiness of Her family and to the welfare of Her people.

Her Majesty doubts not that you will enable Her to make provision for such an establishment as you may think suitable to the rank and dignity of the Heir Apparent to the Crown of these realms.

A revolution having taken place in Greece, by which the Throne of that Kingdom has become vacant, the Greek Nation have expressed the strongest desire that Her Majesty's son, Prince Alfred, should accept the Greek Crown. This unsolicited and spontaneous manifestation of good-will towards Her Majesty and Her Family, and of a due appreciation of the benefits conferred by the principles and practice of the British Constitution, could not fail to be highly gratifying, and has been deeply felt by Her Majesty.

But the diplomatic engagements of Her Majesty's Crown, together with other weighty considerations, have prevented Her Majesty from yielding to this general wish of the Greek Nation.

Her Majesty trusts, however, that the same principles of choice which led the Greek Nation to direct their thoughts, in the first instance, towards His Royal Highness Prince Alfred may guide them to the selection of a Sovereign under whose sway the Kingdom of Greece may enjoy the blessings of internal prosperity, and of peaceful relations with other States; and if in such a state of things the Republic of the seven islands should declare a deliberate wish to be united to the Kingdom of Greece, Her Majesty would be prepared to take such steps as may be necessary for a revision of the Treaty of November, 1815, by which that Republic was re-constituted and was placed under the protection of the British Crown.

Her Majesty's relations with foreign Powers continue to be friendly and satisfactory.

Her Majesty has abstained from taking any step with a view to induce a cessation of the conflict between the contending parties in the North American states; because it has not yet seemed to Her Majesty that any such overtures could be attended with a probability of success.

Her Majesty has viewed with the deepest concern the desolating warfare which still rages in those regions; and She has witnessed with heartfelt grief the severe distress and suffering which thawar has inflicted upon a large class of Her Majesty's subjects, but which have been borne by them with noble fortitude and with exemplary resignation. It is some consolation to Her Majesty to be led to hope that this suffering and this distress are rather diminishing than increasing; and that some revival of employment is beginning to take place in the manufacturing districts.

It has been most gratifying to Her Majesty to witness the abundant generosity with which all classes of Her subjects in all parts of Her Empire have contributed to relieve the wants of their suffering fellow-countrymen; and the liberality with which Her Majesty's Colonial subjects have, on this occasion, given their aid has proved that, although their dwelling-places are far away, their hearts are still warm with unabated affection for the land of their fathers.

The relief committees have superintended with constant and laborious attention the distribution of the funds entrusted to their charge.

Her Majesty commands us to inform you that she has concluded with the King of the Belgians a Treaty of Commerce and Navigation, and a Convention respecting Joint Stock Companies. That Treaty and that Convention will be laid before you.

Her Majesty has likewise given directions that there shall be laid before you papers relating to the affairs of Italy, of Greece, and of Denmark, and that papers shall also be laid before you relating to occurrences which have been lately taken place in Japan.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

Her Majesty has directed that the estimates for the ensuing year shall be laid before you. They have been prepared with a due regard to economy, and will provide for such reductions of expenditure as have appeared to be consistent with the proper efficiency of the Public Service.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

We are commanded by Her Majesty to inform you, that notwithstanding the continuance of the civil war in North America, the general commerce of the country during the past year has not sensibly diminished.

The Treaty of Commerce which Her Majesty concluded with the Emperor of the French has already been productive of results highly advantageous to both the nations to which it applies; and the general state of the revenue, notwithstanding many unfavourable circumstances, has not been unsatisfactory.

Her Majesty trusts that these results may be taken as proofs that the productive resources of the country are unimpaired.

It has been gratifying to Her Majesty to observe the spirit of order which happily prevails throughout Her dominions, and which is so essential an element in the well-being and prosperity of nations.

Various measures of public usefulness and improvement will be submitted for your consideration; and Her Majesty fervently prays that in all your deliberations the blessing of Almighty God may guide your counsels to the promotion of the welfare and happiness of Her people.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 3rd day of February, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

THIS day His Grace William, Archbishop of York, and Sir Andrew Buchanan, K.C.B.,

Her Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to His Majesty the King of Prussia, were, by Her Majesty's command, sworn of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and took their places at the Board accordingly.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 3rd day of February, 1863.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order, upon the petition of the Justices of the Peace acting in and for the West Riding of the county of York, that the townships or places of Brighouse, Sherburn, Tadcaster, Bilton-with-Harrogate, Boroughbridge, Sowerby Bridge, and Scissett, in the said West Riding, shall be polling places for the said riding; and that Sedbergh, in the Dent polling district, in the said riding, shall be the polling place for that district, instead of Dent; and also that Dobcross, in the New Delph polling district, in the said riding, shall be the polling place for that district, instead of New Delph; and that the said townships or places of Dent and New Delph, and also the township or place of Aerford, in the said riding, shall cease to be polling places for the said riding.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 3rd day of February, 1863.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that from and after the 19th day of February, 1863, the County Court of Denbighshire shall cease to be holden at Ruabon, and the parishes and places now forming the district of the County Court of Denbighthire, holden under the name of "The County Court of Denbighshire holden at Ruabon," shall be consolidated with and form part of the district of the County Court of Denbighshire, holden at Wrexham, and known by the name of "The County Court of Denbighshire, holden at Wrexham."

Also that, from and after the 1st day of April, 1863, so much of the district of the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Cheadle, as is contained within a line drawn from the point where the turnpike road leading from Sandon to Leek crosses the southern boundary of the parish of Caverswall; thence northward, from the said point, along the middle of the said road, till it meets the road leading from Weston Coyney to Adderley-green and Bucknall; thence, westward, along the middle of the last-mentioned road till it crosses the western boundary of the said parish of Caverswall; thence, southward, along the western and southern boundaries of the said parish to the point first described, shall be in the district of the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Stoke-upon-Trent.

Also that, from and after the 1st day of April, 1863, the County Court of Staffordshire, holden at Stoke-upon-Trent, shall be holden at Longton, as well as at Stoke-upon-Trent.

Also that, from and after the 1st day of April, 1863, the County Court of Hampshire, holden at Newport shall be holden at Ryde as well as at Newport; and the County Court of Devonshire, holden at Newton Abbott, shall be holden at Torquay as well as at Newton Abbott.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 3rd day of February, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the 410th Section of "The Merchant Shipping Act, 1854," it is enacted, that upon the completion of any new lighthouse, buoy, or beacon, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, fix such dues in respect thereof to be paid by the master or owner of any ship which passes the same or derives benefit therefrom as Her Majesty may deem reasonable, and may, from time to time, alter the amount thereof, and that such dues shall be paid and collected in the same manner, by the same means, and subject to the same conditions, in, by, and subject to which the light dues authorized to be levied by the said Act, are paid and collected. And whereas by the 411th section of the said Act, it is enacted that no dues for any lighthouse, buoy, or beacon to be erected or placed in or near the islands of Guernsey, Jersey, Sark or Alderney, shall be taken in the said Islands of Guernsey or Jersey without the consent of the States of the said islands respectively, nor shall any of the powers thereinbefore given to the Trinity House, in respect of any lighthouse, buoy, or beacon erected or placed in the Islands of Guernsey or Jersey, or thereafter to be erected or placed in such islands, be exercised without the consent of Her Majesty in Council; and whereas the Corporation of the Trinity House of Deptford Strond, has, under the provisions of the said Act, erected a new lighthouse on the Hanois Rocks, off the west end of the Island of Guernsey, and a light is already exhibited therein: Now, therefore, Her Majesty, in exercise of the powers vested in her by the said recited Act, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to direct that there shall be paid, in respect of the said lighthouse, for every vessel, whether British or foreign passing from any port in the United Kingdom to any port west and south of Cape La Hague to Saint Brieux inclusive, when navigated to the westward of Guernsey, and vice versâ, for every such voyage, and for every vessel whether British or foreign passing from any port between Saint Brieux and Brest or from any port not in the United Kingdom west or south of Ushant and also passing to the eastward of an imaginary line drawn from the Bill of Portland to Cape La Hague, for every such voyage the toll of four-sixteenths of a penny per ton of the burden of every such vessel. And that the said tolls in respect of the said lighthouse shall be levied by the Corporation of the Trinity House of Deptford Strond, subject to the restriction on taking dues in the islands of Guernsey and Jersey contained in the 411th section of the said recited Act, and also subject to the gross abatement or discount of sixty per cent., mentioned in an Order in Council made under the authority of the said recited Act, and dated the twenty-fifth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, and subject also to the regulations and exemptions contained in the Consolidated Tables of Light Duties sanctioned by an Order in Council, dated the twenty-sixth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, and to the further exemption sanctioned by an Order in Council, dated the twelfth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine. And Her Majesty, in exercise of the said powers, and by and with the advice aforesaid, is further pleased to declare her consent to the exercise by the Corporation of the Trinity House of Deptford Strond, in respect of the said lighthouse, of all powers in the 411th section of the said recited Act referred to, as thereinbefore given to the Trinity House.

Edmund Harrison.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 3rd day of February, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the "Passengers' Act, 1855," it is amongst other things enacted, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by any Order in Council, to prescribe such rules and regulations as to Her Majesty may seem fit, for preserving order, promoting health, and securing cleanliness and ventilation on board of passenger ships proceeding from the United Kingdom, to any port or place in Her Majesty's possessions abroad; and the said rules and regulations from time to time in like manner to alter, amend, and revoke, as occasion may require.

And whereas, it is expedient to make provision for preserving order in private passenger ships conveying to the colony of Victoria, in Australia, as many as ten unprotected female passengers.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty doth, by, and with the advice of her Privy Council, and in pursuance and exercise of the authority vested in her by the said "Passengers' Act, 1855," order, and it is hereby ordered that in addition to the rules prescribed in the Order in Council, dated the twenty-fifth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, the rules hereinafter contained shall be observed in respect to unprotected female passengers on board such ships as last aforesaid.

1. In the construction, and for the purposes of this Order in Council, the term "unprotected Female Passengers," shall signify every female passenger between the ages of twelve and thirty-five, proceeding to the colony of Victoria, by virtue of a Passenge Warrant issued by the Government of that colony, who, if married, shall not be accompanied by her husband, or if unmarried, shall not be accompanied by her father or stepfather, or by a married brother with his wife, or a married sister with her husband, or by an unmarried brother over the age of twenty-five; the terms "Passengers," "Passenger Ship," and "Master," shall have the same significations as are assigned to them respectively in the said Passengers' Act, 1855, and words used in the plural number shall import the singular number also, and the converse, unless inconsistent with the context.

2. All unprotected female passengers shall, during the voyage, be berthed in open berths, in a compartment in the aftermost part of the upper passenger deck of the ship, effectually divided off by substantial bulkheads from the other portions of such deck; and no single men, or men without their wives, shall be berthed next to the bulkhead dividing off such compartment.

3. The children under twelve years of age of married female passengers, unaccompanied by their husbands, shall be berthed with their mothers.

4. There shall be an entrance to such compartment from the upper deck or poop, exclusively appropriated to the use of such female passengers.

5. There shall be carried on board a Matron, to be appointed by the owner or master of the ship, and to be charged with the maintenance of discipline among such female passengers as aforesaid.

6. No unprotected female passenger shall on any account be allowed to act, or shall act as servant or attendant on the surgeon, master, or any of the officers of the ship, or on any male cabin passenger.

7. All intercourse between unprotected female passengers and any of the officers or crew of the ship, or between such females and any of the male passengers (except brothers or brothers-in-law, and in case of unprotected married women, their children) is hereby strictly prohibited.

8. The master of the ship, before sailing, shall, with the approval of the Emigration Officer at the port of clearance, mark out the portion of the poop or main deck to be assigned for the purpose of exercise to such unprotected female passengers, who, during the voyage, shall keep within the limits so marked out.

9. Before dark, all such female passengers as aforesaid shall go below to their own compartment, and as soon as they are there collected, the master shall lock the entrance, and on no account shall any man enter the compartment during the night, except the surgeon in case of illness, or the officers and crew in case danger to the ship shall render their entrance necessary.

10. If the surgeon is required to attend professionally any of such unprotected female passengers at night, the matron shall accompany and remain with him while he discharges his duties.

11. The master of the ship shall afford to the matron and to the surgeon all the assistance in his power in carrying these regulations into effect.

12. Any person who shall refuse or neglect to obey any of the rules herein contained, or who shall obstruct the surgeon or master of the ship in the execution of any duty hereby imposed on them respectively, or who shall be guilty of insubordinate conduct, shall, on conviction, be liable for each offence to the penalties of fine and imprisonment, imposed by the said Passengers' Act, 1855.

13. This Order in Council shall not apply to ships chartered by Her Majesty's Emigration Commissioners.

Arthur Helps.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 3rd day of February, 1863.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to approve the representation duly prepared (as set forth in this Gazette) by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England—

As to the assignment of a consolidated chapelry to the consecrated church of Saint John the Evangelist, situate at Pool Quay, in the parish of Guilsfield, in the county of Montgomery, and in the diocese of Saint Asaph.

Also a representation, duly prepared by the said Commissioners, as to the assignment of a district chapelry to the consecrated church of Saint Anne, situate at Bowden Hill, in the parish of Lacock, in the county of Wilts, and in the diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, to be named "The District Chapelry of Saint Anne, Bowden Hill."

Also a representation as to the assignment of a district chapelry to the consecrated church of Saint Paul, situate in the parish of All Saints, in the town and county of the town of Southampton, and in the diocese of Winchester, to be named "The District Chapelry of Saint Paul, Southampton."

Also a scheme for authorizing the sale and disposal of certain property vested in the said Commissioners.

Also a representation as to the assignment of a district chapelry to the consecrated church situate at Great Horton, in the township of Horton, in the parish of Saint Peter, Bradford, in the county of York, and in the diocese of Ripon, "to be named "The District Chapelry of Great Horton."

Also a scheme for compensating the Reverend Osborne John Tancock, Doctor of Civil Law, the Vicar or Incumbent of the vicarage of the parish of Tavistock, in the county of Devon, and in the diocese of Exeter, for the loss of certain fees, dues, or other emoluments which has been occasioned by reason of proceedings under the said Act.

Also a representation as to the assignment of a consolidated chapelry to the consecrated church of Saint Mark, situate at Dolphinholme, in the new parish of Ellel, in the county of Lancaster, and in the diocese of Manchester, to be named "The Consolidated Chapelry of Saint Mark, Dolphinholme."

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 3rd day of February, 1863.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that a petition of the Town Council of the borough of Newcastle-under-Lyme, in the county of Stafford representing that there is difficulty and inconvenience in providing the requisite and sufficient places of burial for the inhabitants of the said parishes of Stoke-upon-Trent and Newcastle-under-Lyme, and praying that powers may be vested in the said Town Council for providing such place or places of burial, under the provisions of the various Acts of Parliament relating to burials as shall be deemed requisite for the inhabitants of the said parishes of Stoke-upon-Trent and Newcastle-under-Lyme, should be taken into consideration by a Committee of the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, on the twenty-third day of March next.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 3rd day of February, 1863.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that the time for the discontinuance of burials in the undermentioned churchyards be postponed as follows; viz.:

In the churchyard of Dalston, Cumberland, from the thirty-first of January to the thirtieth of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three. In the churchyard of Oadby, Leicestershire, from the thirty-first of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 3rd day of February, 1863.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that the representation of the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State (as set forth in this Gazette), that no new burial-ground should be opened in the undermentioned parish, without the previous approval of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and that interments in the same should be discontinued, with the following modifications, viz.:

Forthwith in the churchyard of Saint Giles, SHREWSBURY, except in now existing vaults and brick graves in which each coffin shall be embedded in charcoal and entombed by concrete, or by masonry properly cemented.

should be taken into consideration by a Committee of the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, on the sixteenth day of March next.

War Office, 6th February, 1863.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to signify Her intention to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross on the undermentioned Seaman of the Royal Navy, whose claim to the same has been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, for his gallant conduct at the capture of Fung-wha, in China, as recorded against his name; viz.:

George Hinckley, Able Seaman of Her Majesty's sloop "Sphinx."—For volunteering, while under the East Gate of the city of Fung-wha, to carry to a joss house, a hundred and fifty yards distant, under a heavy and continuous fire of musketry, gingalls and stink-pots, Mr. Coker, Master's Assistant of the "Sphinx," who had been wounded in the advance to the gate; in which object Hinckley succeeded. On his return to the gate, under a similar fire, he again volunteered, and succeeded in carrying to the joss-house Mr. Bremen, an officer of Ward's force, who had been also wounded in the advance on the gate; and he again returned to his post under the gate.—Date of Act of Bravery, 9th October, 1862.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of FEBRUARY 13, 1863.

War Office, 12*th February*, 1863.

A DESPATCH has been received by the Secretary of State for War, from Brigadier-General Staveley, C.B., Commanding Her Majesty's Troops in China, of which the following is a copy:

Head-Quarters, Kading,
December 5th, 1862.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report, for your information, that the country around Shanghai within the circuit of the captured towns, has remained clear of the rebels since my last report.

I am now patrolling the country with a field force, strength as per margin,* under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Hough, 2nd Belooch Regiment, accompanied by a force of similar strength under Captain Fancon, of the French navy, with two objects; one, I consider that our appearance every now and then in different parts of the country will deter the rebels from entering it; and the other, to enable Captain Gordon, R.E., to get the country mapped in.

* 162 Rank and File, 31st Regiment; 150 Rank and File, 2nd Belooch Regiment; 4 Mountain Guns, with proportion of Royal Artillery.

On the 30th ult., the force marched from Shanghai to Lukuhong; on the 1st instant, from Lukuhong to Lotien; the 2nd, being wet, the force remained at Lotien until the 3rd, when it marched to Kading, and from thence, on the 4th, to Ludong.

Captain Gordon, R.E., surveyed the road from the last-named place to the mouth of the Leho River, whither a gun-boat had been sent to clear the Town of Leho of rebels, should any be there.

A small party were found there, as also at Ludong, but they withdrew so soon as we appeared.

To-day the force moves back to Kading, and goes round in the direction of Tsoing-poo, back to Shanghai, which latter place it will reach in five days' hence.

The health of the field force is excellent, as is also that of the troops generally.

I have, &c.,

C. STAVELEY, Brigadier-General,

Commanding Her Majesty's Troops in China.

The Right Honourable the Secretary

Extract from a Despatch addressed to Earl Russell by Admiral the Honourable E. A. J. Harris, Her Majesty's Minister in Switzerland, dated Berne, January 29, 1863, respecting "Cartes de Séjours" and Passports.

"THE Decree of the Swiss Federal Council, dated April 16, 1862, states that it is no longer necessary for foreign travellers to exhibit passports either on the frontier or in the interior; but the Cantonal Governments still retain the power of requiring from those who prolong their residence beyond the period indicated by the laws of each Canton, the exhibition of passports or papers for the purpose of obtaining 'Cartes de Séjour,' for which a fee is to be paid. In the case of British subjects under the Treaty of 1856, the scale of fees is the same as that demanded from Swiss Citizens of other Cantons."

Foreign Office, February 10, 1863.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. Lewis T. Imossi, as Consul at Gibraltar for the Argentine Republic.

Board of Trade, Whitehall,
February 23, 1863.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Major Stokes, enclosing the following translation of certain Regulations which have been issued by the European Commission of the Danube, relative to the discharge of ballast in the waters of that river and in the Sulina roads; these Regulations being supplementary to that of the 29th April, 1858.

ART. 1.—Vessels are peremptorily forbidden to discharge their ballast either in the bed of the river or in the Sulina roadstead. They are equally forbidden to discharge ballast in the sea near the roadstead where the depth is less than 10 fathoms.

The discharge of ballast on shore above the port of Sulina, may only take place at such points along the river bank as shall be decided on by the Inspector-General of Navigation,—of which public notice will be given.

Ballast so discharged must be so far removed from the river that the foot of its slope shall be at least 20 feet distant from the natural river bank.

ART. 2.—Every infraction of the provisions of the Regulation of 29th April, 1858, and of those of the preceding Article shall be punished by a fine of from 10 to 50 Dutch ducats. The fine shall be of 100 ducats for a repetition of the offence during the same voyage.

ART. 3.—The Captain of the Port of Sulina will inflict fines incurred for infractions committed in the Port of Sulina, on the roadstead, or in its neighbourhood. Fines incurred for infractions committed in the river between Isaktcha and the Port of Sulina, will be inflicted by the Inspector-General of the Navigation.

The Inspector-General and his superintendents are authorized to demand from the shipmasters the certificates prescribed by Art. 3 of the Regulation of 29th April, 1858.

Art. 4.—The fines shall be paid into the Sulina Navigation Chest, to be applied to the maintenance of the Seamen's Hospital.

In case of an appeal against the infliction of a fine, the amount of the same must be handed over to the Navigation Chest as a deposit.

If the appeal is not lodged within 15 days from the date of its notification to the offender, the amount thereof shall definitively accrue to the Navigation Chest.

Art. 5.—Appeals against the fines inflicted by the Inspector-General of the Navigation and the Captain of the Port of Sulina must be made to the European Commission of the Danube.

Art. 6.—All the provisions of the Regulation of 29th April, 1858, not affected by these present dispositions, shall still remain in force.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1858.

Correction in Notice of adoption of the Local Government Act, 1858, by Barton-upon-Humber, inserted in the London Gazette of 9th January, 1863:

In lieu of the words "parish of Barton-upon-Humber," insert "Saint Peter's and Saint Mary's respectively in Barton-upon-Humber;" and in lieu of the word "parish" where subsequently used in such Notice, insert the word "place."

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of FEBRUARY 27, 1863.

Whitehall, February 26, 1863.

THE following Address of Congratulation to the Queen, on the attainment of his Majority by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, has accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty.

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens of the city of Manchester, approach your Majesty with feelings of profound respect and loyal affection.

We humbly offer to your Majesty our most sincere and cordial congratulations, on the happy attainment of his majority by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

In common with our fellow countrymen of every degree, we have witnessed with satisfaction and delight the earnest, assiduous, and religious care with which your Majesty, aided by the wise counsels of your late lamented husband, the accomplished and virtuous Prince Consort, has watched over and conducted the education of your Majesty's royal children. We cherish the conviction that, among the many conspicuous blessings conferred upon us as a nation, during your Majesty's glorious reign, there are none which will be dearer to your Majesty's heart, than the happy results of your Majesty's unfailing solicitude, as displayed in the character of your amiable and distinguished son, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

That His Royal Highness may long live in health, happiness, and prosperity, to assist your Majesty in your exalted and arduous station by his support and sympathy, and that your Majesty may be spared, by a gracious Providence, to enjoy for many years the loyal attachment and gratitude of your Majesty's devoted subjects, is our humble and heartfelt prayer.

Given under our Common Seal, this 10th day of November, 1862.

Abel Heywood, Mayor.

Jos. Heron, Town Clerk.

And the following on the same subject:—

Foreign Office, Februury 27, 1863.

IT is hereby notified that Earl Russell, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has received from Her Majesty's Minister at Washington, a Despatch, dated Washington, February 6, 1863 (of which the following is an Extract), enclosing a copy of a Note from Mr. Seward, dated the 5th of February, respecting the Blockade of the Port of Galveston.

"I have the honour to enclose a copy of a Note "which I received at two o'clock this afternoon "from Mr. Seward, stating that the Blockade of "Galveston was 'resumed immediately, and will "'be continued until further notice.'"

Department of State, Washington,
February 5, 1863.

My Lord,

AS opinions may be entertained by Merchants interested in trade to the Port of Galveston, in Texas, that the blockade of that port by a United States naval force may, in consequence of recent events in that quarter, have been interrupted, I have the honour to acquaint you, with a view to obviate embarrassments to neutral commerce, which might be occasioned by such opinions, that the blockade was resumed immediately, and will be continued until further notice. Although due notice of such resumption will probably have been given by the commander of the blockading squadron to vessels which may attempt to enter Galveston, it is deemed advisable to communicate a similar notice to your Lordship.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) W. H. SEWARD.

The Lord Lyons.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1858.

Notice is given in this Gazette by the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that the Local Government Act, 1858, has been duly adopted within the borough of Oswestry, in the county of Salop.—Dated the 26th day of February, 1863.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MARCH 3, 1863.

Foreign Office, February 28, 1863.

EARL RUSSELL has received a letter and its inclosures from the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, of which the following are copies, containing a report by Lieutenant Lefroy, Commanding Her Majesty's ship "Investigator," of his recent ascent of the River Niger to communicate with Dr. Baikie:

The Secretary to the Admiralty to Mr. Hammond.

SIR, Admiralty, January 14, 1863.

I AM commanded by my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to send you herewith, for the information of the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a letter from Lieutenant B. L Lefroy, of Her Majesty's ship "Investigator," dated the 26th of October last, reporting his proceedings relative to the Niger Expedition.

I am, &c.

(Signed) C. PAGET.

Inclosure 1.

Lieutenant Lefroy to the Secretary to the Admiralty.

"Investigator," Sierra Leone,

SIR, December 21, 1862.

I HAVE the honour to inclose a copy of my despatch concerning the Niger Expedition, for their Lordships' information, as I know it will not be possible for the Commodore to forward those I sent him by this mail.

I have, &c.

(Signed) B. L. LEFROY.

Inclosure 2.

Lieutenant Lefroy to Commodore Edmonstone.

"Investigator," Lagos Roads,

SIR, October 26, 1862.

IN compliance with orders received from you, relative to the Niger Expedition, dated 4th August, which orders I received from the senior officer on the 26th August, on the following day, being manned, coaled, and provisioned by Her Majesty's ship "Brisk," I started for Fernando Po, to pick up the remainder of Dr. Baikie's goods, and fill up with coals. Arrived off the Nun river on the evening of the 31st, and communicated with Her Majesty's ship "Brisk." On the following morning received provisions and took Mr. McCoskry's large boat in tow with coals. On the afternoon of the same day, having Captain Luce, R.N., on board, I proceeded over the Nun Bar, and found it very heavy. Anchored for the night off the Rev. Mr Crowther's Missionary Establishment, which gentleman came on board, and begged a passage for himself and thirty-six of his followers, as far as the Confluence, which request I considered judicious to grant. On the 2nd September I commenced the ascent of the Niger. When about two miles up, stopped, and Captain Luce left for the Brass River. Proceeded at full speed. Found this part of the river low, swampy, aud lined by the mangrove as far as Sunday Sound. Passed a few small, wretched villages, the water washing round them. At 6·30 P.M., anchored a mile above Akedo, having made twenty-eight miles, current about two and a-half knots.

Wednesday, September 3.—Got under weigh at 5·30 A.M. General aspect of country same as day previous. Ground gradually becoming more elevated. Passed the hostile villages, Kpetema, which we found temporarily deserted, the inhabitants having retired into the bush at our approach. After passing, observed numbers of men returning to the town with muskets, and shortly after heard report, and saw smoke of, I think, a 6-pounder. Passed the villages of Opoporoma; they saluted with three guns, and seemed glad to see us, the Chief pulling after us to Angiama, which place I stopped at for a few minutes, as a Treaty had been made by "Bloodhound" in November 1860. They seemed anxious to communicate, and appeared dis appointed we were not a trade ship. The factory is still standing, and they hope for trade again. They told me they were very angry with the traders from Brass, as they consider they were the means of the factory being broken up, for which cause they will not trade with them. At all the other villages we observed canoes from Brass laden with palm oil. Aetween Asasi and Tuesday Sound, where the "Espoir" got aground, we had 3½ fathoms. Most of the villages hoisted a white flag, and the natives of all stood on the banks as we passed. At 6 P.M. anchored about two miles above Sabogrega. Made forty-four miles; strong current against us all day.

September 4.—Started at 5·30 A.M. Passed the hostile villages of Oloberi, also those of Imblamah, which had white flags up, and the natives stood fearlessly on the river bank. The village of Agberi, which fired on "Rainbow," had a white flag hoisted, I also observed canoes from Brass with palm-oil casks. After passing Agberi, I found less current in centre of river. Found it very hot on bridge up to 1 30 P.M., when we had a sharp shower, which reduced the temperature in shade from 90° to 84°. Above Truro Island the aspect of the country changes, trees are not so numerous, with a fine expanse of water; the first grass-land we passed at 2P.M., and although not actually clear of the Delta, yet it is a decided improvement on the sameness of the lower part of the river. 3·30, heavy tornado; wind not so violent as at sea, but torrents of rain; it lasted some time. Abreast of second grass-land, the country becomes more open; trees of a larger description present themselves, and, as we near Ibo, the river expands considerably. Anchored at 6.30 P.M., off Abi's Farm. Made forty-two miles.

September 5.—Started at 5·30 A.M.; thermometer 73° Fahrenheit. Passed Ibo early. This is the furthest town up the river to trade with by the Brass merchants, and evidently the Liverpool of the Delta, as it has a large trade up and down the river. Passed the town of Asonaro, which is at war with Ibo; also Abenso, from where we observed for the first time land of a mountainous nature in the distance. Here the river gets broad and noble-looking. We arrived at 6·15 at Onitsha, and sent some of Mr. Crowther's Party on shore. Made forty-eight miles; found the current very strong here.

September 6.—Started from Onitsha at 5·45 A.M.; thermometer 75°. Heard that Aju, Chief of Ibo, was dead, the man that plundered Mr. Laird's factory in 1860, and that tried to detain Mr. Southwick when sent on shore from "Espoir." The first open land appeared below Miller Point, above Walker Island. The river is broad, but rather shallow. Monte Video Mountain was scarcely visible, owing to the cloudiness of the atmosphere. Thermometer at noon 84°, and at 3 P.M. 89° in the shade. We generally have a smart shower each afternoon, which cools the air. The current has not been so strong to-day, owing to the course being straighter; we have been going eight knots. Just above Agane a large sheet of water presents itself, and the land around us very mountainous. Passed several large canoes going down the river. Anchored at 6·30 P.M, hear the head o Arka Island, having made fifty-two miles.

September 7.—Started at 5·30 A.M.; thermometer 74° in shade. At 7 A.M. passed the large town of Iddah, supposed to contain upwards of 10,000 inhabitants, situated on a pretty hill 127 feet in height. There is a large plain on the south side. The houses are round, and the natives dressed in the blue cloth of the country. This place might be made the key of the Niger, as the deep water channel is very narrow, so that the town entirely commands it. Igara is the name of the country, and the King of Iddah's territory reaches as far as the Confluence. The scenery about Shooter's Sound is of a fine picturesque description; hills, thickly wooded valleys, and mountains steep and rocky. Mount Preedy, in the distance, is conical shaped, about 800 feet in height. The natives have been down on the banks in great numbers as we passed. The country here might be turned to good account, and, from what I have heard, the natives would be glad to work the ground, only they are prevented by fear of King Massaba, who sends down his horsemen in the dry season, and takes them for slaves. The land opposite Beauford Sound grows guinea corn, and the island itself has several farms on it. The navigation here is very unpleasant, owing to the number of rocks, and some of them a wash. From Beauford Sound upward the country still continues mountainous, and of a very rocky nature. Current strong. About four knots from Maconachee Sound I first observed Mount Patte, at the foot of which Dr. Baikie has his settlement, called by the natives Lukoja. At 5·20 P.M. landed the Rev. Mr. Crowther and party at Gbebe (Confluence), and then proceeded to Dr. Baikie's place, three miles higher up, and on the west side of the river; anchored and sent the gig on shore. Found Dr. Baikie was not there; men who had been left in charge of his place said he had gone up the country, but could not say in what direction more than that he left for Bida last September, and had not since been heard of.

September 9.—Came to the determination it was only wasting time remaining at the Confluence; determined to proceed to Rabba, as I was unlikely to gain any information respecting Dr. Baikie here, and knowing King Massaba could give me every particular of his whereabouts, and also in case of my not seeing him I would have a responsible Chief, with whom to leave his goods. Weighed at 5 A.M., and found a great difference not having the boat in tow, being able to go 9·8 knots. The country to-day is flat, splendid ground for rice. The river up here was much flooded. At 5·20 P.M. anchored off Egga; sent messenger to the King requesting he would send fresh beef and wood in the morning, which he promised. Made seventy-five miles this day.

September 10.—Remained at anchor till 1·30 P.M., in hopes of getting some wood, but it came off in such small quantities, and the charges were so exorbitant, I did not consider myself justified in purchasing it. At 1·30 P.M. proceeded up the river. At 5·15 P.M. anchored off a small village called Eghon, and sent kroomen on shore to cut wood, which they did all night.

September 11.—5.15 A.M. started this day; having come to the last of Lieutenant Glover's charts that are printed, we had to proceed with more caution, as Lieutenant Allen's charts are of little service, owing to their being on such a small scale. Anchored for the night off Pascha.

September 12.—Started for Rabba at 8 A.M. Rain in the morning very heavy. The natives here seem much finer, better featured, and not so dark as the coast men. The women rub a kind of fine red clay over their bodies. At 1 P.M. anchored off Rabba, well clear of the shore. It is situated on high ground, with red cliffs close to it. The King of Rabba sent messengers off to salute me, and Massaba's headman also called on me.

Made arrangements for sending a messenger to King Massaba, who was encamped five days' journey from Rabba, informing him of my arrival, and requesting that he would send horses, as I intended paying him a visit.

From the 12th to the 17th September nothing of importance occurred: remained at anchor waiting for horses. On the afternoon of the latter date the messenger arrived with them; but owing to an attack of fever, I was unable to start till the 19th, when we commenced our journey, and reached the village of Mokwa, our party consisting of Mr. Southwick, Acting Second Master, five kroomen, three guides, and myself. Started on the following morning at 7 A.M. for Dzuguma, a town distant about twenty miles. On the way met War Chiefs, sent by King Massaba to conduct me to him, accompaied by one of Dr. Baikie's men, who spoke English; passed through tracks of cultivated land, consisting chiefly of guinea corn and cotton, the latter particularly is raised in great abundance through these districts. Reached Dzuguma at noon, having travelled during the day in a northerly direction. This town is situated on a very fine river called Accoa, with a bridge across it.

On the 21st September reached the town of Baga, twelve miles distant from Dzuguma, still proceeding northward, the country wild, and uncultivated bush land and high grass, road so narrow, only admitting the passage of one horse.

On the 22nd September arrived at the large town of Egbe, containing about 6,000 inhabitants, some fourteen miles from the town we stopped at the night previous; country less wooded, and of a more level description than that we travelled through the day before. Egbe is situated on a small stream called Damba. Our route this day lay in a northerly direction.

On the 23rd had a long dreary ride of twenty-six miles under a scorching sun, through a forest of small trees; saw quantities of monkeys and beautiful birds. Arrived at 5 p.m. at the village Tanga Auxallos, on the river Manullar, a very fine-looking stream. We are out of Nupe country to-day, and are now in Ebbé. All the villages we passed through have been lately taken by Massaba. Sent this morning my messenger on to the King, to inform him of my approach. Our journey this day still continued in a north-easterly direction.

September 24.—Feeling rather ill this morning, I was much pleased to think this day would terminate my tedious journey, but was sadly disappointed at reaching Likoro to find the King's messenger waiting to inform me that it was his wish that I should proceed no further that day, but remain and sleep for the night. We travelled twelve miles in a northerly direction.

September 25. At 7 a.m. started for the camp called Eddo; met a number of war chiefs on horseback sent to meet me. Arrived at 11 a.m., when the King sent to salute me, and said if I wished he would see me at once, but not being prepared I appointed 4 p.m., and employed the interval in getting ready his presents. At 4, Mr. Southwick and myself, accompanied by a guard of five kroomen, together with the head chief and others the King had sent to escort me to his presence, proceeded to the King's house, where we found him sitting on a mat, and another spread with cushions for Mr. Southwick and myself. He is a fine-looking man, and from the great name he bears just the man I expected to see. We had a little palaver and exchange of compliments, after which I presented him with the presents I brought. He seemed much pleased with the coat of mail, and said it showed him he was not forgotten in England. He then requested me to go and see his sons, whom I found in great numbers with the second King, ready to receive me; some of them were remarkably fine men. I was then presented with some cola-nuts in accordance with the custom of the country, which broke up the palaver, and I returned to King Massaba, with whom I had a long palaver about Dr. Baikie. He informed me that he had gone to Kano after the papers and effects of a Dr. Vogel, who had been murdered there, and that he had recovered the papers; the King had given him horses and men, but did not seem pleased at his going. The camp here is on a very large scale; and I have been informed he has upwards of 5,000 horsemen: his reason for being encamped is on account of an order from the Sultan of Socatoo to open the road between Bida and Socatoo, as the messengers were frequently robbed and murdered passing between those places, so that Massaba has taken the whole country, dethroning the Kings, and placing guards of his own men in their towns. Came twelve miles in a northerly direction this day. The camp is situated near to a river called Talaware, and the country named Combalie.

Friday, September 26.—Had a long palaver with the King to-day; he spoke a good deal about Dr. Baikie, and again expressed his dissatisfaction at him going away, and not returning in time for the ship, as he had promised. I read to him a letter from the Governor of Lagos; and he replied, "It is good," and promised on his return to Bida he would open a road to Lagos He then informed me he was going to send a large present to the ship, consisting of two bullocks, ten sheep, yams, honey, rice, butter, &c., for which I, of course, thanked him.

Saturday, September 27.—In the course of the day the King sent six of his great war chiefs on horseback to my house; they certainly were ferocious-looking fellows, but the quantity of dress, both on men and horses, must render them useless in battle. He has 250 like them, and they only stand still in battle to frighten the enemy.

Called on the King in the afternoon, and he told me he felt sure I would neither hear nor see Dr. Baikie this year, but promised to send his letters to Lagos whenever he received an answer, as he had sent a messenger to Dr. Baikie on my arrival, with the letters and despatches I had brought up for him.

From September 27 to October 2, nothing of importance occurred, I being ill from an attack of fever most of the time.

On the morning of the 2nd, called on the King to wish him farewell. He sent a chief, and one of Dr. Baikie's men, who understood English, to accompany me to Rabba, to take charge of Dr. Baikie's things. Arrived at noon at Likoro, where I remained for the night.

From the 3rd to the 7th of October I again travelled the same road as I came up, so there is nothing of importance to relate. On the afternoon of the 7th I again reached the ship, and felt very pleased at finding all well on board.

October 8.—My Kroomen, and the chief that Massaba had sent, arrived, so made preparations for proceeding down the river on the following day. Had a long palaver with the chief, who informed me it was King Massaba's intention to conquer the country right down to the mouth of the river for trade under his protection.

Thursday, October 9.—Weighed at 6 a.m., and proceeded close to the shore; landed forty-nine articles belonging to Dr. Baikie, and gave them in charge of a chief called Sonafadder. This chief then came off, and we had another long palaver, which detained me till 1 p.m., at which time a messenger from King Massaba arrived, informing me that the King had heard from Dr. Baikie, and that he was on his way back to the camp, and requested me to wait a few days longer; but this I knew would be of no use, as I could not possibly get an answer from the camp under ten days; and the water having already fallen 2 feet 7 inches, I did not consider myself justified in remaining another hour. At 1·30 p.m. started from Rabba; found it difficult to steam with wood; made thirty-five miles.

October 10.—Anchored at Egga, and sent on shore a messenger from King Massaba to order some wood. Remained at Egga Saturday and Sunday receiving wood.

On the morning of the 13th started for the Confluence, and arrived there at 5 p.m.; picked up coal-boat. Anchored off Dr. Baikie's Settlement for the night.

October 14.—Weighed, and proceeded to Gbebe, where I remained until the 19th wooding ship. and waiting for any despatches that might by chance come down from Dr. Baikie.

October 19.—I was so ill the doctor advised my returning down the river. Started for the mouth of the river: made sixty-three miles.

October 20.—Anchored off Onitsha, and filled up with wood.

October 21.—Proceeded down the river, and anchored seven miles below Ibo; made twenty-three miles. Found the river here had not fallen; in fact, it was more flooded than on our ascent.

October 22.—Started for the mouth of the river, at which place we anchored at 5 p.m., having made 111 miles.

October 23.—Remained at Akassa, and completed with wood and prepared for sea.

October 24.—At 5 a.m. started to cross the Nun bar, which we found very smooth. Proceeded for Lagos; weather very favourable.

October 25.—Proceeding for Lagos, in the outer roads of which place we anchored at 7·15 p.m.

I am happy to state that during the fifty-three days Her Majesty's ship "Investigator" was up the river, the health of the ship's company was exceedingly good, only a few cases of slight fever occurring, and that amongst the men received from Her Majesty's ship "Brisk," who had not been accustomed to the river-work, my own men remaining perfectly healthy.

Owing to the clearness and correctness of Lieutenant Glover's charts, the services of Mr. Southwick as Pilot were not required; he, however, was most zealous and useful on many other duties.

I have, &c.,

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MARCH 10, 1863.

Foreign Office, March 10, 1863.

EARL RUSSELL, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has received from M. Musurus, Turkish Ambassador at this Court, a Note, of which the following is a translation:

(Translation).

Bryanston-square,
March 3, 1863.

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to communicate herewith to your Excellency the translation of an Ordinance of the Sublime Porte, prohibiting all importation of Arms and munitions of War into the States of the Ottoman Empire.

In begging your Excellency to have the goodness to give to this Ordinance the necessary publicity for the information of British commerce.

(Signed) C. MUSURUS.

His Excellency the Earl Russell, K.G.

Translation of the Ordinance addressed on the 29th Redjeb, 1279 of the Hegira (January 7, 1863), to the Board of Customs.

THE repose and security of the Empire, and of all the people residing therein, demanding the prohibition of the trade in arms and munitions of war, the following provisions are made with regard to powder, cannons, arms, and all sorts of munitions of war which may henceforward arrive from abroad, and of which the importation is formally forbidden, in conformity with the Treaties of Commerce recently concluded with friendly Powers.

1. It is absolutely forbidden to import into the Empire, powder in grain, whatever may be the species and the quantity, and whatever be the motive of the importation.

2. The introduction of powder-cartridges, with or without balls, is equally interdicted.

3. Neither may there be imported into the Empire any kinds of cannons, mortars, and howitzers nor their charges, such as bomb shells, grape shot, cartridges, and all sorts of projectiles, whether or not containing fulminating matter, balls for rifled guns, with or without bayonets, ordinary guns, carbines, pistols, lances, and saltpetre used by troops and in war. Are excepted, arms for shooting and ornament, side arms (armes blanches) such as sabres, swords, knives, and powder for sporting purposes, in small quantities destined for private use.

4. The prohibited articles, enumerated above which, from the date of the present publicatio shall be introduced into the Empire in greater less quantity, will be confiscated and delivere over to the military magazines.

The regulations contained in the precedin Articles will, in conformity with the decision the Imperial Government, be put into operatic in the custom-houses of Constantinople and th whole Empire, from the date of the present Ord nance.

PRESENT,

Archbishop of Canterbury.
Lord President.
Duke of Somerset.
Duke of Newcastle.
Viscount Palmerston.
Bishop of London.
Sir George Grey, Bart.
Mr. Cardwell.
Mr. Lowe.

WHEREAS in the Act of Uniformity, which established the Liturgy of the Church of England, provision is made for such alterations in the Prayers for the Royal Family as from time to time shall become necessary, and be directed by lawful authority; it is, thereupon, this day ordered in Council, that in the Morning and Evening Prayers, in the Litany, and in all other parts of the Public Service, as well in the occasional offices as in the Book of Common Prayer, where the Royal Family is appointed to be particularly prayed for, the following form and order shall be observed:

"Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, the Princess "of Wales, and all the Royal Family."

And it is further ordered, that no edition of the Common Prayer be from henceforth printed but with this amendment; and that in the meantime, and until copies of such edition may be had, all Parsons, Vicars, and Curates within this realm do (for the preventing of mistakes), with the pen, correct and amend all such prayers in their Church Books, according to the foregoing direction: And for the better notice hereof, that this Order be forthwith printed and published, and sent to the several parishes; and that the Right Reverend the Bishops do take care that obedience be paid to the same accordingly.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MARCH 17, 1863.

Whitehall March 16, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State, for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Chancellor, Doctors, and Masters of the University of Dublin, beg to approach your Majesty with sentiments of profound attachment to your Throne and person, and to offer our respectful congratulations on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

We trust that in the happiness which a union in every way so worthy of him is likely to produce, your maternal heart will find some degree of consolation for the great and bitter bereavement with which it has pleased Almighty God to visit your Majesty.

This nation can never forget what an admirable example of every domestic virtue was exhibited to the world in the persons of your Majesty and your late illustrious Consort. It is our earnest hope and prayer that an equal blessing may rest on the union of His Royal Highness and the partner of his choice; and that, while they enjoy all the happiness that mutual affection can bestow, their pure and well-spent lives may win for them no less a measure of gratitude and esteem from British hearts than will for ever be attached to the united names of Victoria and Albert.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament, made and passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter ninety-six, for the regulation of the duties of postage, it was provided that all letters and newspapers, and other printed papers, which should be posted in any town or place within the United Kingdom, or should be brought from parts beyond the seas, to any port or place within the United Kingdom, or should be sent by the post between the United Kingdom and places beyond the seas, or between any of the other places thereinafter mentioned, or should pass through the United Kingdom, should be subject to the several regulations and rates thereinafter contained; and that letters transmitted by the post should be charged by weight according to a certain scale and number of rates of postage to be charged as therein mentioned. And power was given to Her Majesty's Postmaster-General to charge on all letters conveyed by the post between places within any of Her Majesty's colonies, or conveyed by packet-boats between one part of Her Majesty's dominions and another part of the same dominions, or between Her Majesty's dominions and foreign parts, or between one port in any foreign country and another port in the same, or any other foreign country where post communications should be established; and also to charge on all letters conveyed by any vessels to or from any of the colonies, or between any of the colonies, or between any of the colonies and a foreign port, and on all letters which should be brought by the master of any vessel to the Post Office in any of the colonies, such rates of postage as the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by Warrant under their hands, should from time to time direct; and to charge for the use of Her Majesty on all letters sent by the post on which the postage should not be prepaid, and which should not be duly and properly stamped, and also on all letters sent by the post without being duly and properly stamped, although the postage thereon should be wholly or in part prepaid, such higher rates of postage than would otherwise by law be payable on such letters as the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by Warrant under their hands, should from time to time deem expedient; and power was also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury from time to time, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to appoint at what time the rates which might be payable were to be paid, and the power thereby given to alter and fix rates of postage was to extend to any increase or reduction or remission of postage.

And whereas, by another Act of Parliament, made and passed in the session of Parliament holden in the tenth and eleventh years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter eighty-five, for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post Office, further powers were given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and (amongst other things) power was given to the Postmaster-General to collect and receive the foreign and colonial postage charged or chargeable on any letters sent by the post; and also, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, to require the postage (British, colonial, or foreign) of any letters sent by the post to be prepaid, either in money or in stamps, as he might think fit, on the same being put into the Post Office; and also, with such consent, to abolish or restrict the prepayment in money of postage on letters sent by the post either altogether or on certain letters, and to require the prepayment thereof to be in stamps, and to refuse to receive or send by the post any letters tendered contrary to any regulations made under that enactment. And power was also given to the Postmaster-General, and any officer of the Post Office, to detain any letters which should be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations therein mentioned, and to open such letters, and either to return them to the senders thereof, or to forward them to the places of their destination, charged in either case with such rates of postage as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, should from time to time direct.

And whereas, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury since the passing of the said two hereinbefore recited Acts, and by virtue thereof, have from time to time by divers Warrants under their hands, fixed, made, and established certain rates of British postage to be paid and payable on the transmission by the post of certain colonial letters therein respectively mentioned; and it is expedient that certain of the said rates on certain of the said letters should be altered, and certain other rates made and fixed in lieu thereof, and that certain other regulations should be made, and, for that purpose, that certain of the said former rates, and also that certain of the said Warrants should be wholly, and certain other of the said Warrants should be in part, repealed and annulled in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Now we the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the power or authority in us for that purpose, vested in and by the said hereinbefore recited Acts of Parliament, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do by this Warrant (under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners, by the authority of the statute in that case made and provided), order, direct, and declare as follows:

1. On every letter not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight transmitted by the post, between the United Kingdom and the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena, direct, or through any British colony or foreign country, and conveyed by British packet-boat, there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, an uniform rate of British postage of eleven pence.

2. On every letter not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight transmitted by the post between the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena, and any other of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country, through the United Kingdom direct, or through any British colony or foreign country (the sea conveyance between the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena and the United Kingdom being by British packet-boat), there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, a like rate of British postage of eleven pence, for the conveyance of every such letter, between the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena and any part of the United Kingdom. And for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and the British colony or foreign country, to or from which the same shall be forwarded, such a further or additional rate of postage as shall from time to time be charged and payable for British postage, on letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat), conveying the same, and transmitted between such port and any such colony or foreign country, provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny, in respect of the inland conveyance under this clause of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

3. On every letter not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between the United Kingdom and the Island of Ascension direct, or through any British colony or foreign country, and conveyed by British packet-boat, there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, an uniform rate of postage of one shilling.

4. On every letter not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between the Island of Ascension, and any other of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country through the United Kingdom, direct or through any British colony or foreign country (the sea conveyance between the Island of Ascension and the United Kingdom, being by British packet-boat), there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, a like rate of postage of one shilling for the conveyance of every such letter between the Island of Ascension and any part of the United Kingdom. And for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and the British colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, such a further or additional rate of postage as shall from time to time be charged and payable for British postage on letters not exceeding half-an ounce in weight, posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and transmitted between such port and any such colony or foreign country. Provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny, in respect of the inland conveyance under this clause, of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

5. On every letter not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between the United Kingdom and the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena, and conveyed by a vessel not being a packet-boat, there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, an uniform British rate of postage of two pence.

6. On every letter not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena, and any other of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country, through the United Kingdom

(the sea conveyance between the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena and the United Kingdom being by a vessel not being a packet-boat), there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, a like rate of postage of two pence for the conveyance of every such letter, between the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena, and any part of the United Kingdom. And for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and the British colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, such a further or additional rate of postage, as shall from time to time be charged and payable for British postage on letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and transmitted between such port and any such British colony or foreign country. Provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny, in respect of the inland conveyance under this clause, of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

7. On every letter not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between the United Kingdom and the Island of Ascension, and conveyed by a vessel not being a packet-boat, there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, an uniform British rate of postage of four pence.

8. On every letter not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between the Island of Ascension and any other of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom (the sea conveyance between the Island of Ascension and the United Kingdom being by a vessel not being a packet-boat), there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage, now payable by law on such letters, a like rate of postage of four pence for the conveyance of every such letter between the Island of Ascension, and any part of the United Kingdom. And for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom, of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and the British colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, such a further or additional rate of postage as shall from time to time be charged and payable for British postage on letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom, of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and transmitted between such port and any such British colony or foreign country. Provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny in respect of the inland conveyance under this clause of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

9. All such respective letters so transmitted, as is mentioned in this Warrant, if exceeding one half of an ounce in weight, shall be subject to the several further and additional and progressive rates of postage hereinafter mentioned, that is to say:

On every letter so transmitted, if exceeding one half of an ounce in weight, and not exceeding one ounce in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, two rates of postage.

And on every letter so transmitted, if exceeding one ounce, and not exceeding one ounce and one-half of another ounce in weight, three rates of postage.

And on every letter so transmitted, if exceeding one ounce and one-half of another ounce, and not exceeding two ounces in weight, four rates of postage.

And for every additional half of an ounce in weight of any letters so transmitted as aforesaid, above the weight of two ounces, there shall be charged, taken, and paid, an additional rate of postage, and every fractional part of such additional half of an ounce in weight, shall be charged as an additional half of an ounce in weight. And each progressive and additional rate, chargeable under this clause, shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight.

10. On every letter posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to any place in the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena, and on every letter posted in any place in the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena, addressed to the United Kingdom, the postage thereof shall be paid at the time of the same being posted, either in money or by being stamped with the proper postage-stamp, or stamps being affixed thereto, which stamp or stamps shall in every case be affixed, or appear on the outside of every such letter, near the address, and shall be of the value or amount of the postage duty payable thereon, under or by virtue of this Warrant.

11. If any letter shall be posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to any place in the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena, or if any letter shall be posted in any place in the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or Saint Helena, addressed to the United Kingdom, without the postage payable thereon being paid at the time of the same being posted, either in money, or by being stamped with the proper postage-stamp, or stamps being affixed thereto, every such letter shall be charged with the postage to which it would have been liable under or by virtue of this Warrant, if the postage had been fully paid thereon when posted, together with the further and additional rate of postage of one shilling, when conveyed by British packet-boat, and with the further and additional rate of postage of four pence when conveyed by a vessel not being a packet-boat.

12. If any letter shall be posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to any place in the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena, or if any letter shall be posted in any place in the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena, addressed to the United Kingdom, having thereon, or affixed thereto, a postage-stamp or stamps, the value of which shall be less in amount than the rate of postage to which the same would be liable under or by virtue of the provisions of this Warrant, every such letter shall be forwarded charged with the amount of the difference between the postage paid thereon, and the postage to which it would have been liable, under or by virtue of the provisions of this Warrant, if the full amount of postage payable thereon had been paid when posted, together with the further and additional rate of postage of one shilling, when conveyed by British packet-boat, and with the further and additional rate of postage of four pence when conveyed by a vessel not being a packet-boat.

13. On every letter posted in the United Kingdom addressed to the Island of Ascension the postage thereof shall be paid at the time of the same being posted, either in money or by being stamped with the proper postage stamp, or stamps being affixed thereto, which stamp or stamps shall in every case be affixed or appear on the outside of every such letter, near the address, and shall be of the value or amount of the postage duty payable thereon under or by virtue of this Warrant, but on letters posted in the Island of Ascension, addressed to the United Kingdom, it shall not be necessary that the postage thereof shall be paid at the time of the same being posted.

14. If any letter shall be posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to the Island of Ascension, without the postage payable thereon being paid at the time of the same being posted, either in money or by being stamped with the proper postage stamp, or stamps being affixed thereto, or having thereon or affixed thereto a postage stamp or stamps, the value of which shall be less in amount than the rate of postage to which the same would be liable under or by virtue of the provisions of this Warrant, every such letter shall be detained and opened, and shall be either returned or given up to the sender thereof.

15. In all cases where letters are posted in the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena, addressed to any department or office in or connected with the public service of Her Majesty, which shall have a postage account with the General Post Office in London, it shall not be necessary that the postage thereof shall be paid at the time of the same being posted, and every such letter so posted in the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, or St. Helena, addressed as last aforesaid, shall and may be forwarded to the place of its destination, without any additional rate of postage being charged thereon, although the postage shall not have been paid thereon at the time of the same being posted, and the postage thereof shall be charged in such postage account.

16. In all cases in which any letter in respect of which any rate of postage is chargeable, under or by virtue of the provisions of this Warrant, shall be liable to any colonial or foreign postage, such colonial or foreign postage shall be charged and paid thereon, in addition to the British postage.

17. The several letters transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant shall be subject to the several orders, directions, and regulations contained in a certain Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, bearing date the 19th day of February, 1855, relating to redirected rates of postage upon letters and packets which shall be redirected and again forwarded by the post, so far as the same shall be applicable to such letters.

18. Nothing in this Warrant contained shall in anywise annul, prejudice, or affect, any of the exemptions or privileges granted by or under the said hereinbefore recited Acts, or either of them, or by or under any other Acts of Parliament relating to the Post Office, or any of the privileges which officers, seamen, and soldiers, employed in Her Majesty's service, are by law entitled to, of sending and receiving by the post letters subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

19. Nothing in this Warrant contained shall be deemed or construed to extend to any letters posted in France or Spain, or addressed to France or Spain, or to any letters transmitted through France, otherwise than in closed mails.

20. The several terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her Majesty, for the regulation of the duties on postage.

21. The following rates of British postage, respectively fixed, made, and established under and by virtue of the following Warrants, under the hands of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time heretofore made, and the regulations affecting the said rates of postage therein respectively mentioned, and also the Warrants and parts of Warrants hereinafter respectively mentioned and particularized, shall be and the same are hereby repealed, revoked, and annulled, that is to say:

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the session of Parliament holden in the 3rd and 4th years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter 96, for the regulation of the duties of postage, it was provided that all letters and newspapers and other printed papers, which should be posted in any town or place within the United Kingdom, or should be brought from parts beyond the seas to any port or place within the United Kingdom, or should be sent by the post between the United Kingdom and places beyond the seas or between any of the other places thereinafter mentioned, or should pass through the United Kingdom, should be subject to the several regulations and rates thereinafter contained, and that letters transmitted by the post should be charged by weight according to a certain scale and numbers of rates of postage to be charged as therein mentioned, and power was given to Her Majesty's Postmaster General to charge on all letters conveyed by the post between places within any of Her Majesty's colonies, or conveyed by packet-boats between one part of Her Majesty's dominions and another part of the same dominions, or between Her Majesty's dominions and foreign parts, or between one port in any foreign country and another port in the same or any other foreign country where post communications should be established, and also to charge on all letters conveyed by any vessels to or from any of the colonies, or between any of the colonies, or between any of the colonies and a foreign port, and on all letters which should be brought by the master of any vessel to the post office in any of the colonies, such rates of postage as the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by Warrant under their hands should from time to time direct. And to charge for the use of Her Majesty on all letters sent by the post on which the postage should not be prepaid, and which should not be duly and properly stamped, and also on all letters sent by the post without being duly and properly stamped, although the postage thereon should be wholly or in part prepaid, such higher rates of postage than would otherwise by law be payable on such letters as the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by Warrant under their hands should from time to time deem expedient, and power was also given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury from time to time by Warrant under their hands to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or Inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant, and from time to time, by warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to appoint at what time the rates which might be payable were to be paid, and the power thereby given to alter and fix rates of postage was to extend to any increase or reduction or remission of postage,

And whereas, by another Act of Parliament, made and passed in the session of Parliament holden in the 10th and 11th years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter 85, for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post Office, further powers were given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and (amongst other things) power was given to the Postmaster General to collect and receive the foreign and colonial postage charged or chargeable on any letters sent by the post, and also with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, to require the postage (British, Colonial or Foreign) of any letters sent by the post to be prepaid, either in money or in stamps (as he might think fit) on the same being put into the Post Office, and also with such consent to abolish or restrict the prepayment in money of postage on letters sent by the post, either altogether or on certain letters, and to require the prepayment thereof to be in stamps, and to refuse to receive or send by the post any letters tendered contrary to any regulations made under that enactment. And power was also given to the Postmaster General and any officer of the Post Office to detain any letters which should be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations therein mentioned, and to open such letters, and either to return them to the senders thereof, or to forward them to the places of their destination, charged in either case with such rates of postage as the Postmaster General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, should from time to time direct.

And whereas, by the first hereinbefore recited Act, certain rates of British postage were fixed, and since the passing of the said two recited Acts, and by virtue thereof, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury have, from time to time, by divers warrants under their hands, fixed, made and established certain other rates of British postage, to be paid and payable on the transmission by the post of certain colonial letters therein respectively mentioned, and it is expedient that certain of the said rates on certain of the said letters should be altered, and certain other rates made and fixed in lieu thereof, and that certain other regulations should be made, and for that purpose that certain of the said former rates, and also that certain of the said warrants should be wholly, and certain other of the said warrants should be in part repealed and annulled in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Now we the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the power or authority in us for that purpose vested, in and by the said hereinbefore recited Acts of Parliament, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do, by this warrant (under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners, by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided) order, direct, and declare as follows.

1. On every letter not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight transmitted by the post between the United Kingdom and the British West Indies, direct or through any British colony or foreign country, and conveyed by British packet-boat, there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters an uniform rate of British postage of eleven pence.

2. On every letter not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight transmitted by the post between the British West Indies and any other of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country, through the United Kingdom, direct or through any British colony or foreign country (the sea conveyance between the British West Indies and the United Kingdom being by British packet-boat) there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, a like rate of British postage of eleven pence for the conveyance of every such letter between the British West Indies and any part of the United Kingdom. And for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and the British colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded such a further or additional rate of postage as shall from time to time be charged and payable for British postage on letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same and transmitted between such port, and any such colony or foreign country, provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny in respect of the inland conveyance, under this clause of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

3. On every letter not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between the United Kingdom and the British West Indies, and conveyed by a vessel not being a packet-boat, there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, an uniform British rate of postage of one penny half-penny.

4. On every letter not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between the British West Indies and any other of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom, (the sea conveyance between the British West Indies and the United Kingdom, being by a vessel not being a packet-boat,) there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, a like rate of postage of one penny half-penny for the conveyance of every such letter between the British West Indies and any part of the United Kingdom. And for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom, of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and the British colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, such a further or additional rate of postage as shall from time to time be charged, and payable for British postage on letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom, of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and transmitted between such port and any such British colony or foreign country, provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny, in respect of the inland conveyance under this clause of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

5. On every letter not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between the United Kingdom and any of the places next hereinafter mentioned, that is to say: St. Thomas, St. Croix, St. Martins, Martinique, Guadaloupe, Curacoa, St. Eustatius, the Mosquito Territory, Cuba, Porto Rico, and Mexico, and conveyed by British packet-boat, there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, an uniform British rate of postage of one shilling.

6. On every letter not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between any of the said places enumerated in the next preceding clause of this Warrant, and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom, direct or through any British colony or foreign country, (the sea conveyance between any of the said places enumerated in the next preceding clause of this Warrant and the United Kingdom, being by British packet-boat,) there shall be charged and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters a like rate of British postage of one shilling, for the conveyance of every such letter between any of the said places enumerated in the next preceding clause of this Warrant, and any part of the United Kingdom. And for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom, of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and the British colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, such a further or additional rate of postage as shall from time to time be charged and payable for British postage on letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom, of the departure or arrival of the packet-boat or vessel (not being a packet-boat) conveying the same, and transmitted between such port, and any such British colony or foreign country, provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny in respect of the inland conveyance under this clause, of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

7. All such respective letters so transmitted as is mentioned in this Warrant, if exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, shall be subject to the several further and additional and progressive rates of postage hereinafter mentioned (that is to say):

On every letter so transmitted, if exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, and not exceeding one ounce in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid two rates of postage.

And on every letter so transmitted, if exceeding one ounce, and not exceeding one ounce and one-half of another ounce in weight, three rates of postage.

And for every additional half an ounce in weight of any letter so transmitted as aforesaid, above the weight of two ounces, there shall be charged, taken, and paid one additional rate of postage; and every fractional part of such additional half of an ounce in weight, shall be charged as an additional half an ounce in weight, and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause, shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight.

8. On every letter posted in the United Kingdom addressed to any place in the British West Indies, and on every letter posted in any place in the British West Indies addressed to the United Kingdom, the postage thereof shall be paid at the time of the same being posted, either in money or by being stamped with the proper postage stamp or stamps being affixed thereto, which stamp or stamps shall in every case be affixed or appear on the outside of every such letter near the address, and shall be of the value or amount of the postage duty payable thereon under or by virtue of this Warrant.

9. If any letter shall be posted in the United Kingdom addressed to any place in the British West Indies, or if any letter shall be posted in any place in the British West Indies addressed to the United Kingdom, without the postage payable thereon being paid at the time of the same being posted, either in money, or by being stamped with the proper postage stamp or stamps being affixed thereto, every such letter shall be charged with the postage to which it would have been liable, under or by virtue of this Warrant, if the postage had been fully paid thereon when posted together with the further and additional rate of postage of one shilling, when conveyed by British packet-boat, and with the further and additional rate of postage of three pence, when conveyed by a vessel not being a packet-boat.

10. If any letter shall be posted in the United Kingdom addressed to any place in the British West Indies, or if any letter shall be posted in any place in the British West Indies addressed to the United Kingdom, having thereon or affixed thereto a postage stamp or stamps, the value of which shall be less in amount than the rate of postage to which the same would be liable, under or by virtue of the provisions of this Warrant, every such letter shall be charged with the amount of the difference between the postage paid thereon, and the postage to which it would have been liable, under or by virtue of the provisions of this Warrant, if the full amount of postage payable thereon had been paid when posted, together with the further and additional rate of postage of one shilling when conveyed by British packet-boat, and with the further and additional rate of postage of three pence when conveyed by a vessel not being a packet-boat.

11. In all cases where letters are posted in the British West Indies, addressed to any department or office in or connected with the public service of Her Majesty, which shall have a postage account with the General Post Office in London, it shall not be necessary that the postage thereof shall be paid at the time of the same being posted, and every such letter so posted in the British West Indies, addressed as last aforesaid, shall and may be forwarded to the place of its destination without any additional rate of postage being charged thereon, although the postage shall not have been paid thereon at the time of the same being posted, and the postage thereof shall be charged in such postage account.

12. In all cases in which any letter in respect of which any rate of postage is chargeable, under or by virtue of the provisions of this Warrant, shall be liable to any colonial or foreign postage, such colonial or foreign postage shall be charged and paid thereon, in addition to the British postage.

13. The several letters transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant shall be subject to the several orders, directions, and regulations contained in a certain Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, bearing date the 19th day of February, 1855, relating to re-directed rates of postage upon letters and packets, which shall be re-directed and again forwarded by the post, so far as the same shall be applicable to such letters.

14. All letters exceeding half an ounce in weight transmitted from any port in the Republic of New Granada to any part of the United Kingdom, or transmitted from any port in New Granada to any of Her Majesty's Colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom under or by virtue of a certain Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, bearing date the 2nd day of December, 1857, shall be charged with the postage payable thereon under such Warrant, according to the scale of weight in this present Warrant contained, in lieu of the scale of weight contained in the said Warrant of the 2nd day of December, 1857.

15. Nothing in this Warrant contained shall in any wise annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exemptions or privileges granted by or under the said hereinbefore recited Acts, or either of them, or by or under any other Acts of Parliament relating to the Post Office, or any of the privileges which officers, seamen, and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's service are by law entitled to, of sending and receiving by the post letters subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

16. Nothing in this Warrant contained shall be deemed or construed to extend to any letters posted in France or Spain, or addressed to France or Spain, or to any letters transmitted through France otherwise than in closed mails.

17. The term "British West Indies" used in this Warrant shall be construed to mean and include the following colonies and places, and their respective dependencies, that is to say,—Antigua, Bahamas, Barbadoes, Bermuda, Berbice, Carriacou, Demerara, Dominica, Grenada, Honduras, Jamaica, Montserrat, Nevis, St. Kitts, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, Tobago, Tortola, Trinidad, and Turks Islands, and the several other terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said Act passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her Majesty for the regulation of the duties of postage.

18. The following rates of British postage, respectively fixed in and by the said first hereinbefore recited Act, and the following rates of British postage respectively fixed, made, and established under and by virtue of the following Warrants, under the hands of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury from time to time heretofore made, and the regulations affecting the said rates of postage therein respectively mentioned, and also the Warrants and parts of Warrants hereinafter respectively mentioned and particularized shall be and the same are hereby repealed, revoked, and annulled, that is to say,—

The rates of British postage of two shillings and one penny for every letter not exceeding half-an-ounce in weight, transmitted by packet-boats between a port in the United Kingdom and any port in the Island of Cuba, in the West Indies, or any port in Mexico, and of one shilling and three pence for every such letter so transmitted between any port in the United Kingdom and any ports in the islands of Martinique, Guadaloupe, St. Thomas, St. Croix, St. Martin, Curacoa, St. Eustatius, and Porto Rico, and the additional inland rates of postage on every such letter as aforesaid of two pence for the distance any such letters should be conveyed within the United Kingdom, and the progressive and additional rates of British postage on every such letter as aforesaid, according to the scale of weight and number of rates in that Act contained, as to letters respectively fixed and contained in the schedule to the said recited Act, passed in the said session of Parliament, holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter 96.

The several rates of British postage on letters transmitted by the post between any place in the United Kingdom and any of the following colonies direct, or through any other colony or through any foreign country, that is to say,—Bermuda, Antigua, Grenada, Berbice, Demerara, Trinidad, Carriacou, Tobago, Montserrat, Nevis, Tortola, Dominica, St. Kitts, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, Jamaica, Bahamas and Honduras, and on letters transmitted by the post between any of the said colonies and any of the colonies of Canada, Prince Edward's Island, St. Helena, the Gold Coast, Ceylon, Malta, Gibraltar, and Hong Kong, through the United Kingdom direct, or through any other colony or any foreign country, and on letters transmitted by the post between any of the said first-mentioned colonies, and any other of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom (whether through any colony or foreign country or not) payable under or by virtue of a certain Warrant bearing date the 15th day of March, 1854, together with so much of the said Warrant as relates to the said rates of postage, and the regulations therein contained affecting the same.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MARCH 24, 1863.

Whitehall March 23, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State, for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

The Dutiful and Loyal Address of the Inhabitants of the County of Norfolk in County Meeting assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's faithful and devoted subjects, the Inhabitants of the County of Norfolk, in County Meeting assembled, venture to approach your Majesty with expressions of our sincere affection and loyalty.

In common with all your Majesty's subjects we have seen in the marriage of His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, to his beautiful and amiable bride, the Princess Alexandra, an event full of promise of future happiness to the Prince and Princess, of deep import to the nation, and one which must have filled your Majesty's heart with joy and with gratitude to the Almighty Giver of all good.

We venture, therefore, to assure your Majesty of the heartfelt sympathy with which the whole nation unites in your Majesty's joy on this happy occasion as it did not long since in the sorrow caused by your Majesty's irreparable loss. That this auspicious marriage may prove the source of much happiness to your Majesty, and that it may please Almighty God to prolong for many years your Majesty's just, beneficent, and glorious reign, is the prayer of your Majesty's faithful and devoted subjects.

And we shall ever pray,

Signed for and on behalf of the Inhabitants of the said County,

Joseph Stonehewer Scott Chad, High Sheriff.

At the Court at Windsor, the 20th day of March, 1863.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order with reference to the representations of the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that no new burial-ground shall be opened in any of the undermentioned parishes without the previous approval of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and that burials in the said parishes shall be discontinued (except as is herein otherwise directed), as follows, viz.:

NEWENT, GLOUCESTERSHIRE.—Forthwith in the church; and from and after the thirty-first of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, in the churchyard, except in now existing vaults and walled graves in which each coffin shall be enclosed in concrete, or in masonry or brickwork properly cemented, and except in other graves which can be opened to the depth of five feet without the disturbance of human bones or exposure of coffins. DARLINGTON.—In the churchyard of Holy Trinity, except in now existing vaults and walled graves, in which each coffin shall be embedded in charcoal and separately entombed in concrete, or in masonry or brickwork properly cemented; and except in grave spaces never previously buried in, and purchased before the eleventh day of October, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two. CUMBERWORTH, YORKSHIRE.—Forthwith beneath the church; and from and after the first day of October, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, in the churchyard, with the exception of existing family vaults and brick graves which can be opened without the disturbance of human remains, and in which each coffin shall be separately entombed in stone or brickwork properly cemented.

Also that the time for the discontinuance of burials in the undermentioned churchyard be postponed, as follows; viz.:

In the churchyard of Beaumaris, from the thirty-first of March to the first of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three.

At the Court at Windsor, the 20th day of March, 1863.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order that the representation of the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State (as set forth in this Gazette), that, for the protection of the public health, burials should be discontinued in the undermentioned parishes, as follows, viz.:

FULHAM.—Forthwith, with the exception of now existing family vaults and brick graves, in the portion of the ancient churchyard lying on the south-east of the diagonal footpath, and marked A, B, C, D, on the plan which was transmitted to the Vestry Clerk of the parish on the fourteenth of February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three; and from and after the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, with the like exceptions, in the remaining portion of the ancient churchyard marked E on the above-named plan: the family vaults and graves above exempted to be used on the following conditions—that when required they be opened without disturbing soil that has already been buried in, that each coffin be embedded in powdered charcoal and separately entombed in an air-tight manner, and that the only bodies interred therein be those of the husbands, wives, parents, unmarried children, and brothers and sisters of persons already buried therein. That in the new portion of the churchyard marked F in the above-mentioned plan, burials be conducted in accordance with the official regulations for new burial grounds. LAMBETH.—Forthwith in the burial-ground of St. Luke's, Norwood, with the exception of now existing family vaults and graves, which shall be used in accordance with the regulations contained in the Order in Council, of the twenty-seventh of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, affecting burials in the said churchyard.

Also MARESFIELD, SUSSEX.—Forthwith beneath the parish church; and from and after the thirtieth of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, in the churchyard, with the exception of now existing vaults and family graves and reserved grave-spaces which can be opened without exposing human remains, and also with the exception of the plot of ground reserved for the use of the incumbent. ORMSBY, YORKSHIRE.—Forthwith in the church of Eston; and also forthwith in the old churchyard, with the exception of now existing vaults and family graves, which shall be used in accordance with the 5th, 7th, and 8th Official Regulations for New Burial Grounds. DIDSBURY.—Forthwith in the churchyard, except in existing vaults and walled graves, in which each coffin shall be embedded in charcoal and entombed in concrete or by masonry or brickwork properly cemented, and except in other graves which can be opened to the depth of five feet without exposure of human remains. WYMESWOLD.—Forthwith beneath the parish church.

should be taken into consideration by a Committee of the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, on the fourth day of May next.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MARCH 27, 1863.

Whitehall, March 26, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to

Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously :

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

The Humble Address of the Principal and Professors of the Universty of Aberdeen.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Principal and Professors of the University of Aberdeen, beg leave to approach the Throne, that we may offer to your Majesty our sincere and respectful congratulations, on the occasion of the marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

Deeply sensible of the blessings which we, in common with all our fellow subjects, enjoy under your Majesty's beneficent and illustrious reign, and devotedly attached to your Majesty's person and Government, we regard every event which contributes to your Majesty's happinesss, and to the welfare of your Royal House, as a cause of gratitude to Divine Providence, and of heartfelt joy.

In the promotion by your Majesty of the Union of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, with a Princess so worthy of the esteem and affection with which your Majesty has honoured Her, we recognise a new instance of your Majesty's wisdom, and of your care to secure the honour of that Throne which your Majesty's great public and private private virtues have surrounded with such dignity and lustre ; and while in this, as in all things connected with the upbringing of the Royal family, we acknowledge a ground of deep national obligation to your Majesty, it is our earnest desire that a union so auspicious and hopeful may prove a source of rich and lasting comfort to your Majesty's heart.

That Almighty God may bestow his choicest favours on your Majesty, and on all the members of the Royal Family, and that He may continue for many years the blessings of your Majesty's reign to a grateful people, is and ever shall be, our earnest prayer.

In name, by appointment, and under the Seal of the Senatus Academicus of the University, at Aberdeen, this 14th day of March, 1863.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MARCH 31, 1863.

Windsor Castle, March 27, 1863.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor of London, Alderman Copeland, the Recorder, the Sheriffs, and a small Deputation, waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address, which was handed to Her Majesty.

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London in Common Council assembled, approach the Throne with feelings of devoted loyalty to your Majesty's person and government, to offer our humble but cordial congratulations on the Marriage of His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales, with The Princess Alexandra of Denmark.

Under your Majesty's enlightened rule we have enjoyed, for upwards of a quarter of a century, an amount of happiness and prosperity almost unexampled in the history of nations, and we cannot, therefore, but rejoice in an event which is likely to give increased stability to your Majesty's illustrious House.

That the blessing of Almighty God may rest upon the marriage, that it may prove a solace to your Majesty under your many cares, and that it may add to the happiness of all the members of your Majesty's Family, is our fervent prayer.

Signed by order of Court,
Frederick Woodthorpe.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious answer, which was given by Her Majesty to the Lord Mayor:

"I thank you very sincerely for your loyal and affectionate address.

"I am truly sensible of the gratifying proofs of loyalty and attachment to myself and the Royal Family which have been exhibited by the Citizens of London, not less in their deep sympathy in my heavy grief, than on the occasion of the marriage of The Prince of Wales, I earnestly pray that this event, in which all classes of my subjects have shewn so warm an interest, will conduce not only to the happiness of my Family, but to the welfare of my faithful and attached people."

They were all very graciously received; and the Lord Mayor, and the Mover, and Seconder of The Address, had the honour of kissing Her Majesty's hand.

Windsor Castle, March 27, 1863.

THIS day the Lord Mayor of Dublin, Alderman John Campbell, and a small Deputation, waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address, which was handed to Her Majesty:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of Dublin.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the city of Dublin, most humbly approach your Majesty to express our most sincere congratulations to your Majesty, upon the happy and interesting event of the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with Her Royal Highness the Princess Alexandra.

We venture to assure your Majesty that the citizens of our loyal and ancient city, entirely share in the general joy of the nation, and in the universal hope that the Royal Marriage so suitably celebrated may be productive of much comfort and unmixed satisfaction to your Majesty, and of lasting advantage to the vast Empire over which your Majesty reigns.

We pray that under divine providence your Majesty may have a long and prosperous reign over a contented and united people, and that the illustrious union may be as happy and as blessed as your devoted people wish.

Signed on behalf of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses, John P. Vereker, Lord Mayor.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer, which was given by Her Majesty to the Lord Mayor:—

"I am much gratified by the assurances of loyalty and attachment conveyed to Me in your Address of Congratulation on the Marriage of the Prince of Wales.

"I am deeply sensible of the affectionate interest which has been evinced by My faithful subjects throughout the United Kingdom in this event, which so intimately concerns the happiness of My family, and which I earnestly pray may promote the welfare of this great Empire."

The Mover and Seconder of the Address had the honour of kissing Her Majesty's hand.

Windsor Castle, March 27, 1863.

THIS day the Lord Provost of Edinburgh and the City Clerk waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address, which was handed to Her Majesty:—

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the city of Edinburgh, desire to renew the expression of our loyalty and devotion to your Majesty's person and throne, and to offer your Majesty our humble and heartfelt congratulations on the marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

Trained, as it has been the inestimable privilege of His Royal Highness to be, in the midst of a domestic circle of love and purity, we rejoice that he has thus early entered into relations eminently fitted to conserve and strengthen the benign influences under which he has been reared, and to stimulate him to a life of active beneficence. That he may long be spared in the enjoyment of every domestic happiness, to sustain and comfort your Majesty, and to transmit with added lustre to future generations the rich inheritance of love and veneration derived from his Illustrious Father, is our earnest hope and prayer.

We rejoice also in the assurance that the youthful Princess with whom His Royal Highness is allied, possesses attractions of mind, disposition, and person, eminently fitted to adorn her exalted station,—to secure the love of your Majesty,—and the attachment and respect of all classes of your Majesty's subjects. We humbly venture to express the hope, that, as one after another of your Majesty's children is called upon to leave the Royal home for other spheres of influence and duty, His Royal Highness and his Illustrious Consort may prove more and more a comfort and solace to your Majesty, and that your Majesty may have the happiness of seeing them and their family cultivating habits of piety and virtue, and commanding admiration and respect, not more for their exalted station than for the dignity of their personal life and character.

That your Majesty may long be spared to reign in happiness and peace, and be blessed with every temporal and spiritual blessing, is our heartfelt prayer to Him who has hitherto so graciously guided Your Majesty in the Government of this Great Empire.

Signed in name and by appointment of the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council, and the Seal of the City affixed hereto at Edinburgh, the 12th day of March, 1863 years.

Chas. Lawson, Lord-Provost.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer, which was given by Her Majesty to the Lord Provost:—

"I receive with great satisfaction your address of congratulation on the marriage of the Prince of Wales, and I thank you very sincerely for the loyal and affectionate wishes which you have expressed for myself and my family on this happy occasion.

"I join most heartily with you in the prayer that our beloved son may have so profited by the careful training of his great and good father, that he may prove not only a comfort to his sorrowing family, but a blessing to the country, which has testified such unexampled good will towards his bride and himself."

The Lord Provost had the honour of kissing Her Majesty's hand.

Whitehall March 31, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State, for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the London Committee of Deputies of the British Jews, for ourselves and for the several congregations whom we represent, dutifully offer to Your Majesty our heartfelt congratulations on the marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with Her Royal Highness the Princess Alexandra of Denmark.

Truly do we delight to convey to your Majesty the assurance that we fully participate in the rejoicing with which this happy event has filled the hearts of your Majesty's subjects throughout your Majesty's vast dominions.

Most sincerely do we believe, and most devoutly do we pray, that this auspicious union may endure to the happiness of their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales, that it will ever form a source of comfort and gratification to your Majesty, and that it will tend to promote the welfare of the British nation, now blessed and prospering under your Majesty's wise and benignant rule.

THE following Despatch has been received by Earl Russell from Mr. Christie, Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary in Brazil:

Rio de Janeiro,
February 15, 1863.

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to enclose a copy of an Address which I received in the beginning of this month from a number of British Merchants and Residents in Rio, who say that they came forward to express their opinion in favour of my recent action in the questions of the "Prince of Wales" and the "Forte," because it has been represented that the English were generally opposed to the late proceedings. All those who have signed the address are persons of known respectability; and forty being, I am informed, the whole number of houses in Rio, eighteen of these are represented among the signatures. I am told that several persons have refused to sign because they did not think it becoming or desirable for them to offer an opinion.

I inclose a copy of my reply to the address.

Many of the English in Rio are Brazilians by birth in the country or by naturalization.

I mentioned in my first report to your Lordship that I had been much pleased with the general attitude and demeanour of the British community. I have good reason to believe that the publication of the correspondence and the conduct of the Brazilian Government, with reference to the arrangement made with me, have greatly strengthened the general feeling of satisfaction among the English with what has happened.

I have no doubt that a few dissentients among the English, and that Brazilian Agents will have done everything in their power to cause it to be represented in England that the English community generally have disapproved of what has happened; and if so, your Lordship may be glad to have the inclosed address, the respectability of all the signers of which will be known to any one who knows Rio.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) W. D. CHRISTIE.

Rio de Janeiro,

SIR, February 3, 1863.

WE, the undersigned, British merchants and residents in this city, having been informed of certain rumours purporting to imply that the British subjects here have almost unanimously disapproved of, and censured the proceedings of your Excellency in, the late diplomatic difficulties with the Brazilian Government, it behoves us to take the liberty of addressing your Excellency, in order to disavow any opinions that may have been expressed to that effect.

Without venturing to emit any opinion upon the merits of the questions discussed between your Excellency and the Brazilian Government, our present object is merely to state, that however lamentable such difficulties must always be, and however detrimental to the interests of those engaged in the commerce of the countries involved, we feel satisfied that, in conducting the late negotiations, your Excellency not only followed the instructions of Her Majesty's Government, but that you did not lose sight of the interests of British subjects in this city.

Having, as residents here, a deep interest in the welfare of this country, and fostering a desire to maintain friendly relations with its native inhabitants, whose national feelings we cannot wish to see wounded, we venture to express to your Excellency our sincere thanks for the conciliatory spirit with which, for the sake of peace and amity, you agreed to submit to Her Majesty's Government the option of a settlement of the pending questions in a different form from that previously proposed by your Excellency, thus giving an incontestable proof of your prudence and moderation.

In expressing these sentiments, and recognizing the service which, in our humble opinion, your Excellency has rendered to both countries, we consider that we are simply doing justice to Her Majesty's representative.

We would have thought it unnecessary to offer our opinions on this subject, or rather to disclaim any censure of your Excellency's proceedings, but for the circumstances above referred to, which may have given rise to misconceptions on your part, and if so, we think it our duty to endeavour to dispel them.

We have, &c.,

Petropolis,

GENTLEMEN, February 7, 1863.

I BEG to thank you for your address to me of the 3rd instant, expressing your approval of the mode in which I lately conducted proceedings necessarily disagreeable to the Brazilian nation, on the refusal of the Brazilian Government to satisfy demands which I had been instructed to make. It is peculiarly gratifying to me to know that so many of my countrymen, interested in peaceful relations with Brazil, think that my conduct was prudent and moderate. I had heard of some, but certainly not of general, disapproval among British subjects. Unanimity can never be expected. Almost all respectable Englishmen, I believe, properly understood the question at issue, and their duty. Many who pass for Englishmen have a divided allegiance, being either by naturalization or birth in this country also Brazilians. It is no imputation against the consciences of such persons that they do not think purely as Englishmen. I took an early occasion to report to Her Majesty's Government that I had been highly pleased by the attitude generally taken by British subjects during the late proceedings.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) W. D. CHRISTIE.

At the Court at Windsor, the 20th day of March, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS there was this day read at the Board a memorial from the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, dated the 10th of February, 1863, in the words following, viz. :—

"We humbly beg to lay before your Majesty the case of the General Officers of your Majesty's Royal Marine Forces. These officers, owing to the peculiar nature of the Marine Service, are debarred from all further advantages, having no lucrative commands or appointments to look forward to, like their brother officers in the army—and although various measures have been submitted, from time to time, for improving the position of the officers and men of the Corps, by placing them, as nearly as possible, on a footing with the army, nothing has been done for the Generals. Under these circumstances, we propose, with your Majesty's sanction, to appoint a General Officer as Colonel to each of the five divisions, upon the principle adopted in the army in the case of colonelcies of regiments; and to raise the pay of the Officers appointed from £702 12*s.* 6*d.* to £900 a-year. This measure will, in our opinion, give general satisfaction, as it will not only afford the means of conferring a reward upon a very meritorious class of old officers; but it will act beneficially upon the whole corps, by giving it the advantage of a few honorary appointments, an advantage not hitherto possessed by that valuable branch of your Majesty's service. We, therefore, trust that your Majesty will be graciously pleased, by your Order in Council, to authorize us to carry our proposal into effect, the Lords of your Majesty's Treasury having signified their concurrence."

Her Majesty having taken the said memorial into consideration was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve of what is therein proposed, and the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

Arthur Helps.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of APRIL 3, 1863.

Whitehall, April 2, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please Your Majesty,

WE, the President and Members of the Royal Academy of Arts, humbly beg leave to approach Your Majesty, with the dutiful assurance of our devoted loyalty, gratitude, and attachment, and to offer to Your Majesty our most respectful and heartfelt congratulations on the happy occasion of the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with Her Royal Highness the Princess Alexandra of Denmark.

The expression of sincere felicitation universally called forth on this occasion by the personal virtues of the Illustrious Prince and Princess, and by their mutual affection, is enhanced by a loyal and affectionate sympathy with Your Majesty, and by the hope that so auspicious an event may be to Your Majesty a source of lasting consolation.

Those feelings have been especially manifested in an enthusiastic welcome to the amiable Princess who is now a distinguished member of the Royal Family, and who, in adding, as we trust, to the happiness of Your Majesty, will ever find the surest access to the hearts of Your Majesty's subjects.

That Your Majesty's reign over a loyal and contented people may continue to be blessed with peace, and adorned by the cultivation of art and science, is the prayer of Your Majesty's most devoted servants.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of APRIL 7, 1863.

Whitehall, April 6, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously :

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your faithful subjects, the Bishop of the diocese, the Dean, and the Canons Residentiary of the Cathedral Church of Hereford, desire to approach your Majesty with the expression of our heartfelt congratulations on the Marriage of the Prince of Wales with the Princess Alexandra of Denmark.

We are glad to unite our voice with the general acclamations of your Majesty's loyal and devoted subjects, in testifying our joy at this happy event, the pledge, we trust, of the long continuance on the throne of the family which your Majesty's benificent reign has so endeared to your people; and we indulge in sanguine but well founded hopes that this auspicious event will tend to promote both your Majesty's happiness and the welfare of your subjects.

We earnestly pray that the illustrious lady now united in the holy bands of matrimony to the heir apparent to the throne of these realms, may walk in the paths of his royal mother, may follow the example which she, in her exalted station has given to the women of this land, and that thus she may ever live, as your Majesty now does, in the hearts of your people.

Given under our Episcopal and Common Seals, this 10th day of March, in the year of Our Lord 1863.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of APRIL 10, 1863.

Whitehall April 9, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State, for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford, beg leave to approach your Royal person with the expression of our respectful congratulations on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with the Princess Alexandra of Denmark.

We have participated largely in the universal joy with which this great event has been celebrated by all classes of your Majesty's faithful subjects. But we feel ourselves entitled to a peculiar, and more than common share of the national satisfaction, when we recall to mind the connection which has been permitted to subsist between His Royal Highness and the University. It is our confident hope that the many noble qualities which won for His Royal Highness our warmest admiration and regard will continue to develop themselves more and more to the gratification and comfort of your Majesty; and we recognise some fulfilment of our sanguine expectations in the wise selection of a Princess, adorned as we believe, with every grace and virtue befitting her exalted station, and gifted with such dispositions of mind as cannot fail, when aided and encouraged by your Majesty's own most bright example, to afford the best possible securities for her own happiness, and that of her illustrious partner.

We are well assured that your Majesty in assenting to this auspicious Marriage of the Heir Apparent to the Throne of these realms has been to a great extent actuated by consideration of the public good. It becomes, therefore, our bounden duty to tender to your Majesty the renewed expressions of our lively gratitude; and at the same time to assure your Majesty that it will be our constant prayer to Almighty God that every succeeding year of your Majesty's wise and beneficent rule may, by Divine blessing, bring with it increased stability to our institutions in church and state, the maintenance of which in their integrity we believe to be amongst the dearest objects of your Majesty's solicitude and care.

Given at our House of Convocation, under our Common Seal, this 19th day of March, in the year of our Lord God, 1863.

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Cambridge.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Cambridge, humbly beg leave to express our continued devotion to your Majesty's Royal person, and to offer to your Majesty our warmest congratulations upon the recent Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

We cannot forbear to testify our unfeigned satisfaction at the happy choice which His Royal Highness has, with your Majesty's gracious approbation, made of a partner every way so well suited to share his exalted position; and to express our cordial sympathy with the joyous acclamations by which this choice has been ratified on the part of your Majesty's subjects at large.

We who have received so many marks of your Majesty's Royal favour, and enjoyed the high privilege of being under the special care and protection of your august Consort, cannot but feel a peculiar interest in the fortunes and happiness of your Royal House; and particularly in those of that illustrious member of it who has himself lived and studied among us. His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has left behind him here recollections which we willingly cherish, not only for the sake of his august parents, but for the many amiable and excellent qualities which they bespeak in himself.

On all accounts, therefore, we earnestly and heartily wish to His Royal Highness and his illustrious Bride, every happiness which Providence can bestow; and with no less earnestness and sincerity do we trust that this union will be a source of lasting comfort and satisfaction to your Majesty, and a centre of stability to the institutions and welfare of our country.

EARL RUSSELL, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has received the following Despatch with its Inclosures from the Acting British Consul at Philadelphia:

Her Majesty's Pro-Consulate, Philadelphia, March 20, 1863.

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to inclose your Lordship copy of a letter received this morning from W. M. Tilghman, Esq., Solicitor of the Surviving Trustee of the North American Land Company, established in this city by the Honourable Robert Morris and others in 1795, enclosing an advertised notice of proceedings in Escheat against the absent Shareholders in said Company, among whom are several British subjects whose interests amount to nearly two thousand pounds.

A few days ago the Deputy Escheator decided on escheating all the stock to the commonwealth of Pennsylvania; but claims by the rightful holders or their representatives will be allowed and held good on the production of legal proof (namely, that of ownership, or descent from the original holders and identity), if made within five years from the date of the decree of escheat.

Being persuaded by Mr. Tilghman that the representatives of the original owners of this stock are residing in London, and will be able to prove their title to it, I have considered it my duty to lay the matter before your Lordship's attention. I have, &c.,

GEORGE CRUMP.

The Right Honourable Earl Russell, K.G., &c., &c., &c.

417, Walnut-street, Philadelphia,
March 19, 1863.

To Her Britannic Majesty's Consul, at Philadelphia.

SIR,

ENCLOSED is a copy of an advertisement of certain dividends of the North American Land Company, contained in yesterday's North American newspaper of this city, to which I respectfully call your attention.

You will perceive from it that the property of British subjects, amounting to nearly £9000, requires attention to protect it from proceedings in escheat. Mr. Dundas, of 1333, Walnut-street, in this city, as the trustee in whose hands the fund is placed, is anxious to do everything in his power for the due protection of the interests of these absent parties, who are probably wholly ignorant of their rights, and will cheerfully co-operate with you in any measures to that end which you may think proper to suggest.

On his behalf it will give me pleasure to furnish you with any further information on the subject which may be desired.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) W. M. TILGHMAN.

Estate of the North American Land Company.

Notice of Unclaimed Dividends.

Philadelphia, March 17, 1863.

Notice is hereby given, that the Dividend awarded to the following Shareholders in the above Company, by a decree of the Court of Common Pleas, of the county of Philadelphia, affirmed by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, on the 8th of November, 1862—being six dollars and ninety-two cents per share on each share of stock standing in their respective names—is now payable by the undersigned to the said shareholders, or their legal representatives. The said Company is an unincorporated association, which was established at Philadelphia by the Honourable Robert Morris and others, in the year 1795. No dividend, except the present, has been made since 1797, and almost all the shares specified in the annexed list were transferred to the holders before the year 1800. In the cases marked thus *, proceedings in escheat have been instituted by informers, and are now pending before the Deputy Escheator at Philadelphia.

EARL RUSSELL, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has received from

M. Musurus, the Turkish Ambassador at this Court, the following corrected Translation of a Turkish Ordinance, to be substituted for the one which was published in the London Gazette of the 10th of March, 1863:

Translation of the Ordinance addressed on the 29th Redjeb, 1279 of the Hegira (January 7, 1863), to the Board of Customs.

THE repose and security of the Empire, and of all the people residing therein, demanding the prohibition of the trade in arms and munitions of war, the following provisions are made with regard to powder, cannons, arms, and all sorts of munitions of war which may henceforward arrive from abroad, and of which the importation is formally forbidden, in conformity with the Treaties of Commerce recently concluded with friendly powers.

1. It is absolutely forbidden to import into the Empire, powder in grain, whatever may be the species and the quantity, and whatever be the motive of the importation.

2. The introduction of powder-cartridges, with or without balls, is equally interdicted.

3. Neither may there be imported into the Empire any kinds of cannons, mortars, and howitzers nor their charges, such as bombs, balls, chain-shot, cartridges, and all sorts of projectiles, whether or not containing fulminating matter, bullets for muskets and for pistols, carbines, rifled muskets with or without bayonets, smooth-bored muskets, carbines and pistols, lances, and saltpetre used by troops and in war. Are excepted from this prohibition, arms for shooting and ornament, side arms (armes blanches) such as sabres, swords, knives, and powder for sporting purposes, in small quantities destined for private use.

4. The prohibited articles, enumerated above which, from the date of the present publication, shall be introduced by sea or by land into the Empire in greater or less quantity, will be immediately confiscated by the State, and delivered over to the military magazines.

The regulations contained in the preceding Articles, will, in conformity with the decision of the Imperial Government, be put into operation in the custom-houses of Constantinople and the whole Empire, from the date of the present ordinance.

Whitehall, April 9, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, noblemen, gentlemen, clergy and other inhabitants of the county of Oxford, assembled in our County Hall (by notice from the high sheriff) this 6th day of April, 1863, desire most humbly to offer our congratulations to your Majesty upon the auspicious Marriage of His Royal Highness Albert Edward Prince of Wales with the Princess Alexandra of Denmark.

We hail this opportunity of dutifully expressing our devotion and loyalty to the Crown, and our affectionate attachment to your Majesty's person.

In common with all your Majesty's subjects, we recognise the wisdom of an alliance of the heir to the Throne of this kingdom with the house of Denmark; and we are sensible that the great promise afforded by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales of admirable fitness for his exalted position, is, under Divine Providence, to be assigned to the singularly high attributes of parental care and devotion ever displayed by your Majesty and your late beloved Prince Consort.

We humbly pray that your Majesty may long be spared to rule over us, and that the illustrious Prince and Princess of Wales may be preserved in all happiness, and that the nation may ever have cause to rejoice in their union.

On behalf of the meeting.

purposes;" of which Acts the following are the most important provisions:—

I.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the first day of July, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, all invoices of goods, wares, and merchandise imported from any foreign country into the United States shall be made in triplicate, and signed by the person or persons owning or shipping said goods, wares, or merchandise, if the same have actually been purchased, or by the manufacturer or owner thereof, if the same have been procured otherwise than by purchase, or by the duly authorized agent of such purchaser, manufacturer, or owner; and said invoices shall, at or before the shipment thereof, be produced to the consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent of the United States nearest the place of shipment for the use of the United States, and shall have indorsed thereon, when so produced, a declaration signed by said purchaser, manufacturer, owner, or agent, setting forth that said invoice is in all respects true; that it contains (if the goods, wares, and merchandise mentioned therein are subject to ad valorem duty, and were obtained by purchase) a true and full statement of the time when and the place where the same were purchased, and the actual cost thereof, and of all charges thereon; and that no discounts, bounties, or drawbacks are contained in said invoice but such as have actually been allowed thereon; and when obtained in any other manner than by purchase, the actual market value thereof at the time and place when and where the same were procured or manufactured; and if subject to specific duty, the actual quantity thereof; and that no different invoice of the goods, wares, and merchandise mentioned in the invoice so produced has been or will be furnished to any one. If said goods, wares, or merchandise have been actually purchased, said declaration shall also contain a statement that the currency in which said invoice is made out is the currency which was actually paid for said goods, wares, or merchandise by the purchaser. And the person so producing said invoice shall at the same time declare to said consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent the port in the United States at which it is intended to make entry of said goods, wares, or merchandise; whereupon the said consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent shall indorse upon each of said triplicates a certificate, under his hand and official seal, stating that said invoice has been produced to him, with the date of such production, and the name of the person by whom the same was produced, and the port in the United States at which it shall be the declared intention to make entry of the goods, wares, or merchandise therein mentioned. And thereupon the said consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent shall deliver to the person producing the same one of said triplicates, to be used in making entry ot said goods, wares, or merchandise; shall file another in his office, to be there carefully preserved; and shall, as soon as practicable, transmit the remaining one to the collector of the port of the United States at which it shall be declared to be the intention to make entry of said goods, wares, or merchandise. And no goods, wares, or merchandise imported into the United States from any foreign place or country after said first day of July, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, shall be admitted to an entry unless the invoice presented shall in all respects conform to the requirements hereinbefore mentioned, and shall have thereon the certificate of the consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent hereinbefore specified, nor unless said invoice be verified at the time of making such entry by the oath or affirmation of the owner or consignee, or the authorized agent of the owner or consignee thereof, certifying that the said invoice and the declaration thereon are in all respects true, and were made by the person by whom the same purports to have been made, nor, except as hereinafter provided, unless the triplicate transmitted by said consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent to the collector shall have been received by him. And if such owner, consignee, or agent, of any goods, wares, or merchandise, shall knowingly make, or attempt to make, an entry thereof by means of any false invoice, or false certificate of a consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent, or of any invoice which shall not contain a true statement of all the particulars hereinbefore required, or by means of any other false or fraudulent document or paper, or of any other false or fraudulent practice or appliance whatsoever, said goods, wares, or merchandise, or their value, shall be forfeited and disposed of as other forfeitures for violation of the revenue laws: Provided, That where, from a change of the destination of any such goods, wares, or merchandise, after the production of the invoice thereof to the consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent, as hereinbefore provided, or from other cause, the triplicate transmitted to the collector of the port to which such goods, wares, or merchandise were originally destined, shall not have been received at the port where the same actually arrive, and where it is desired to make entry thereof, said goods, wares, and merchandise may be admitted to an entry on the execution by the owner, consignee, or agent of a bond, with sufficient security, in double the amount of duty apparently due, conditioned for the payment of the duty which shall be found to be actually due thereon. And it shall be the duty of the collector of the port where such entry shall be made immediately to notify the consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent, to whom such invoice shall have been produced, to transmit to such collector a certified copy thereof; and it shall be the duty of such consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent to transmit the same accordingly without delay; and said duty shall not be finally liquidated until such triplicate, or a certified copy thereof, shall have been received: Provided, That such liquidation shall not be delayed longer than eighteen months from the time of making such entry: And provided, further, That when, from accident or other cause, it shall be impracticable for the person desiring to make entry of any goods, wares, or merchandise, to produce, at the time of making such entry, any invoice thereof, as hereinbefore required, it shall be lawful for the Secretary of the Treasury to authorize the entry of such goods, wares, or merchandise, upon such terms and in accordance with such general or special regulations as he may prescribe. And the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby invested with the like powers of remission in cases of forfeiture arising under this Act as in other cases of forfeiture under the revenue laws: And provided, further, That the provisions of this Act shall not apply to countries where there is no consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent of the United States; nor shall any thing herein contained be construed to require for goods imported under the reciprocity treaty with Great Britain, signed June fifth, eighteen hundred and fifty-four, any other consular certificate than is now required by law. And this Act shall be construed only to modify and not repeal the Act of March first, eighteen hundred and twenty-three, entituled, "An Act supplementary to and to amend an Act entituled, 'An Act to regulate the collection of duties on imports and tonnage,' passed March second, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-nine, and for other purposes;" and the form of oaths therein set forth shall be modified accordingly; And provided, further, That the provisions of this Act shall not apply to invoices of goods, wares, or merchandise, imported into any port of the United States from any place beyond Cape Horn or the Cape of Good Hope until the first day of January, eighteen hundred and sixty-four.

II.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all goods, wares, and merchandise now in public stores or bonded warehouses, on which duties are unpaid, having been in bond more than one year and less than three years, when the Act, entituled, "An Act increasing temporarily the duties on imports, and for other purposes," approved July fourteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, went into effect, may be entered for consumption and the bonds cancelled at any time before the first day of June next, on payment of the duties at the rates prescribed by the Act aforesaid, and all Acts and parts of Acts inconsistent with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That section fourteen of an Act, entituled, "An Act increasing temporarily the duties on imports, and for other purposes," approved July fourteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, be and the same hereby is modified so as to allow cotton and raw silk as reeled from the cocoon, of the growth or produce of countries beyond the Cape of Good Hope, to be exempt from any additional duty when imported from places this side of the Cape of Good Hope, for two years from and after the passage of this Act.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That so much of an Act, entituled, "An Act to authorize protection to be given to citizens of the United States, who may discover deposits of guano," approved August eighteen, eighteen hundred and fifty-six, as prohibits the export thereof, is hereby suspended in relation to all persons who have complied with the provisions of section second of said Act for two years from and after July fourteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-three.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the proviso in section fifteen of an Act, entituled, "An Act increasing temporarily the duties on imports, and for other purposes," approved July fourteen, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, shall be construed to include any ship, vessel, or steamer to or from any port or place south of Mexico down to and including Aspinwall and Panama.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That in lieu of the duties now imposed by law there shall be levied and collected upon printing paper unsized, used for books and newspapers exclusively, twenty per centum ad valorem; upon sudlac and sticklac the same duties now imposed upon gum shellac; upon polishing powders, of all descriptions, Frankfort black, and Berlin, Chinese, fig and wash blue, twenty-five per centum ad valorem.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That from and after the passage of this Act the duty on petroleum and coal illuminating oil, crude and not refined, when imported from foreign countries in a crude state, shall be twenty per centum ad valorem and no more.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That from and after the passage of this Act there shall be allowed a drawback on foreign saltpetre manufactured into gunpowder in the United States and exported therefrom, equal in amount to the duty paid on the foreign saltpetre from which it shall be manufactured, to be ascertained under such regulations as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury and no more: Provided, That ten per centum on the amount of all drawbacks so allowed shall be retained for the use of the United States by the collectors paying such drawbacks respectively.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1858.

Notice is given in this Gazette by the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that portions of the Local Government Act, 1858, and of the other hereinafter mentioned Acts, that is to say, section 37 of the Local Government Act, 1858; sections 70 and 117 of the Public Health Act, 1848; sections 3 and 26 of the Local Government Act (1858) Amendment Act, 1861; and the provisions of the Towns' Police Clauses Act, 1847, with respect to obstructions and nuisances in the streets (that is to say, sections 21 to 29, both inclusive), which are incorporated with the Local Government Act, 1858, have been duly adopted within the town of Sittingbourne, Kent, and that, in accordance with the provisions of the Local Government Act, 1858, the said portions of such Acts have the force of law within such town.—Dated the 11th day of April, 1863.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1858.

IN the Notice of the adoption of the Local Government Act, 1858, by the District of Ealing, in the county of Middlesex (vide the Lo-Gazette of 17th March, 1863, p. 1517), the day of such adoption should have been stated as the 14th of February instead of 17th of February, 1863, as was stated in that Notice. In the Notice also of the adoption of the Local Government Act, 1858, by South Blyth (Northumberland), at p. 1517, the date of such adoption should be February 5, 1863, instead of January 7th.

A provisional order signed by Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, pursuant to the Act of the session holden in the 14th and 15th years of the reign of Her present Majesty, cap. 38, and dated the 19th day of January, 1863 (as set forth in this Gazette), authorises the trustees of the Coventry and Stoney Stanton Turnpike Road to reduce the rate of interest on the non-preferential mortgage debt charged or secured on the tolls or revenues of the said road, and to extinguish the whole of the arrears of interest due upon the said debt.

A similar provisional order, dated January 26, 1863, authorises the trustees of the Cowfold and Henfield Old Turnpike Road to reduce the rate of interest on the mortgage debt charged or secured on the tolls or revenues of the said road.

A similar provisional order, dated February 17, 1863, authorises the trustees of the Watling-street, &c., United Turnpike Roads to reduce the rate of interest on the mortgage debt charged or secured on the tolls or revenues of the said roads.

Another similar provisional order, dated March 17, 1863, authorises the trustees of the Vale of Blackmoor Turnpike Road to reduce the rate of interest on the mortgage debt charged or secured on the tolls or revenues of the said road.

Another similar provisional order, dated April 1, 1863, authorises the trustees of the Oswestry Turnpike Roads to reduce the rate of interest on part of the mortgage debt charged or secured on the tolls or revenues of the said roads.

An order of the Poor Law Board, to the Churchwardens and Overseers of the Poor of the township of Gainsborough, in the county of Lincoln, and to all others whom it may concern, dated the 27th day of March, 1863, directs that so much of the Act 13th and 14th Victoria, c. 57, entitled "An Act to prevent the holding of vestry or other meetings in churches, and for regulating the appointment of vestry clerks," as relates to the appointment of a vestry clerk, shall forthwith be applied to, and be put in force within, the said township of Gainsborough.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of APRIL 17, 1863.

Whitehall April 16, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State, for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to

Her Majesty, who has been pleased t. receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal subjects, the Lord Lieutenant, Noblemen, Clergy, Gentry, and other Inhabitants of the county of Buckingham, venture to approach your Royal presence with our dutiful and cordial congratulations on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with the Princess Alexandra of Denmark.

We avail ourselves of this happy occasion to reiterate the expression of our constant attachment to your Majesty's Royal person and family, and again to give utterance to the deep and affectionate sympathy with which we ever regard all those events and dispensations of providence affecting, in any manner, the happiness and comfort of our august Sovereign's exemplary and illustrious life.

That it may be the will of Almighty God to fulfil and bless all the hopes which your Majesty has founded on this auspicious Marriage, and the sanguine expectations cherished by your devoted and faithful people for the prosperity and continuance of your Royal family and race, is our fervent prayer.

Dated this 6th day of April, 1863, at a Public Meeting of the County duly convened by notice from the High Sheriff, and holden in the County Hall, Aylesbury.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to give orders for the appointment of Colonel Neville Bowles Chamberlain, C B., of the Bengal Army, to be an Ordinary Member of the Military Division of the Second Class, or Knights Commanders, of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath.

War Office, April 16, 1863.

THE Queen has been graciously pleased to signify Her intention. to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross on the under-mentioned Officers, whose claims to the same have been submitted for Her Majesty's approval, on account of Acts of Bravery performed by them in India, as recorded against their names ; viz. :

The late 13*th Bengal Native Infantry* (now of the Bengal Staff Corps).

Lieutenant (now Captain) Robert Hope Moncrieff Aitken.—For various acts of gallantry performed during the defence of the Residency of Lucknow, from the 30th of June to the 22nd of November, 1857.

1. On three different occasions, Lieutenant Aitken went into the garden under the enemy's loopholes in the "Captain's Bazaar." On two of these occasions, he brought out a number of bullocks which had been left in the garden;—subsequently, on the 3rd of July, the enemy having set fire to the Bhoosa Stock in the garden and it being apprehended that the fire would reach the Powder Magazine which had been left there, Lieutenant Aitken, accompanied by other Officers, went into the garden, and cut down all the tents which might have communicated the fire to the powder. This was done, close to the enemy's loopholes, under a bright light from the flames. It was a most dangerous service.

2. On the night of the 20th of August, the enemy having set fire to the Baillie Guard Gate, Lieutenant Aitken was the first man in the gateway, and, assisted by some sepoys and a water-carrier of his Regiment, he partially opened the gate under a heavy fire of musketry, and, having removed the burning wood and straw, saved the gate.

3. On the evening of the 25th of September, this Officer led on twelve sepoys of his Regiment, for the purpose of attacking two guns opposite the gate referred to, in order to prevent their being turned on the late Major-General Havelock's second column. Having captured them, he attacked and took the Teree Kotee, with a small force.

4. On the morning of the 26th of September, with a small party of his Regiment, he assaulted and captured the barricaded gateway of the Furreed Buksh Palace, and the Palace itself. On this occasion, he sprang up against a small wicket gate on the right, and prevented the enemy from shutting it, until, with assistance, it was forced open, and the assaulting party were thus enabled to rush in. The complete success of the attack was solely owing to this Officer's distinguished bravery.

5. In a subsequent sortie on the 29th of September, Lieutenant Aitken volunteered to take a gun which still continued firing, taking with him four soldiers through the houses and lanes to the gun. The enemy fired on this party from the houses, but they held their ground, until a stronger party coming up, the gun was upset from its carriage, and taken into the Residency. Another gun was subsequently taken.

The late Bombay Engineers (now of the Royal Engineers).

Lieutenant Charles Augustus Goodfellow.—For gallant conduct at the attack on the Fort of Beyt, on the 6th of October, 1859. On that occasion, a soldier of the 28th Regiment was shot under the walls of the Fort. Lieutenant Goodfellow rushed under the walls, under a sharp fire of matchlocks, and bore off the body of the soldier, who was then dead, but whom he at first supposed to be wounded only.

Foreign Office, April 16, 1863.

(Signed) W. KNOLLYS, Lieutenant-General.

Whitehall, April 20, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously :

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Body of English Presbyterian Ministers, in and near the cities of London and Westminster, beg to offer to your Majesty our heartfelt congratulations on the occasion of the Marriage of the eldest Son of your Royal House with Her Royal Highness the Princess Alexandra of Denmark.

A union founded, not on the ground of State policy, but on the far higher ground of mutual regard and affection, cannot but be alike grateful to your Majesty's own feelings and congenial with the wishes and hopes of your loyal and devoted people. The abundant testimony borne to the virtues and amiable dispositions of the Princess Alexandra, cannot but inspire the happiest confidence in Her Royal Highness as the Wife of the Prince of Wales, both in his exalted public position and in the sanctities of domestic life; indeed, the love and honour His Royal Highness bears towards his chosen bride, are the best pledge that could be given that she is worthy of the admiration and attachment of this great Country.

We are persuaded that your Majesty's Children can never form a new home, without a deep and abiding feeling of what they owe to that home of their early years, which has been an unspeakable blessing to them and the whole Nation.

Most fervently do we join in the prayer now ascending from all hearts, that Heaven's choicest blessing may rest on your new Daughter and Her Royal Husband, and that your Majesty may have unfailing comfort and happiness in them and all your Children.

And the following on the same subject: from

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of APRIL 22, 1863.

Lord Chamberlain's Office, April 22, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given, that Her Majesty's Birthday will be celebrated on Saturday, the 6th of June next.

Lord Chamberlain's Office, April 22, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will, by command of The Queen, hold a Levee at St. James's Palace, on behalf of Her Majesty, on Wednesday, the 13th of May next, at two o'clock.

It is The Queen's pleasure that Presentations to His Royal Highness at this Levee shall be considered as equivalent to presentations to Her Majesty.

Lord Chamberlain's Office, April 22, 1863.

NOTICE is hereby given, that Her Royal Highness The Princess of Wales will, by command of The Queen, hold a Drawing Room at St. James's Palace, on behalf of Her Majesty, on Saturday, the 16th of May next, at two o'clock.

It is The Queen's pleasure that presentations to Her Royal Highness at this Drawing Room shall be considered as equivalent to presentations to Her Majesty.

Whitehall, April 23, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Archbishop, Bishops, and Clergy of the Province of York, in Convocation assembled, desire to express to your Majesty our sincere congratulations upon the recent union of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with a Princess endowed with all the qualities to adorn the high station which she is called, under the providence of God, to occupy.

The universal rejoicing of your people at this auspicious union has been as much an expression of grateful devotion to the Sovereign whose wise rule and pure example have been for many years amongst our greatest national blessings, as of hope for the future happiness of one so dear to your Majesty and so full of promise. And one thing alone detracted from our rejoicing that the shadow of a great sorrow still overhanging your Majesty's Royal House prevented your Majesty from receiving in person from millions of your affectionate people, that expression of loyal affection and sympathy of which your Majesty, though absent, was the chief object.

We humbly pray that all the joys and sorrows with which it has pleased the Almighty to visit you may draw your Majesty more to Him who is the strength of Thrones and the comfort of troubled hearts.

We pray that your Majesty may rule happily for many years over a people blessed with peace and prosperity and growing in the love of God and of His Blessed Son, and that you may see your children's children brought up in the faith and fear of Almighty God.

W., Ebor, President.

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Ministers and Elders of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, met in Commission.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Ministers and Elders of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland met, in Special Commission, desire to embrace the earliest opportunity of conveying to Your Majesty our Congratulations on the marriage of the Prince of Wales.

On this auspicious occasion, the past and the present divide with the future, our interest and our sympathy. In the principles and character of

His Royal Highness we recognise the happy fruits of the domestic virtues of your Majesty and of your illustrious and lamented Consort; and in the alliance between His Royal Highness and a Princess of kindred race, worthy of his affection, we discern at once the richest reward of your Majesty's anxieties as a mother, and the best earthly consolations of your bereavement as a wife.

Participating as we did in that jubilee of joy which signalised the common festival of Britain and Denmark, and which we feel assured was no where more enthusiastic than in this your Majesty's ancient kingdom of Scotland, we, as becomes the Ministers and Elders of a National Church that has experienced your fostering protection, will not cease to offer up our supplications that the Author of every good and perfect gift may shed his choicest blessings on a union which holds forth the fairest promise of happily influencing the future of your great and advancing empire.

That He, by whom kings reign, even the God and Father of Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, may long preserve your Majesty to be, as you have hitherto been, the honoured instrument of a Gracious Providence for the benefit, temporal and spiritual, of all classes of a happy, loyal, and grateful people, is the earnest prayer of,

May it please your Majesty, the Ministers and Elders assembled in Commission of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and at our appointment, by

Ja. Bisset, D.D., Moderator of last General Assembly.

At Edinburgh, the 11th day of March, 1863 years.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of APRIL 28, 1863.

Whitehall, April 27, 1863.

THE following Addresess of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lieutenant - Governor, Council, Deemsters, and Keys of the Isle of Man, in Tynwald assembled, beg leave to approach your Majesty with the most profound sentiments of duty and respect, to present our heartfelt congratulations on the auspicious occasion of the marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, an event which, in this island, as elsewhere throughout the empire, has excited the loyalty and sincere affection of your Majesty's subjects.

Whilst the cherished memory of that great and virtuous Prince, your Majesty's Royal Consort, whom it has pleased Almighty God to take unto Himself, will ever be revered, we feel also assured that the influence upon his descendants of his great example, and of his wise counsels, will be shown for generations to come, in the continued increasing prosperity and good government of this great and favoured nation.

It is, therefore, with the deepest interest that we participate with your Majesty's subjects at large in the gratification felt in an event which must so largely add to your domestic comfort, and holds forth so bright a promise for the future welfare of your people.

We express a hope that your Majesty will receive favourably the assurance that the ancient and dutiful people, of whom we are the Legislative Representatives, do not yield to any of your subjects in attachment to your person and devotion to your service; and we fervently pray that the Almighty Disposer of events may continue graciously to protect your Majesty, and to grant that you may long reign over a happy and prosperous people.

Castle Rushen 16th April, 1863.

REGULATIONS FOR THE REGISTRATION OF POST LETTERS.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the Session of Parliament, holden in the 3rd and 4th years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter 96, for the regulation of the duties of postage, it was enacted by section 39

(after reciting that it might be expedient that certain post letters should be registered), that in case the Postmaster-General should at any time deem it expedient that all or any post letters should be registered by the Post Office, the Postmaster-General, might, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, forward letters so registered without charging any additional rate for the registration thereof, or he might charge for any letter so registered such rate of postage in addition to any other rates payable under the Post Office Acts as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, should from time to time direct (but such registration should not render the Postmaster-General, or the Post Office Revenue, in any manner liable for the loss of any such post letters or the contents thereof), and that all registered letters should be delivered to the Post Office, and also be delivered by the Post Office, at or between such hours in the day, and under all such regulations in every respect, as the Postmaster-General should from time to time appoint; and that the Postmaster-General might therein require such registration rate to be paid on the letter being put into the Post Office. And by section 60 it was further enacted that in all cases in which the postage of any unstamped letter should not have been paid by the sender it should be paid by the person to whom the letter is addressed, on the delivery thereof to him, but that if the letter should be refused, or the party to whom it is addressed should be dead, or could not be found, the writer or sender should pay the postage; and that the now reciting enactment should apply to every packet, newspaper, and thing whatsoever chargeable with postage, which should be transmitted by the post. And by section

63 it was also enacted that all post letters should be posted, forwarded, conveyed, and delivered under and subject to all such orders, directions, and regulations, and under and subject to all such conditions, limitations, and restrictions as to the form, size, dimensions, enclosures, or otherwise, as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, should from time to time direct.

And whereas by a certain other Act of Parliament, made and passed in the session of Parliament holden in the 10th and 11th years of the reign of Her Majesty, chapter 85, for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post-office, after reciting the said hereinbefore recited Act, it was enacted by section 10 that it should be lawful for the Postmaster-General, and any officer of the Post Office, to detain any letters which should be posted or sent by the post contrary to the regulations of the said now recited Act or the said hereinbefore recited Act, or contrary to any regulations made under the authority of the said now reciting Act, or the said hereinbefore recited Act, or contrary to the regulations of any Treasury Warrant which should be issued under or by virtue of the said now recited Act, or which had been or should be issued under or by virtue of the said hereinbefore recited Act, and to forward such letters to the places of their destination, charged with such rates of postage as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, should from time to time direct.

And whereas by the said two hereinbefore recited Acts, respectively, it was provided that whenever the order, consent, authority, or direction of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury was prescribed by the said Acts, such order, consent, authority, or direction (not being by Warrant), might be signified, either under the hands of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, or any three of them, or under the hand of one of their Secretaries or Assistant Secretaries.

And whereas, in pursuance of the said recited Acts, a system of registration has been established, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, whereby the public have been and are entitled to forward letters by the post at a certain charge or registration rate of postage, in addition to the other rates payable thereon, and it is expedient that such system of registration should be extended, and such registration rate altered, in manner and according to the regulations hereinafter mentioned and contained, and that certain orders, directions, and regulations for that purpose heretofore made, should be rescinded, revoked, repealed, and annulled.

Now I, Edward John, Lord Stanley of Alderley, Her Majesty's Postmaster-General, by and with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, signified under the hand of one of their Secretaries, whose name is hereunto set, do hereby rescind, revoke, repeal, and annul certain orders, directions, and regulations heretofore by me made, and bearing date the 20th day of December, 1862, except so far as the same shall have rescinded, revoked, repealed, or annulled any other orders, directions, or regulations theretofore made, and except as to all matters and things which shall have been made or done previous to the coming into operation of these orders, directions, and regulations as to which the said orders, directions, and regulations, bearing date the 20th day of December, 1862, shall be and remain in full force and effect, notwithstanding the repeal thereof, which is only to operate as from the day on which these orders, directions, and regulations shall come into operation; and I do hereby, by and with such consent as aforesaid, order, direct, and declare as follows:—

1. The registration rate of postage, payable at any Post Office in the United Kingdom on inland letters registered during the ordinary hours appointed for the registration thereof at such Post Office, shall be four pence, and such registration rate shall be payable in stamps, but this regulation shall not extend to the registration rates chargeable and payable on colonial or foreign letters.

2. All letters, whether inland, colonial, or foreign, may be registered at the metropolitan chief Post Offices or at the London District Post Offices (including the Lombard-street and Charing Cross Branch Post Offices), or at any Provincial Head Post Office in the United Kingdom, after the ordinary hours appointed for the registration thereof, at any such Post Office, until the closing of the letter-box for each dispatch, or until such Post Office is closed for the night, upon payment of a late registration rate of postage of four pence, which shall be payable in stamps in addition to the ordinary registration rate, and to any other rates chargeable or payable thereon.

3. All letters containing coin, posted in any town or place in the United Kingdom, addressed to any person, town, or place in the United Kingdom, and all letters which shall have written or put thereon the word "registered," or any other word or words of the like meaning or to the like effect when posted, whether the same shall or contain therein coin or not, shall be delivered to the Post Office for registration, and shall be registered by the Post Office at the time of the same being posted, and a rate of postage of four pence for every letter so registered shall be charged for the registration thereof, in addition to any other rates of postage payable thereon, or which may become chargeable thereon under the regulations hereinbefore, in the 2nd clause mentioned, and every such registration rate shall be paid in stamps at the time of such letters being posted.

4. If any such letters shall be put into the Post Office without being registered by the Post Office, and without the registration rate or rates chargeable thereon, being paid in stamps, as hereinbefore in the third clause is mentioned and directed, such letters shall be registered by any Post Office through which they may pass in course of transmission thereof by the post, and shall be forwarded so registered to their destination, and shall be charged with double the ordinary registration rate of postage of four pence, in addition to any other rates of postage chargeable or payable thereon, with a deduction nevertheless equal to the amount of any stamps which may have been affixed to such letters in payment or part payment of the registration rate chargeable thereon.

5. Any such letters as are hereinbefore in the 4th clause mentioned, may be detained for the purpose of being registered by any Post Office through which they may pass in course of transmission thereof by the post, until the next ordinary dispatch to that by which they would have been forwarded, conveyed, and delivered, if they had been registered by the Post Office according to the directions hereinbefore in the 3rd clause mentioned.

6. The 3rd and 4th clauses hereinbefore contained shall not extend to any letters sent to or from any of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country.

7. These regulations shall come into operation on and from the 1st day of May next.

Given under my hand this 2nd day of April. 1863.

Stanley of Alderley,
Her Majesty's Postmaster-General.

I hereby signify the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to the foregoing regulations.

F. Peel.

Local Government Act, 1858.

Notice is given in this Gazette by the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that whereas that notice in writing was duly given to him that the Local Government Act, 1858, was adopted on the 12th day of February, 1863, by the parish of Tideswell, in the county of Derby; and whereas an appeal has been duly made, under the provisions of the said Act, by owners and ratepayers within the said parish, praying for the exclusion of such parish from the operation of such Act; and whereas inquiry has been duly directed into the circumstances of the case, and such inquiry has been made, it is ordered, under the provisions of the said Act, as follows:—

That the said parish of Tideswell, in the county of Derby, be excluded from the operation of the Local Government Act, 1858.

Dated the 27th day of April, 1863.

An order of the Poor Law Board, to the Churchwardens and Overseers of the Poor of the parish of Holdenhurst, in the county of Southampton, and to all others whom it may concern, dated the 15th day of April, 1863, directs that so much of the Act passed in the fourteenth year of Her Majesty as relates to the appointment of a vestry clerk, shall forthwith be applied to, and be put in force within, the said parish of Holdenhurst.

EARL RUSSELL, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has received from Sir Arthur C. Magenis, Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Lisbon, a copy of a Law passed by the Portuguese Government, and published in the "Diario de Lisboa," of April 7, 1863, abolishing passports for the Interior of Portugal, the Azores, and Maderia, of which the following is a translation :—

"Dom Lewis, by the Grace of God, King of "Portugal, and of the Algarves, &c., we make "known to all our subjects that the General "Cortes have decreed, and that we sanction the "following law :—

Article 1st. Passports for the interior of the kingdom of Portugal are abolished.

Article 2nd. All persons, both natives and foreigners, will be allowed to travel and pass freely through the continent and the adjacent islands without being dependent upon passports or any other documents of a similar nature.

Article 3rd. The Government will make in the Police regulations now in force the proper modifications, so that, firstly, travellers arriving from foreign countries and entering the kingdom shall not meet with unnecessary obstructions, or pay any fees which they are not bound to pay; and secondly, for the purpose of harmonizing the fees paid by vessels on entering and quitting the ports of the kingdom, so that in equality of circumstances native vessels shall not pay greater fees than foreign vessels, and no greater fees shall be exacted at one port than at another, unless there should be a special reason for it.

Article 4th. The tax of 600 reis, which is paid at present by foreigners entering the bar of Lisbon, is repealed.

Article 5th. All the legislation to the contrary, is revoked.

We command, therefore, all the authorities to whom the knowledge of, and the compliance with, the said law appertain, that they do comply with it, and cause it to be complied with, and observed exactly as is contained therein.

The Ministers and Secretaries of State for the Affairs of the Interior and of Finance, shall have it printed, published, and put into circulation.

Given at the Palace of Mafra on the 31st day of January, 1863.

(Signed) THE KING.

EARL RUSSELL, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has received from Mr. Ward, Her Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires and Consul-General at the Hanse Towns, a copy of an Ordinance of the Senate of Lübeck, abolishing the necessity of passports to foreigners frequenting the territory of that State from the 1st of May next, of which the following is a translation.

Translation. 1863, April 11.—No. 7.

ORDINANCE TOUCHING THE ABOLITION OF THE NECESSITY OF PASSPORTS.

(Published April 15th, 1863).

In order to facilitate the resort of foreigners, the Senate has resolved upon the following regulations, which shall come into force on the 1st of May next.

Foreigners who arrive in the Lübeck territory shall not be required to produce a Passport or any other document of legitimation of their journey, or to have the same visa-ed by the Lübeck Police authorities; but they shall be obliged, as heretofore, if officially required, to give satisfactory proof as to their persons and means of living.

After a term of residence exceeding one month, the regulations of the Ordinance of November 28th, 1860, touching the residence of foreigners in the State of Lübeck, and the necessity of cards of residence (aufenthaltskarten), shall come into force.

Foreign handicraftsmen, only passing through, shall, in consequence of the above general regulations, also be exempted from the necessity of producing their travelling-book to the Police Authorities, or of having it visa-ed by them; at the desire of the former, however, their books shall be visa-ed, as has hitherto been the practice.

3.

Foreign handicraftsmen, workmen in factories, mechanics, servants, and others of the same class who arrive in the Lübeck territory in search of work, livelihood, or service; or who travel in the State of Lübeck in search of a livelihood, or living, by their profession, shall still be subject to the respective special regulations, and shall therefore, directly on their arrival, be obliged to produce to the Police authorities the necessary papers (viz., travelling-book, work-book, Passport, or certificate of settlement).

As regards the admission of Foreigners into the houses of Lübeck subjects, the regulations of the Ordinance of December 27th, 1851, which relates to the necessity of giving notice of the names of foreigners staying in the inns and public houses, as well as the Ordinances of August 25th, 1855, touching the admission of foreigners and the rules for servants, dated June 25th, 1862, shall remain in force.

Given at Lübeck, in the assembly of the Senate, on April 11th, 1863.

(Signed) C. TH. OVERBECK, Dr., Secretary.

At the Court at Windsor, the 28th day of April, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

THIS day, the Right Honourable George Frederick Samuel, Earl de Grey and Ripon, was, by Her Majesty's command, sworn of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and took his place at the Board accordingly.

At the Court at Windsor, the 28th day of April, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

HER Majesty having been pleased to appoint the Right Honourable George Frederick Samuel, Earl de Grey and Ripon, to be one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, he was this day, by Her Majesty's command, sworn one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State accordingly.

At the Court at Windsor, the 28th day of April, 1863.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order, on the petition of the Justices of the Peace, assembled at the general Quarter Sessions of the Peace, holden at Petworth, in and for the Western division of the county of Sussex, on Thursday, the ninth day of April, 1863, that Cowfold, at present a polling place for the borough of New Shoreham shall cease to be such, and that West Grinstead, in the said borough of New Shoreham, shall be a polling place for taking the poll at the election of members to serve in Parliament, for the said borough of New Shoreham instead of Cowfold; and that Worthing, Henfield, Warnham, Ifield, and Ashington Common, in the parish of Washington, all in the said borough of New Shoreham, shall be additional polling places for the said borough of New Shoreham.

At the Court at Windsor, the 28th day of April, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the rules and practice observed for the purpose of preventing collisions at sea, which were formerly adopted by maritime nations, have proved insufficient to satisfy the requirements of modern navigation; and whereas various alterations in such rules and practice have from time to time been made by different nations, but the rules so altered have been found to be in some cases inconsistent with each other, and in other cases to have the force of municipal law only; and whereas certain regulations for the purpose aforesaid have been sanctioned by the "Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862," and are contained in table C, in the schedule to that Act. And whereas the said regulations have, in pursuance of the provisions in the said Act contained, been modified by an Order in Council, bearing date the 9th day of January, 1863, and the said regulations so modified, are appended to the said Order and to this Order. And whereas, by virtue of the said Act, and of the said Order, the said regulations so appended, as aforesaid, will so far as relates to British and French ships, and also so far as relates to other foreign ships when within British jurisdiction, come into operation on the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three. And whereas it is provided by the same Act, that whenever it is made to appear to Her Majesty that the Government of any foreign country is willing that the regulations for preventing collision contained in Table C in the schedule to the said Acts, or such other regulations for preventing collision as are, for the time being, in force under the said Act should apply to the ships of such country when beyond the limits of British jurisdiction, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, direct that such regulations shall apply to the ships of the said foreign country, whether within British jurisdiction or not: And it is further provided by the said Act that whenever an Order in Council has been issued applying any regulation made by or in pursuance of the said Act to the ships of any foreign country, such ships shall in all cases arising in any British court be deemed to be subject to such regulation, and shall for the purpose of such regulation be treated as if they were British ships: And whereas it has been made to appear to Her Majesty that the following governments, that is to say:—

The Government of His Majesty the Emperor of Austria:

The Government of His Majesty the King of the Belgians:

The Government of His Majesty the King of Hanover:

The Government of His Majesty the King of Hayti:

The Government of His Majesty the King of Italy:

The Government of His Royal Highness the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin:

The Government of His Royal Highness the Grand Duke of Oldenburg:

The Government of His Majesty the King of Portugal:

The Government of His Majesty the King of Prussia:

Are willing that the said Regulations appended to the said Order, and to this Order, should, on and after the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, apply to ships belonging to their respective countries when beyond the limits of British jurisdiction;

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the power vested in Her by the said recited Act, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to direct:

That the said Regulations appended to the said Order in Council, bearing date the ninth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and to this Order, shall, on and after the said first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, apply to ships belonging to the following countries; that is to say:

Austria, Belgium,
Hanover,
Hayti,
Italy,
Mecklenburg-Schwerin,
Oldenburg, Portugal, Prussia,

whether within British jurisdiction or not.

PRELIMINARY.

Art. 1. In the following Rules every Steam Ship which is under sail and not under steam is to be considered a Sailing Ship; and every Steam Ship which is under steam, whether under sail or not, is to be considered a ship under steam.

RULES CONCERNING LIGHTS.

Lights.

Art. 2. The Lights mentioned in the following Articles, numbered 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9, and no others, shall be carried in all weathers, from sunset to sunrise.

Lights for Steam Ships.

Art. 3. Sea-going Steam-ships when under weigh shall carry:

(a.) At the Foremast Head, a bright White Light, so fixed as to show an uniform and unbroken Light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the ship, viz., from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least five miles:

(b.) On the Starboard Side, a Green Light so constructed as to throw an uniform and unbroken Light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the starboard side; and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles:

(c.) On the Port Side, a Red Light, so constructed as to show an uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass; so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the port side; and of such a character, as to be visible on a dark night, with a clear atmosphere, at a distance of at least two miles:

(d.) The said Green and Red Side Lights shall be fitted with inboard screens, projecting at least three feet forward from the Light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

Lights for Steam Tugs.

Art. 4. Steam Ships, when towing other ships, shall carry two bright White Mast-head Lights vertically, in addition to their side lights, so as to distinguish them from other Steam Ships. Each of these Mast-head Lights shall be of the same construction and character as the Mast-head Lights which other Steam-Ships are required to carry.

Lights for Sailing Ships.

Art. 5. Sailing Ships under weigh, or being towed, shall carry the same lights as Steam Ships under weigh, with the exception of the White Mast-head Lights, which they shall never carry.

Exceptional Lights for small Sailing Vessels.

Art. 6. Whenever, as in the case of small vessels during bad weather, the Green and Red lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept on deck, on their respective sides of the vessel, ready for instant exhibition ; and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the Green light shall not be seen on the port side, nor the Red light on the starboard side.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with suitable screens.

Lights for Ships at Anchor.

Art. 7. Ships, whether steam ships or sailing ships, when at anchor in roadsteads or fairways, shall exhibit, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding twenty-feet above the hull, a White Light, in a globular lantern of eight inches in diameter, and so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon, and at a distance of at least one mile.

Lights for Pilot Vessels.

Art. 8. Sailing Pilot Vessels shall not carry the lights required for other sailing vessels, but shall carry a White Light at the mast head, visible all round the horizon,—and shall also exhibit a Flare-up Light every fifteen minutes.

Lights for Fishing Vessels and Boats.

Art. 9. Open Fishing Boats and other open boats shall not be required to carry the side lights required for other vessels; but shall, if they do not carry such lights, carry a lantern having a Green Slide on the one side and a Red Slide on the other side; and on the approach of or to other vessels, such lantern shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the Green light shall not be seen on the port side, nor the Red light on the starboard side.

Fishing Vessels and open boats when at anchor, or attached to their nets and stationary, shall exhibit a bright White Light.

Rules concerning Fog Signals.

Fog Signals.

Art. 10. Whenever there is fog, whether by day or night, the Fog Signals described below shall be carried and used, and shall be sounded at least every five minutes; viz.:—

(a.) Steam Ships under weigh shall use a Steam Whistle placed before the funnel, not less than eight feet from the deck:

(b.) Sailing ships under weigh shall use a Fog Horn:

Steering and Sailing Rules.

Two Sailing Ships meeting.

Art. 11. If Two Sailing Ships are meeting end on or nearly end on so as to involve risk of collision, the helms of both shall be put to port, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

Two Sailing Ships crossing.

Art. 12. When two sailing ships are crossing so as to involve risk of collision, then, if they have the wind on different sides, the ship with the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the ship with the wind on the starboard side; except in the case in which the ship with the wind on the port side is close hauled and the other ship free, in which case the latter ship shall keep out of the way; but if they have the wind on the same side, or if one of them has the wind aft, the ship which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the ship which is to leeward.

Two Ships under Steam Meeting.

Art. 13. If two ships under steam are meeting end on or nearly end on so as to involve risk of collision, the helms of both shall be put to port, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

Two Ships under Steam Crossing.

Art. 14. If two ships under steam are crossing so as to involve risk of collision, the ship which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

Sailing Ship and Ship under Steam.

Art. 15. If two ships, one of which is a sailing ship, and the other a steam ship, are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam ship shall keep out of the way of the sailing ship.

Ships under Steam to slacken Speed.

Art. 16. Every steam ship, when approaching another ship so as to involve risk of collision, shall slacken her speed, or, if necessary, stop and reverse; and every steam ship shall, when in a fog, go at a moderate speed.

Vessels overtaking other Vessels.

Art. 17. Every vessel overtaking any other vessel shall keep out of the way of the said last-mentioned vessel.

Construction of Articles, 12, 14, 15, and 17.

Art. 18. Where by the above rules one of two ships is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course, subject to the qualifications contained in the following Article.

Proviso to save special cases.

Art. 19. In obeying and construing these rules, due regard must be had to all dangers of navigation; and due regard must also be had to any special circumstances which may exist in any particular case rendering a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

No Ship, under any circumstances, to neglect proper precautions.

Art. 20. Nothing in these Rules shall exonerate any ship, or the owner, or master, or crew thereof, from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper look-out, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MAY 5, 1863.

Whitehall, May 4, 1863.

THE following Addresess of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To Her Most Gracious Majesty the QUEEN.

THE Dean and Chapter of Westminster humbly beg leave to offer their congratulations to your Majesty on the occasion of the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

As ministers of Almighty God in that ancient Church where sovereigns of England have been crowned during eight hundred years, the Dean and Canons of Westminster have special cause to acknowledge the blessings which He has been pleased to bestow upon this nation by means of those monarchs whom his providence has set over it, and particularly by the bright example of your Majesty's reign which they trust may be long continued in happiness and peace, and they unite in earnest prayer to the King of Kings that He would make the marriage of His Royal Highness to be a source of comfort and joy to your Majesty and of a rich inheritance of blessings to many future generations of the People committed to your care.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1858.

Notice is given in this Gazette by the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that whereas the Local Government Act, 1858, was adopted on the 7th day of March, 1863, by the township of Long Preston, in the county of York; and whereas an appeal has been duly made, under the provisions of the said Act, by owners and ratepayers within the said township, praying for the exclusion thereof from the operation of such Act: and whereas inquiry has been duly directed into the circumstances of the case, and such inquiry has been made, it is ordered, under the provisions of the said Act, as follows:—

That the said township of Long Preston, in the county of York, be excluded from the operation of the Local Government Act, 1858.

Dated the 2nd day of May, 1863.

THE HARBOURS TRANSFER ACT, 1862.

Whitehall, 28th April, 1863.

THE Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having given to the Board of Trade the following notice, do now publish the same, and all persons concerned are hereby informed that the harbours, ports, bays, estuaries, or navigable rivers to which the said notice relates, or the parts thereof therein specified, will entirely be and remain, as if the Harbours Transfer Act, 1862, so far as relates to section 8 thereof had not been passed.

By Command of their Lordships,

C. PAGET.

In the Matter of the Harbours Transfer Act, 1862, and of Her Majesty's Dockyards, Victualling Yards, Steam Factory Yards, Arsenals, or Naval Stations of Portsmouth, Portland, Plymouth, Pembroke and Milford Haven, Woolwich, Chatham and Sheerness, Deptford, Dover, Greenhithe, and Falmouth.

To the Lords of the Committee of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, appointed for the consideration of Matters relating to Trade and Foreign Plantations.

25 & 26 Vic., c. 69.

Whereas the above-mentioned Act of Parliament was passed in the session of the 25th and 26th years of Her Majesty;

And whereas it was by the said Act enacted in section two, that in that Act the term "the Admiralty" should be taken to mean the Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom for the time being, or the Commissioners for the time being for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral; and that when the said term was used in reference to any other Act, it should be taken to comprise any term whatsoever used in such other Act to designate such Lord High Admiral or Commissioners; and that the term "the Board of Trade" should be taken to mean the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for the time being, appointed for the consideration of Matters relating to Trade and Foreign Plantations;

And whereas it was by the said Act further enacted, in section eight, that where any special or local, or local and personal Act, or Act of a local or local and personal nature, then already passed, or to be passed before the end of the then present session of Parliament,—

(1.) Authorising or regulating the construction of a railway, or the execution of any work whatever, situate on or affecting tidal lands or the shore of the sea, or of any navigable river where, and so far up the same as, the tide flows and reflows; or,

(2) Authorising or regulating the construction or improving of a harbour, dock, or pier, or works connected therewith, by any company, body corporate, commissioners, trustees, undertakers, persons, or person; or,

(3) Constituting or altering or regulating the constitution of any harbour or conservancy authority; or,

(4) Altering or regulating the powers or duties of any harbour or conservancy authority, contains, either expressly or by incorporation or reference, or otherwise, any provision for any of the purposes following :—

For preventing the construction or execution of any work or the doing of anything without the consent or approval of the Admiralty, or for authorising or requiring any work to be constructed, executed, or maintained, or anything to be done with the consent or on the requisition or to the satisfaction of the Admiralty ;

For empowering the Admiralty to exercise any authority concerning life boats, mortars, rockets, tide guages, or barometers to be provided by any undertakers ;

For empowering the Admiralty to make a local survey or examination at the expense of any company, body, or persons ;

For empowering the Admiralty, in case of any work being abandoned or suffered to fall into disuse or decay, or in any other case, to abate, remove, or alter any work, or any part of it, or restore the site thereof to its former condition at the like expense ;

For empowering the Admiralty to exercise any authority concerning lights to be maintained at night during the construction or execution of any work ;

For empowering the Admiralty, or the First Lord of the Admiralty, to nominate or appoint a member or members of any board, or body of trustees, commissioners, or conservators, or of any harbour or conservancy authority ;

For empowering the Admiralty to determine any dispute or difference between or among any bodies or persons ;

For empowering the Admiralty, or the First Lord of the Admiralty, to nominate or appoint any arbitrator, referee, or umpire, or any engineer, inspector, or officer, or any person to fill any place or discharge any duty under such Act, or any other provision for the protection, management, or regulation of harbours or navigation, or for the exercise of any control or power over or in relation to any harbour authority, or any other provision in anywise relating to conservancy, or authorising or requiring any act or thing concerning harbours or navigation, or conservancy, to be done by or in r lation to the Admiralty.

Then, from and after the 31st day of December, 1862, such Acts and all enactments relative thereto should be read and construed, as if in the respective provisions aforesaid the Board of Trade were named instead of the Admiralty, and the President of the Board of Trade instead of the First Lord of the Admiralty.

And whereas in the same Act, was contained a proviso forming Section nine, whereby it was provided that where it appeared to the Admiralty that the interests of Her Majesty's Naval Service required that the whole, or any part of any harbour, port, bay, estuary, or navigable river, in, on, or adjoining to which there was, or should be any of Her Majesty's dock-yards, victualling-yards, steam factory yards, arsenals, or naval stations, should be excepted either entirely, or in some respects out of the operation of the therein last foregoing section, meaning the said Section eight, the Admiralty might give notice in writing to the Board of Trade, that any such harbour, port, bay, estuary, or navigable river as aforesaid, or such part thereof as should be in the notice specified, was to be deemed so excepted, either entirely or in the respects therein mentioned. And that every such notice should be published by the Admiralty in the London, Edinburgh, or Dublin Gazette (according as the place affected might be in England, Scotland, or Ireland), and that thereupon the harbour, port, bay, estuary, or navigable river, to which such notice should relate, or the part thereof therein specified should either entirely, or in the respects therein mentioned, as the case might require, be and remain as if that Act had not been passed;

And whereas certain of Her Majesty's dockyards, victualling-yards, steam factory yards, arsenals, or Naval stations specified in column 1 of the schedule hereto, are respectively in, on, or adjoining to the harbours, ports, bays, estuaries, or navigable rivers specified in column 2 of the same schedule;

And whereas it appears to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that the interests of Her Majesty's Naval Service require that the said several harbours, ports, bays, estuaries, or navigable rivers to the extent specified in relation thereto respectively, in columns 3 of the said schedule hereto, should be entirely excepted out of the operation of section eight of the said Act, being the provision secondly hereinbefore recited.

Now, therefore, the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty do, by this writing, in pursuance of the Harbours' Transfer Act, 1862, and by virtue and in exercise of the powers thereby vested in them, and of every other power enabling them in this behalf, give you the Lords of the Committee of Her Majesty's Most Honorable Privy Council appointed for the consideration of matters relating to trade and foreign plantations notice, thereto respectively, in column 3 of the same schedule, are to be deemed entirely excepted out of the operation of section eight of the Harbours' Transfer Act, 1862.

That the several harbours, ports, bays, estuaries, or navigable rivers specified in column 2 of the schedule hereto, to the extent specified in rel...

Provided always, and it is hereby expressly declared by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that nothing in this notice shall be deemed to affect any estate, right, title, interest, prerogative, royalty, jurisdiction or authority of or belonging to Her Majesty the Queen, her heirs or successors in right of her office of Admiral, or to affect any right, duty, power, jurisdiction, or authority, vested in or performed or exercised by, or capable of being performed or exercised by the Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom, or the Commissioners for executing his office, otherwise than under or by virtue of any such provisions as aforesaid contained (either expressly or by incorporation, or reference, or otherwise,) in any such special, or local, or local and personal Act, or Acts of a local, or local and personal nature (passed before the end of the now last session of Parliament), as in section eight of the Harbours' Transfer Act, 1862, is described, it being the true intent and object of this notice only to limit the operation of that section in pursuance of the power in that behalf, reserved to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, in and by section nine of the same Act, and not in anywise to abandon, abridge, restrict, or define any right, duty, power, jurisdiction, or authority belonging or attaching to the Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom, or the Commissioners for executing his office independently of any such provisions as aforesaid, all which rights, duties, powers, jurisdictions, and authorities, it is hereby expressly declared shall remain and be in all respects and to all intents and purposes whatsoever as if this notice had not been given.

Whitehall, dated 28th day of April, 1863.

(Signed)
CHARLES FREDERICK,
J. R. DRUMMOND,

Two of the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MAY 8, 1863.

Whitehall, May 7, 1863.

THE following Addresess of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the general body of the Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the three denominations residing in and about the cities of London and Westminster, approach your Royal presence with profound respect, to express the continued affection and undiminished sympathy, which we cherish toward your Majesty. Holding in grateful remembrance the virtues and piety of the late lamented Prince Consort, we hail the event of the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, as calculated to alleviate the sorrows of your bereaved and royal heart: We participate in the joy of the whole British people, on this auspicious occasion, and are thankful to Almighty God, that His Royal Highness has, under your Majesty's sanction, formed an alliance with a Princess, who is so commended by the virtues of her character, her august lineage, and the religion she professes.

May the blessing of God rest on the relation now sustained towards each other by their Royal Highnesses, the Prince and Princess of Wales; may this happy union conduce to the honour and stability of the Throne, so illustriously filled by your Majesty, and to the perpetuation of the manifold blessings which distinguish your Majesty's reign. We confidently anticipate that under the Divine favour it will not less subserve the performance of all the excellencies of the British Constitution, and to the increasing prosperity of every part of the British Empire.

We earnestly assure your Majesty that we value highly the blessings enjoyed under your Majesty's government. We trust that your Royal sway may be prolonged to a far distant period, and that its blessings may be finally transmitted with all the serenity and increase of which they are capable to generations yet unborn, while, in common with other Ministers of Our Lord Jesus Christ, we shall make it our unremitting solicitude to extend the influence of the Gospel of Grace and Peace and Charity, and so seek to strengthen the attachment of all your Majesty's subjects with whom we have intercourse toward your Majesty's person, family, and government.

Board of Trade, Whitehall,

May 8, 1863.

THE Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from the British Commissioner of the European Commission of the Danube, enclosing the following translation of a revised

Tariff of the Navigation Dues levied at the Soulina mouth of that river:

PROVISIONAL TARIFF OF NAVIGATION.

Dues to be Levied at the Mouth of the Danube.

THE EUROPEAN COMMISSION OF THE DANUBE.

WHEREAS Article XVI of the Treaty of Paris of 30th of March, 1856, stipulates that the expenses of the works performed for the purpose of clearing the mouths of the Danube and the portions of sea adjoining, of the obstacles which obstructed them, and those of the establishments for securing and facilitating navigation, shall be covered by means of levying the fixed dues determined by the Commission.

And whereas a provisional Tariff was in consequence enacted under date of the 25th July, 1860.

And whereas since the enforcement of the Tariff, the works undertaken at the mouth of the Sulina have been completely finished, and in consequence of the increase of depth which has resulted therefrom, the obstacles which vessels used to encounter at this point have been removed.

And whereas the works of correction and deepening undertaken in the course of the river, and which approach completion, and the improvements introduced into the establishments referred to in the Treaty, as well as the creation of a Seaman's Hospital at Sulina, into which sick or shipwrecked sailors will be in future admitted free of charge assure to the navigation considerable advantages.

And whereas an increase of five centimes per ton to the dues at present levied upon vessels, an increase of which the produce will be devoted to covering the expenses of the Seaman's Hospital, appears thereby justified, and is moreover but a slight addition to the charges supported by the navigation.

And whereas it is necessary in view of distributing these charges more equitably, to impose a toll on rafts of timber, at present quite free from toll, although they profit equally by the improvement realized in the river and at the mouth.

And whereas experience has shown that there is an advantage to the navigation in merging in one single shipping due, the tolls levied for the improvements and the pilotage and light dues.

The Commission enacts the following provisional Tariff:—

Art. I.

Every sailing vessel of more than 30 tons register quitting the port of Sulina to go to sea, and which has according to her manifest more than a third of her full lading, shall pay a fixed shipping-due by ton register, the amount of which shall be hereinafter determined according to the total tonnage of the vessel and the depth on the bar at the Sulina mouth.

'essels which shall have ascended the River to ship their cargoes at one of the interior ports, shall pay the Tolls as regulated by the following Table:—

VESSELS.	Amount of Dues to pay per Ton with a depth at the mouth
	Of less than 10 feet.		Of 10 feet at least and 11 feet at most.		Of more than 11 feet to 12 feet.		Of more than 12 feet to 13 feet.		Of more than 13 feet to 14 feet.		Of more than 14 feet to 15 feet.		Of more than 15 feet.

Art. II.

Steam vessels belonging to a public Company specially appropriated to the transport of passengers, and making periodical voyages according to a time bill published beforehand shall pay each time on leaving the river a fixed toll of fifty centimes per ton register, whether the lading is full or partial.

This due shall be calculated on the total tonnage of the vessel, after making a deduction for the space occupied by engines and coal bunkers.

The deduction shall amount to 37 per cent. for paddle-wheel steamers and 32 per cent. for screw steamers.

It shall be effected only after the conversion of the vessel's tonnage into English register tons, as prescribed in Article XIII following.

These vessels will be free from all dues on entering the river.

Art. III.

All merchant steam vessels others than those mentioned in the preceding Article, shall be subjected to the same dues as sailing vessels, with the exception of the deduction on account of engines and coals, which shall be equally affected upon their total tonnage in accordance with the bases established in the preceding Article.

The amount of the fixed dues per ton register which these vessels will have to pay shall be regulated according as they ascend the river above Sulina or not, in conformity with the above Tables, after the deduction guaranteed therein by the first paragraph of the present Article.

Art. IV.

Merchant vessels propelled either by sail or steam, other than those mentioned in Article II., which shall enter the port of Sulina from the sea, and which shall have according to their manifest more than a third of their lading, shall pay for entering the river, the fourth part of the due imposed on them for the outward passage, according to the above Articles I and III.

This entrance due shall not be paid by them until they leave the river.

Should, however, the said vessels leave the river with less than a third of their lading, they will in this case have to pay for their entrance the full amount of the dues fixed by Articles I and III.

Art. V.

Lighters chartered for the passage of the Sulina bar by vessels which shall have paid the dues fixed by the preceding Articles, shall pay for each passage made with a full or partial lading only the following tolls, namely:—

Lighters of 10 to 50 tons burden, six francs;

Those of more than 50 tons burden, and not exceeding 100 tons, eight francs;

And those of more than 100 tons burden, twelve francs.

Art. VI.

Vessels remaining at anchor in the Sulina roads to load or unload the whole or part of their cargo, shall not be subjected to the dues established by the preceding Articles. They shall only pay an uniform due of one hundred francs each vessel, towards covering the expenses of the establishments from which they derive actual benefit.

Lighters chartered to transport across the mouth the cargo of the said vessels, shall pay for every passage across the bar with whole or partial lading, a fixed due of one franc per ton on their total tonnage.

Steam lighters shall be allowed the deduction on their tonnage mentioned in Article II preceding, in calculating the dues they will have to pay.

Art. VII.

Rafts and floats of timber not exceeding 100 feet English in length, by 40 feet English in breadth, shall pay, on leaving the river, if towed, a fixed due of 100 francs per raft.

This due shall be increased to 300 francs for every raft or float of timber not towed, of whatever dimensions it may be. And also for such rafts or floats as exceed 100 feet in length by 40 in breadth.

Art. VIII.

Vessels of war are free of all dues, both on entering and on leaving the port of Sulina.

Art. IX.

Vessels of more than 60 tons register, which shall enter the port of Sulina and leave the same with less than a third of their full lading, and which are freed in consequence from the dues established by Articles I, III, and IV preceding, will have to pay on leaving the river a toll of 50 centimes per ton for light and pilotage dues.

Sea going vessels engaged temporarily in the lighter service will have to pay this same toll, independently of the due of one franc per ton mentioned in the second clause of Art. IV.

Sea going vessels, or lighters, seeking shelter in the port of Sulina, from bad weather, or putting in to repair damages, and those which shall be obliged, in consequence of any accident whatever, to take refuge in the port, and shall be unable to continue their voyage, shall be free from all dues, provided that they put to sea again, without engaging in any mercantile transactions.

Art. X.

The dues fixed by the preceding Articles shall comprise the tax imposed on vessels to cover the expenses of works and other improvements carried out by the European Commission.

The dues actually in force for the maintenance of the light-houses composing the system of lights for the Danube mouths, and the dues intended to cover the expenses of the pilot service for the Sulina entrance and of the other establishments instituted with a view to facilitate the navigation.

In addition to these dues, vessels shall not be subject to any other tax or charge whatever, except for the hire of the river pilots for the down voyage, which they will have to pay in conformity with the following Article.

Art. XI.

Sailing vessels of more than 60 tons register which shall have ascended the river above the Sulina port, shall pay, on leaving the river for the compulsory pilotage of the down voyage, a fixed due regulated as follows:

For the voyage from Galatz, or any other port higher up, to Sulina, 120 francs.

For the voyage from Reni or Ismail to Sulina, 100 francs, and for the voyage from Toultcha to Sulina, 72 francs—these dues shall be reduced by one-half for steamers.

The steamers mentioned in Art. 2 preceding, shall be free of this tax, provided that their pilots have been licensed as pilots of the 2nd class.

As regards pilotage for ascending the river, which is purely optional, the amount to be paid to the pilot is to be a matter of arrangement between him and the captain of the vessel, from whom he is to receive the amount himself.

Art. XII.

The due shall be paid over to the cashier of the Navigation Cash Office at Sulina, who will give a receipt for the same.

A table showing the conversion into francs of the monies in use on the Lower Danube shall be always posted up in the cash office. This table shall be revised periodically.

Art. XIII.

By the term "ton register" shall be understood the English registered ton.

The tonnage of vessels shall be ascertained from the ship's papers.

The reduction of the tons of different nations into English measurement, shall be made in accordance with the table annexed to the present tariff.

Art. XIV.

Vessels entering the Danube without papers showing their tonnage, shall be submitted, with the sole view of fixing the navigation dues which they will be bound to pay in accordance with the present tariff, to an approximate assessment made under the direction of the Captain of the port, and with the assistance of the proper consular authorities, by two skilled persons.

The Cashier of the navigation chest shall have the option of assisting at the operation, either personally or by a delegate.

A like proceeding shall take place if the ship's papers are notoriously incorrect, or if there is a dispute concerning the proportion of a vessel's lading, in the cases provided by the above Arts. I and IV.

The assessment of tonnage in default of ship's papers shall be made at the expense of the vessel that gives rise to it. The same rule shall hold good if an assessment proves an excess of more than 50 tons above the capacity indicated by the ship's papers; or if it is proved contrary to the declaration of the captain or owner that the vessel has more than the third part of her full cargo. If the contrary be the case, the said expenses shall be charged to the navigation chest.

In any case these assessments shall be final, and can give rise to no appeal whatever.

Art. XV.

The depths, according to which the dues fixed by the present tariff shall be determined, shall be taken on the bar of Sulina, in English feet.

The soundings shall be taken under the direction and responsibility of the engineer charged with the works of improvement at the river's mouth.

The result of these soundings shall be posted up at the Navigation Cash Office, and at the office of the Captain of the port.

If the state of the sea does not allow soundings to be taken, the amount of the dues to be levied shall be based on the last depth ascertained.

Art. XVI.

Every vessel, float of timber, or raft, which shall attempt by any means whatever to evade payment (either wholly or partially) of the dues fixed by the present tariff, shall be liable besides the dues which it will have to pay in accordance with the preceding provisions, to a fine equal to four times the amount of the dues.

If the tonnage indicated on the ship's papers appears to be fraudulent, a verification of the capacity of the vessel can be made, as prescribed by the above Article XIV.

The infliction of the fine will be pronounced by the Captain of the Port of Sulina.

Appeals against these judgments must be brought before the European Commission of the Danube, or before the International Authority, that will take its place.

The delay within which such appeals must be made, and the form of proceeding shall be determined hereafter by special provisions.

The judgments pronounced by the Captain of the Port shall take effect, notwithstanding an appeal; in which case the amount of fine shall be paid as a deposit into the navigation chest.

The amount of fines adjudged to be legal, shall accrue to the said chest, to be devoted to the maintenance of the Seaman's Hospital.

Art. XVII.

The Commanders of vessels of war stationed at the mouth of the Danube, agreeably to Article

XIX of the Treaty of Paris, will be called upon to insist upon the payment of the dues fixed by the present tariff, and of the fines accruing under its stipulations, by vessels of their nations, and of those whose flag they shall be authorized to protect, either in virtue of treaties or usages, or of a general or special delegation.

The assistance of the vessels of war shall be demanded, as a rule, through the intervention of the Captain of the Port of Sulina, on the requisition of the Cashier of the navigation chest.

In default of a vessel of war authorized to exercise a coercive action over an offending vessel, the Captain of the Port shall have recourse to the intervention of the Turkish ships of war stationed at Sulina.

Art. XVIII.

The provisional tariff of 25th July, 1860, is hereby abrogated, and the present tariff, which may be revised, if necessary, shall come into force as soon as publication of the same has been made at the ports of Braïla, Galatz, Reni, Toultcha, Ismail, and Sulina.

Given at Galatz, the 7th day of March, 1863.

FROM THE

SUPPLEMENT

TO THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MAY 8, 1863.

War Office, Pall Mall,
9th May, 1863.

THE Queen has been graciously pleased to issue a Commission under Her Royal Sign Manual, of which the following is a copy:

VICTORIA, R.

VICTORIA, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith:

To,

Our right trusty and well-beloved Councillor, Jonathan Peel, Esquire, Lieutenant-General of Our Forces;

Our right trusty and well-beloved Councillor, Edward Pleydell Bouverie, Esquire, commonly called the Honourable Edward Pleydell Bouverie;

Our trusty and well-beloved Sir Alexander Woodford, Knight Grand Cross of Our Most Honourable Order of the Bath and Knight Grand Cross of Our Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George, General of Our Forces;

Our right trusty and well-beloved Councillor, Sir George Brown, Knight Grand Cross of Our Most Honourable Order of the Bath, General of Our Forces;

Our right trusty and right well-beloved Cousin and Councillor, James Alexander, Earl of Rosslyn, Lieutenant-General of Our Forces;

Our trusty and well-beloved Sir William Brereton, Knight Commander of Our Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Major-General of Our Forces;

Our trusty and well-beloved Henry Sandham, Esquire, Major-General of Our Forces;

Our trusty and well-beloved David Russell, Esquire, Companion of Our Most Honourable Order of the Bath, Major-General of Our Forces;

Our trusty and well-beloved Randal Rumley, Esquire, Major-General of Our Forces; Greeting:

Whereas We thought it expedient by Our Royal presents, dated the 12th day of April, 1858, to authorize and appoint a Commission to enquire into the working of the system of promotion recommended in the report of a Royal Commission of 1854, and into the question of Promotion and Retirement in the higher ranks of the Army, commencing with the rank of Major:

And whereas it has been represented to Us that 21 Officers who were promoted to the rank of Colonel in the years 1855 and 1856 as Our Aides-de-Camp and for Distinguished Service in the Crimean War, consider that by the operation of the Royal Warrant of 14th October, 1858, founded on the recommendation of the Royal Commission of 1858, they have been deprived, to an undue extent, of the position they attained by the promotion conferred upon them:

And Whereas it has also been represented to Us that certain Captains and Lieutenant-Colonels of the Guards, who were promoted to that rank between the 20th June, 1854, and the issuing of the Warrant of 6th October of that year, consider that their positions in the Army have been unduly injured by the operation of the said Warrant of 6th October, 1854, and also by the subsequent Warrant of 14th October, 1858.

Now We, reposing great trust and confidence in your zeal, discretion, and ability, have authorized and appointed, and do by these presents authorize and appoint you, the said Jonathan Peel, the Honourable Edward Pleydell Bouverie, Sir Alexander Woodford, Sir George Brown, James Alexander Earl of Rosslyn, Sir William Brereton, Henry Sandham, David Russell, and Randal Rumley, to be Our Commissioners to enquire into the claims of the said Officers.

And We do hereby authorize and empower you, Our said Commissioners, or any three or more of you to obtain information thereupon, by the examination of all persons most competent by reason of their knowledge, habits, or experience to afford it; and also by calling for all documents, papers, or records which may appear to you, or any three or more of you, calculated to assist your researches, and to promote the formation of a sound judgment on the subject.

And We do hereby command and require you, or any three or more of you, to report to Us, under your hands and seals, with all convenient speed, your opinion whether these officers are entitled to any redress, and if so, to recommend in what form such redress should be accorded to them.

And We will and command, and by these presents ordain, that this Our Commission shall continue in full force and virtue, and that you, Our said Commissioners, or any three or more of you, may, from time to time, proceed in the execution thereof, and of every matter and thing therein contained, although the same be not continued from time to time by adjournment.

We further will and command that Our right trusty and well-beloved Councillor, Jonathan Peel, Esquire, Lieutenant-General of Our Forces, be appointed Chairman of this Our Commission.

And for your further assistance in the due execution of these presents, We have made choice of Our trusty and well-beloved Thomas Cave-Browne-Cave, Esquire, to be Secretary to this Our Commission, whose services and assistance We require you to use from time to time as occasion may require.

Given at Our Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, this eighth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, in the twenty-sixth year of Our reign.

By Her Majesty's Command, de Grey & Ripon.

N.B.—It is requested that any Officer, whose interests may be affected by the above, and who wishes to be examined by, or make any statement to, the Commissioners, will forward his application to Mr. Cave, at the War Office, with the least possible delay.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MAY 12, 1863.

Whitehall, May 11, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously :

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and most dutiful subjects, the Warden, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Durham, humbly desire to express our continued devotion to your Majesty's Royal person, and to offer our fervent congratulations on the recent marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

We recognize in his happy union with a Princess endowed with all the qualities fitted to adorn the high station which she is called, in the providence of God, to fill, an additional security to the Constitutional form of Government which we enjoy; and we unite in the hopes which the whole nation has expressed, that your Majesty may find in this new tie of domestic affection consolation and support in the discharge of the high duties of your Royal station.

Given at our House of Convocation, this twenty-eighth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three.

And the following on the same subject from

The Noblemen, Gentlemen, and Commissioners of Supply of the Stewartry of Kirkcudbright.

The Mayor, Aldermen, and Councillors of the city of Hereford.

The Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the burgh of Leith.

The Master, Pilots, and Seamen of the Trinity House of Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

The Noblemen, Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, and Justices of the Peace of the county of Forfar.

The Master, Wardens, and Court of Assistants of the Worshipful Company of Clothworkers, London.

The Noblemen, Gentlemen, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and Heritors of the county of Roxburgh, in Public Meeting assembled.

The President, Officers, Bearers, and Members of the Glasgow Sabbath School Union.

The Inhabitants of the borough of South Shields in Public Meeting assembled.

The Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of South Shields.

The Archdeacon and Clergy of the Archdeaconry of Hereford.
The Dean and Faculty of Advocates.

War Office, May 12, 1863.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to give orders for the appointment of Lieutenant-Colonel Reynell George Taylor, of the Bengal Army, to be an Ordinary Member of the Civil Division of the Third Class, or Companions of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath.

Whitehall, May 11, 1863.

The Queen has been pleased to nominate the Reverend Leonard Ramsay Henslow, M.A., to the Perpetual Curacy of Pulham, Saint Mary Magdalen, in the county of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, void by the death of the Reverend Frederick William Freeman.

Downing Street, May 11, 1863.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint Thomas Jarvis, Esq., to be a Member of the Legislative Council of the Island of Antigua.

Foreign Office, May 12, 1863.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. James W. Barclay as Consul at Aberdeen for His Majesty the King of the Belgians.

The Queen has also been pleased to approve of Mr. B. H. Dixon as Consul-General in Canada for His Majesty the King of the Netherlands.

Whitehall, May 8, 1863.

The Queen has been pleased to grant unto Thomas Castle, of Hyde-park-gardens, in the county of Middlesex, and of London Colney, in the county of Hertford, Gentleman, and unto Judith, his wife, eldest of the two daughters and coheirs of Thomas Jenkin Gee, late of Isleworth, in the said county of Middlesex, and of London Colney aforesaid, Esquire, deceased, Her Royal license and authority that they may, from motives of affectionate respect for the memory of the said Thomas Jenkin Gee, take and henceforth use the surname of Gee instead of that of Castle; and that the said Thomas Castle may bear the arms of Gee, such arms being first duly exemplified according to the laws of arms, and recorded in the Herald's Office, otherwise the said Royal license and permission to be void and of none effect:

And also to command that the said Royal concession and declaration be recorded in Her Majesty's Coll·ge of Arms.

Whitehall, May 12, 1863.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to give and grant unto John Graves Thompson, of Clifton, in the county of Gloucester, Gentleman, second son of John Thompson, of the city of Dublin, Attorney-at-Law, by Lucy, his wife, younger of the three daughters and coheirs of Robert Livingston, of the city of Armagh, Esquire, in the Commission of the Peace for the counties of Armagh and Tyrone, in Ireland, deceased, Her Royal licence and permission that he may from respect to the wishes of his aunt, Margaret Algeo, widow of William Whitelaw Algeo, a Captain in the Army, deceased (coheir of his said grandfather), and in memory of his said grandfather, take and use the surname of Livingston, instead of that of Thompson, and that such surname may be taken and used by his issue :

And further to command that the said Royal concession and declaration be registered in the College of Arms.

Treasury Chambers, May 11, 1863.

Board of Trade, Whitehall,
May 12, 1863.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received a copy of a notice issued by the Portuguese Board of Health, declaring the ports of Havana and New Orleans to be suspected of infection with yellow fever.

(509.)

Board of Trade, Whitehall,
May 11, 1863.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Consul-General at Hamburg, enclosing a copy of a notification issued by the Hamburg Board of Commerce, containing the following regulations respecting the time of discharge for goods imported into that port in sea-going ships, the observance of which is recommended by that Board :—

I.—Cargoes for one Receiver.

1. The time of discharge is regulated by the quantity of goods to be discharged.

2. The "ton" to be taken as the basis is that according to which the freight of the ship is stipulated; if, however, the number of tons laden is not to be ascertained, then the size of the ship is to be taken by the measure of Hamburg commercial lasts, three tons being reckoned to every such last.

3. The customary time of discharge is—

Up to 80 tons (inclusive), 6 days, not reckoning Sundays and holidays.

From above 80 to 300 tons inclusive, 9 days, not reckoning Sundays and holidays.

From above 300 to 600 tons inclusive, 14 days, not reckoning Sundays and holidays.

(Those days on which the discharge shall be hindered by force majeure, or by the fault of the captain, are likewise not to be reckoned.)

For every quantity up to 50 tons more than 600 tons, a further delay of one day shall be granted.

The time of discharge begins after that on the preceding working day, before two o'clock p.m., the captain has given notice, in writing, to the receiver of the cargo that he is ready to discharge.

For goods "to order," on the day after public requisition has taken place.

4. When a ship before her arrival in port shall have discharged a part of her cargo into lighters in the Elbe, then that part is after the arrival of the lighter here to be taken without delay from on board thereof: as concerns the time of discharge for a whole cargo, both in the ship and in lighters, the above-mentioned dispositions are to be applied.

II.—Cargoes for several Receivers.

The discharge of the goods, in so far as they are in hand, is to begin immediately, but at the latest on the day after the necessary notice has been given, and is to be continued until its end with all possible dispatch.

For the discharge of goods "to order," the same disposition is applicable after the public requisition has taken place.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MAY 15, 1863.

Whitehall May 14, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State, for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

The Humble Address of the Governors of the Benevolent Society of Saint Patrick.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Governors of the Benevolent Society of Saint Patrick, with a renewed assurance of our devotion to your Majesty's throne and person, venture to approach your Majesty with the humble offering of our respectful congratulations on the recent happy union of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with a Princess gifted with qualities so well adapted to adorn the exalted station she has been called upon to fill.

It is not possible, we are fully conscious, for us to give utterance to any words which can justly express the feelings of deep interest and affectionate loyalty with which this happy event has been regarded by the entire people; but, as the representatives of an institution most deeply indebted to the gracious favour of your Majesty, and your Majesty's Royal house, we deem it our privilege, as well as our duty, to offer this humble but sincere assurance of our participation in the national joy.

That the bright promise of happiness afforded by this auspicious union may, by the Divine blessing, be most fully realized, and that your Majesty may long be spared to see your Royal children the objects of the respectful attachment of a devoted people, and the emulators of the virtues of their illustrious parents, is the fervent prayer of your Majesty's loyal subjects.

THE following Addresess of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Commissioners of supply of the county of Lanark, beg leave to approach the throne with the expression of our warmest satisfaction and joy on the occasion of the recent auspicious nuptials of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with Her Highness the Princess Alexandra of Denmark.

Whether this exalted union be viewed as tending in some degree to sooth and alleviate your Majesty's grief, arising from most severe domestic bereavement, or as an alliance conducive to the best interests of the country, we feel that the event is one affording the greatest cause for hope and congratulation to the people of these realms.

While we earnestly desire and trust that the peculiar favour of Heaven may attend a union so auspicious, we avail ourselves of the present opportunity of renewing the assurances of our warmest attachment and loyal devotion to your Majesty's person and Government, and to the individual members of your Majesty's illustrious family; and we would humbly pray that it may please the all-wise Disposer of events to prolong for many years your Majesty's benign reign.

Signed in name and by appointment of the Commissioners of supply of the county of Lanark, this 8th day of May, 1863.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage or inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant; and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to alter or repeal any such altered rates, and make and establish any new or other rates in lieu thereof, and from time to time, by Warrant as aforesaid, to appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid. And it is provided that the power thereby given should extend to any increase or reduction or remission of postage.

And whereas the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by a certain Warrant in writing under their hands, bearing date the 10th day of December, 1850, did direct (amongst other things) that certain rates of British postage therein mentioned should be charged and paid upon the transmission by the post of letters between any part of the United Kingdom and Sweden, direct, and between Sweden and any of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country, through the United Kingdom, conveyed between the United Kingdom and Sweden direct.

And whereas it is expedient to reduce the rates of British postage now payable under the said recited Warrant upon letters conveyed between the United Kingdom and Sweden, direct, by Swedish mail packet boat, and for that purpose to repeal so much of the said recited Warrant as relates to or affects such letters.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the power or authority in us for such purpose vested in and by the said recited Act, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do by this Warrant (under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners, by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided) order, direct, and declare as follows:

1. On every letter, not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and Sweden, direct by Swedish mail packet boat, there shall be charged, and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, an uniform rate of British postage of four-pence.

2. On every letter, not exceeding one half of an ounce in weight, posted in, or addressed to, any part of Sweden, transmitted by the post between Sweden and any of Her Majesty's Colonies or any foreign country through the United Kingdom, conveyed between Sweden and the United Kingdom, direct by Swedish mail packet boat, there shall be charged, and taken in lieu of any rates of British postage now payable by law on such letters, a like rate of British postage of four pence for the conveyance of every such letter between Sweden and any part of the United Kingdom; and for the conveyance of every such letter between the port, in the United Kingdom, of the departure or arrival of the packet boat or vessel (not being a packet boat) conveying the same, and the British colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, such a further or additional rate of postage as shall from time to time be chargeable and payable for British postage on letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, posted or delivered at the port, in the United Kingdom, of the departure or arrival of the packet boat or vessel (not being a packet boat) conveying the same and transmitted between such port and any such colony or foreign country, provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny, in respect of the inland conveyance under this clause of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

3. On every letter transmitted as is hereinbefore in this Warrant mentioned, exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid progressive and additional rates of postage according to the scale of weight and number of rates following (that is to say):—

On every letter so transmitted exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, and not exceeding one ounce in weight, two rates of postage.

On every letter so transmitted exceeding one ounce and not exceeding two ounces in weight, four rates of postage.

On every letter so transmitted exceeding two ounces and not exceeding three ounces in weight, six rates of postage.

And on every letter so transmitted exceeding three ounces and not exceeding four ounces in weight, eight rates of postage.

And for every ounce in weight above the weight of four ounces, there shall be charged and taken, upon every letter so transmitted, two additional rates of postage; and every fraction of an ounce above the weight of four ounces shall be charged as one additional ounce, and each progressive and additional rate, chargeable under this clause, shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this Warrant if not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight.

4. The respective letters transmitted by the post, under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be subject to the several orders, directions, regulations, and rates of postage respectively contained in a certain Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, under the hands of two of the said Commissioners, bearing date the 19th day of February, 1855, relating to redirected rates of postage upon letters which shall be redirected and again forwarded by the post.

5. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed to extend to any letters passing by the post between the United Kingdom and Sweden viâ France, or any other foreign country, all which letters shall be charged and chargeable with the same rates of postage as are now chargeable and payable thereon, and as if this Warrant had not been signed.

6. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exemptions and privileges granted by the said recited Act, or to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the privileges which seamen and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's service are now by law entitled to of sending and receiving by the post letters not exceeding half an ounce in weight, subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

7. The several terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as they would have had if inserted in the said recited Act.

8. So much of the said recited Warrant of the 10th day of December, 1850, as relates to or affects letters transmitted by the post between the United Kingdom and Sweden direct by Swedish mail packet boat, and between Sweden and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdom, conveyed between Sweden and the United Kingdom, direct by Swedish mail packet boat, is hereby repealed.

9. This Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three.

10. The Commissioners for the being of Her Majesty's Treasury, may, by Warrant under their hands duly made, at any time hereafter alter, repeal, or revoke any of the rates of postage hereby fixed or altered, or any of the orders, regulations, conditions, and restrictions hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other rates, orders, regulations, conditions, and restrictions in lieu thereof, and may from time to time appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS, by an Act of Parliament passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters or newspapers, or of any other printed papers, and to subject the same to rates of postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant.

And whereas it is expedient that regulations should be made for the transmission by the post of the letters hereinafter mentioned.

Now, we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury in exercise of the powers vested in us, in and by the said recited Act, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do, by this Warrant under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners by the authority of the statute in that case made and provided, order and direct as follows: —

1. On every letter, not exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to the Ionian Islands, or posted in the Ionian Islands, addressed to the United Kingdom, and transmitted by the post between any part of the United Kingdom and any place in the Ionian Islands, viâ France and Italy, there shall be charged and taken a rate of British postage of one penny.

2. On every letter, not exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, transmitted by the post between the Ionian Islands and any of Her Majesty's colonies or any foreign country through the United Kingdom, viâ France and Italy, there shall be charged and taken a British rate of postage of one penny for the conveyance of every such letter between the Ionian Islands and any part of the United Kingdom; and for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet boat or vessel (not being a packet boat) conveying the same, and the British colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded, such a further or additional rate of postage as shall from time to time be charged and payable for British postage on letters posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet boat or vessel (not being a packet boat) conveying the same, and transmitted between such port and any such colony or foreign country; provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny, in respect of the inland conveyance under this clause, of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

3. All such respective letters so transmitted as hereinbefore in this Warrant mentioned, if exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, shall be subject to the several further and additional and progressive rates of postage hereinafter mentioned, that is to say:

On every such letter, if exceeding one-quarter of an ounce, and not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight, there shall be charged, taken, and paid two rates of postage.

And on every such letter, if exceeding one-half of an ounce, and not exceeding three-quarters of an ounce in weight, three rates of postage.

And on every such letter, if exceeding three-quarters of an ounce, and not exceeding one ounce in weight, four rates of postage.

And for every additional quarter of an ounce in weight of any such letter above the weight of one ounce, there shall be charged, taken, and paid one additional rate of postage, and every fractional part of such additional quarter of an ounce shall be charged as an additional quarter of an ounce in weight, and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this Warrant, if not exceeding one-quarter of an ounce in weight.

4. Nothing herein contained shall be construed in anywise to annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exemptions or privileges granted by or under the said recited Act, or by or under any other Acts of Parliament relating to the Post Office or any of the privileges which officers, seamen, and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's Service, are by law entitled to, of sending and receiving by the post letters subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

5. The respective letters, transmitted by the post, under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be subject to the several orders, directions, regulations, and rates of postage respectively contained in a certain Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, under the hands of two of the said Commissioners, bearing date the 19th day of February, 1855, relating to redirected rates of postage upon letters which shall be redirected and again forwarded by the post.

6. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to any letters transmitted by the post, between the United Kingdom and the Ionian Islands, viâ France (the sea conveyance, in the Mediterranean, being by French packet-boat).

7. The several terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning, in all respects, as they would have had if inserted in the said recited Act.

8. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may, by Warrant under their hands duly made, at any time hereafter, alter, repeal, or revoke any of the rates of postage hereby fixed, or any of the orders, directions, regulations, and conditions, hereby made and may make and establish any new or other rates, orders, directions, regulations, and conditions, in lieu thereof, and from time to time appoint at what time the rates which may be payable are to be paid.

9. This Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of June, 1863.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1858.

Notice is given in this Gazette by the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that an appeal having been made by certain owners and ratepayers within the parish of Goudhurst, in the county of Kent, setting forth grounds on which they dispute the validity of a vote for the adoption of the said Act within the said parish, and an enquiry having been made into the circumstances of the case, the question arising on such appeal is determined as follows:—

That the Local Government Act, 1858, has not been duly adopted within the parish of Goudhurst.

Dated the 16th day of May, 1863.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MAY 22, 1863.

Whitehall May 21, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State, for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Bishop and Clergy of the diocese of Manchester, beg leave to approach your Majesty with sentiments of the sincerest loyalty and attachment.

No event which nearly affects your Majesty's happiness can ever be viewed by us without the deepest interest; and it is with the most heartfelt sympathy that we now come forward respectfully to offer our unanimous and cordial congratulations on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales to Her Royal Highness the Princess Alexandra of Denmark; an alliance founded, as we firmly believe, on real affection, formed under the brighest auspices, and one in every respect so agreeable to your Majesty.

It is our fervent prayer that Almighty God may graciously be pleased to shower down upon this union His choicest blessings; and that it may be productive of increasing happiness both to the Royal Family, and to the nation at large.

We would also dutifully avail ourselves of this opportunity of expressing our thankfulness for the mercies vouchsafed to the Princess Royal of Prussia, and the Princess Louis of Hesse in the additions which have recently been granted to the Royal Family. And we would humbly hope that these repeated instances of the Divine favour may have the effect, in some degree, of alleviating that deep-seated sorrow with which it has pleased the Great Disposer of Events, in His mercy and wisdom, to visit your Majesty, in common with ourselves and the rest of your Majesty's loyal and devoted subjects.

J. P., Manchester.

And the following on the same subject: from

The Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Morpeth.

The Justices of the Peace and Commissioners of Supply of the county of Berwick.

The Isle of Wight Philosophical Society.

The Commissioners of Supply for the county of Selkirk.

The Deputy Lieutenants for the District of the Tower Hamlets.

The Ministers of the Independent Churches in the Isle of Wight.

The Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Tewkesbury.

The Justices of the Peace for the Liberty of the Tower of London.

The Governors and Guardians of the Foundling Hospital.

The Ministers and Elders of the Welch Presbyterians or Calvinistic Methodists in the seven counties of South Wales.

 The Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Bolton was included in the List of Addresses published in the Gazette of May 12th, and was re-inserted by mistake in the Gazette of May 19th.

Marlborough House, Pall Mall,
April 22, 1863.

THIS day the Right Honorable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, Common Council, and Officers of the City of London, waited upon their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales with the following Compliments of Congratulations upon their Marriage, which were read by Russell Gurney, Esq., the Recorder, and which their Royal Highnesses were graciously pleased to receive.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE OF WALES.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the city of London in Common Council assembled, desire to offer to your Royal Highness our warmest congratulations on your marriage with Her Royal Highness the Princess Alexandra of Denmark.

Bound as we are to your illustrious House, alike by the ties of loyalty and of gratitude, we cannot but take the most lively interest in all that relates to the happiness and welfare of its members.

We rejoice, therefore, that your Royal Highness should be united to a Princess in every way worthy of the station which she is called to fill, and whose virtues, while they add dignity to Her exalted rank, afford the best security for domestic happiness.

That that happiness may be long enjoyed by your Royal Highness and your illustrious Consort, and that it may afford a relief to your Royal Highness amid the cares and anxieties necessarily attendant upon your high station is the earnest prayer of the citizens of London.

To which address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious answer:

"I am much gratified by the sentiments expressed in the address which you have now presented to me, and return you my sincere thanks for your kind congratulations on my marriage.

"I speak for the Princess as well as for myself, when I say, that we can never forget the magnificent testimony which the Corporation of the City of London has borne to the interest which it felt in our union.

"The feelings of loyalty to the Throne and attachment to my Family, thus manifested by a body holding so high a rank in the world, cannot fail to be a source of the greatest pride and satisfaction to me."

To Her Royal Highness the PRINCESS OF WALES.

May it please your Royal Highness.

WE, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, desire to offer to your Royal Highness our hearty congratulations on your marriage with His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

In giving a cordial and enthusiastic welcome to your Royal Highness on your arrival on our shores, we had the opportunity of testifying our fervent loyalty to the Queen and the deep interest which we take in the welfare of every member of Her Royal House, and at the same time of giving expression to our heartfelt satisfaction in the prospect of an alliance which promises to add so much to the happiness of your chosen Consort and of all the members of the Royal Family.

That the Great Giver of all good may be pleased to bless your Marriage—that, His Divine favours, may rest upon your Royal Highness in all the relations of public and private life—and that this, your adopted home, may, during very many successive years be to your Royal Highness a home of peace and happiness will ever be our earnest prayer.

To which address Her Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious answer:

"My Lord Mayor and Gentlemen of the City,

'I acknowledge with my best thanks your hearty congratulations on my Marriage with His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

"I have already had an opportunity of expressing to you the high estimation I felt for the magnificent reception you gave me on my arrival in this country; and, I can assure you, this additional proof of your loyalty and attachment confirms the feelings of gratitude which I previously entertained towards the City of London."

Foreign Office, May 22, 1863.

EARL RUSSELL, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has received a Despatch from Sir John Crampton, Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Madrid, inclosing a copy of a Royal Decree, published in the Madrid Gazette of the 22nd of December, 1862, by which the system of Passports hitherto in force in Spain has been abrogated, and other formalities are substituted for ascertaining the identity of foreigners entering Spain, and for legalizing their residence in that country:

The following is translation of the Royal Decree in question:

ROYAL DECREE.

IN conformity with what has been proposed to me by the Minister of the Interior, and in conformity with the Council of Ministers, I decree as follows:

ART. 1. The passports which are still demanded of travellers proceeding abroad and to the colonies, in virtue of the 7th Article of the Royal Decree of February 15, 1854, shall be suppressed from the 1st of January of next year, 1863.

ART. 2. All the other regulations of the said decree remain in force.

ART. 3. In order to avoid that the young men subject to the conscription should escape that responsibility by leaving the kingdom, no certificate of domicile shall be granted them for that purpose, without they guarantee their return to take part in the subscription by the deposit of the sum of 8000 reals, or delivering a deed of sufficient security according to the law on conscription of January 30, 1856.

ART. 4. From the 1st of January, 1863, foreigners shall no longer be asked for their passports on entering Spain, but they must be proservitude if they be servants, artisans, or some other document to testify to their identity, the place they come from, and the object of their journey to the Kingdom. The Authorities or their agents shall exact the presentation of this document whenever they may deem it to be necessary.

Art. 5. Any foreigner shall also be admitted into the Kingdom by his merely presenting himself to the Authorities, although not possessing any kind of document, but he must make himself known by means of a declaration, signed by two inhabitants or persons resident in the town or place at which he may present himself, who shall bear witness that they know him, and that his declaration is true; and he must also, in all cases, state where he came from, and the object of his journey.

Art. 6. The visé of passports by Spanish Consuls is suppressed, as also the fee of 8 reals which, according to the 85th Article of the Police Regulations of 1824, was still demanded by the employés of that branch of the service in the frontier provinces of foreigners entering Spain, with the exception of Portuguese subjects, with respect to whom it was abolished by the law of June 3, 1855.

Art. 7. Notwithstanding the provisions contained in the above articles, passports will continue to be granted to those who ask for them, to travel in countries where this requirement is still in force, by presenting the certificate of domicile in the form required by existing regulations on this matter.

Art. 8. This Royal Decree shall be communicated to the Cortés, and the Minister of the vided with certificates of domicile, certificates of

Given in the Palace, 17th of December, 1862.

Signed by the Royal Hand.

The Minister of the Interior,

(Signed) JOSE DE POSADA VERRERA.

Downing Street, May 20, 1863.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint Vice-Admiral Sir Charles Elliot, K.C.B., to be Governor of the Island of Saint Helena.

Board of Trade, Whitehall, May 21, 1863.

The Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign affairs, a copy of a Note from the Turkish Ambassador at this Court, enclosing a copy of a notification, issued by the Porte, respecting the conditions to be observed in regard to merchandize brought from the interior of Turkey to the coast for exportation, and of which the following is a translation:

Merchandize arriving at a port of embarkation may be privately warehoused (emmagasinée à domicile) without deposit of duty, provided a declaration be made stating the amount of consumption duty, and that the merchandize is intended for exportation.

Should a merchant fail to make such a declaration he will be required:

1. At once to export the goods, or,
2. To deposit them in the Customs' warehouses, in case such warehouses are provided for the purpose, in which event the goods will not be required to pay "ardié" duty unless withdrawn for internal consumption, or

3. To deposit them in a private warehouse, having two keys, with the right of the Customs' authorities to place upon it their seal, or
4. To deposit the amount of Customs' consumption duty, the difference between which and the export duty will be restored in the event of the exportation of the goods.

If the merchant confines himself to furnishing simply the above declaration, he will be obliged to export the goods within six months, or he will be compelled, after the lapse of that period, to adopt one of the above specified four conditions. Otherwise the goods will be regarded as consumed in the country, and the merchant will be required to pay the internal consumption duties, the interest being calculated at the rate of one per cent. per month upon the amount of the said consumption duties, from the date of the declaration to the day of payment.

Should the owner of goods destined for exportation be desirous of giving such declaration and not be known to the Customs' authorities, such declaration must bear the guarantee of another merchant, of any nationality, to the satisfaction of the Customs' authorities.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1858.

Notice is given in this Gazette by the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that the Local Government Act, 1858, has been duly adopted by the parish of Hampton Wick, in the county of Middlesex; and also by the township of Lower Bebington, in the county of Chester.—Dated the 21st day of May, 1863.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MAY 26, 1863.

Whitehall, May 26, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously :

To Her Most Gracious Majesty QUEEN VICTORIA.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal subjects, the Bishop of London and the Clergy of the cities of London and Westminster, humbly approach your Majesty with deep respect for your Majesty's person and office, interested like all other your Majesty's subjects in whatever tends to promote your Majesty's personal happiness and to secure the stability of the Throne, we desire to express to your Majesty our thankfulness for the auspicious union of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with a Princess whose character gives such bright hopes of domestic happiness and public usefulness ;

while as churchmen we especially revere your Majesty in the great position which Providence has assigned to the Sovereign of these realms in reference to the Established Church, we have been accustomed in common with all our fellow countrymen now for many years to look to your Majesty and the Royal Family as the centre of social life for the whole community, and to acknowledge with thankfulness the example which your Majesty and the revered Prince Consort have given of pure family happiness, and of a life devoted to the best interests of the whole nation, we rejoice that this example is so likely to be reflected in the children of the Royal House as one after another they become heads of families.

During the last sixteen months we have deeply sympathised with your Majesty in your sorrows; we have not failed to offer up our prayers to the God of all comfort that he would be pleased of his goodness to sustain and strengthen your Majesty under the bereavement He has sent; and now we thank Him for the prospect this happy union affords that your Majesty will not be left desolate during the remaining years of a life which we pray may be long preserved, we rejoice that your Majesty should receive abundantly the great comfort and consolation which parents derive from the sight of the well being of the children whom they love.

Signed on behalf of the Bishop of London and the Clergy of the Cities of London and Westminster, A. C., London.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. Charles Isaac Forget as Consul at Liverpool for the Swiss Confederation.

Whitehall, May 12, 1863.

The Queen has been pleased to grant unto John Francis Spenlove Waite, of Merton, in the county of Surrey, Gentleman, only son of Samuel Waite, of Gray's-inn-road, in the county of Middlesex, Gentleman, by Ann, his late wife, daughter and co-heir of John Francis Spenlove, late of Abingdon, in the county of Berks, Brewer, deceased, and sister of Mary Spenlove, late of Abingdon aforesaid, Spinster, also deceased, Her Royal licence and authority that he may, in compliance with an injunction contained in the last will and testament of his maternal aunt, the said Mary Spenlove, take and henceforth use the surname of Spenlove in lieu and instead of that of Waite, and also bear the arms of Spenlove; such arms being first duly exemplified according to the laws of arms, and recorded in the Herald's Office, otherwise the said Royal licence and permisssion to be void and of none effect:

And to command that the said Royal concession and declaration be registered in Her Majesty's College of Arms.

USE OF LOCOMOTIVES IN THE PETTY SESSIONAL DIVISION OF CROYDON.

The following Order is substituted for the Order which appeared in the London Gazette of the 15th May, 1863.

WHEREAS it appears to me, the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that the use of Locomotives, unless restricted as hereinafter mentioned, on the Turnpike Roads and Highways within the Petty Sessional Division of Croydon, in the county of Surrey, is dangerous and inconvenient to the public.

I do hereby, by virtue of the provisions of "The Locomotive Act, 1861," by this Order, under my hand, prohibit the use of any kind of Locomotive whatever, propelled by steam, or any other than animal power, on the turnpike-roads and highways, within the above Petty Sessional Division of Croydon, except between the hours of ten at night and six in the morning.

Given under my hand, this 25th day of May, 1863.

(Signed) G. GREY.

THE HARBOUR TRANSFER ACT, 1862.

Whitehall, 25th May, 1863.

THE Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having given to the Board of Trade the following notice, do now publish the same, and all persons concerned are hereby informed that the Harbour Port Estuary and Navigable River, to which the said notice relates, will entirely be and remain as if the Harbours Transfer Act, 1862, so far as relates to Section 8 thereof, had not been passed.

By command of their Lordships,
W. G. Romaine.

In the Matter of the Harbours Transfer Act' 1862, and of Her Majesty's Naval Station of the River Mersey.

To the Lords of the Committee of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council appointed for the consideration of matters relating to trade and foreign plantations.

WHEREAS, it appears to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty that the interests of Her Majesty's Naval Service require that Her Majesty's Naval Station of the River Mersey should be entirely excepted out of the operation of Section 8 of the Harbours Transfer Act, 1862.

Now, therefore, the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty do, by this writing, in pursuance of the Harbours Transfer Act, 1862, and by virtue and in exercise of the powers thereby vested in them and of every other power enabling them in this behalf give you, the Lords of the Committee of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council appointed for the consideration of matters relating to Trade and Foreign Plantations, Notice,—

That so much of the River Mersey and of the Tidal Waters communicating therewith, as by virtue of the Act of the Session of the 5th and 6th years of Her Majesty (chapter one hundred and ten local and personal) "for better preserving the navigation of the River Mersey," is within and under the jurisdiction and authority of the Conservancy Commissioners, by that Act constituted, shall be entirely excepted out of the operation of Section 8 of the Harbours Transfer Act, 1862.

Provided always, that the present notice shall be read as if the proviso contained in the notice given under the Harbours Transfer Act, 1862, and published in the London Gazette of the 5th day of May, 1863, were here repeated mutatis mutandis.

Whitehall, the 23rd day of May, 1863.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 2, 1863.

Whitehall, May 30, 1863.

THE following Address of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland having been transmitted by Robert Montgomery, Lord Belhaven, K.T., Her Majesty's Commissioner, to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., G.C.B., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has been by him presented to the Queen, which Address Her Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Church of Scotland, met in General Assembly of the National Church, desire to acknowledge, with profound gratitude, your most gracious letter, in which you are pleased to express your undiminished interest in our continued welfare and prosperity.

It was, may it please your Majesty, in entire accordance with their feelings of loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's person and Government, that the Commission of last General Assembly embraced the earliest opportunity of sending an address to the Crown, on an event so interesting to your Majesty as a Queen and a mother, as the marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and seeing the same sentiments continue to animate this General Assembly, we feel it at once a privilege and a duty thus early to convey the expression of them to the foot of the Throne.

In our deliberations, as the Supreme Council of the Church, we derive great encouragement from the confidence which your Majesty is pleased to express, that these will be conducted with wisdom and prudence, and that they will be marked by an earnest desire to extend the usefulness of the Church, and to advance the highest interests of all its members.

We regard with unalloyed satisfaction your Majesty's appointment of the Right Honourable Lord Belhaven to represent your Royal person in this Assembly, not more from his known attachment and most munificent liberality to the church of his fathers, than from his having discharged in many former assemblies the duties of his high office with approved fidelity to His Sovereign, and with the most anxious desire to consult and promote the convenience of all our ministers and elders.

Your Majesty's Royal Warrant for £2000, to promote the reformation of the Highlands and Islands of Scotland, demands our most grateful acknowledgement; and we believe we shall shew our gratitude in the manner most approved by your Majesty, by faithfully administering the fund, and striving, with God's blessing, and in accordance with your benevolent desire and prayer, that the poor may have the gospel preached to them.

That Almighty God, our Father in Heaven, by whom Kings reign and Princes decree justice, may long preserve your Majesty, in health and wealth, to rule over a free, loyal, and religious people, and that in Heaven he may bestow upon your Majesty an unfading crown of glory, is the earnest prayer of,

May it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most loyal and most obedient subjects, the Ministers and Elders of this General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and at our appointment, by

James Craik, Moderator.

At Edinburgh, the 23rd day of May, 1863 years.

Whitehall, June 1, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To Her Most Gracious Majesty QUEEN VICTORIA.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders representing the Church of Scotland in her General Assembly, embrace this, our earliest opportunity, of joining in the universal expression of national delight which lately hailed the nuptials of the Prince of Wales.

We rejoice that His Royal Highness, in forming a union of affection, has chosen as his consort an illustrious Princess, who promises to be a blessing not only to himself, but to all who may come within the sphere of her influence; nor has His Royal Highness's auspicious marriage excited our patriotism less than it has gratified our loyalty, holding out, as it does, to all the wide spread populations under your sway, and to their children after them, the prospect of a continuation of that onward march of civilization and religion, which has characterized your Majesty's reign beyond that of any former Sovereign.

These sentiments and aspirations, however, give place to others more strictly personal to your Majesty; for in common with all classes of your Majesty's subjects, we cherish as an over-ruling thought connected with the recent happy event a grateful sense of that mercy of Divine Providence which, through your first-born son's marriage with the Princess Alexandra, has already done so much to temper and hallow to your widowed heart the loss of his revered father.

That Almighty God, the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, may renew your strength, and be to you a strong habitation to which you may continually resort; and that after a long and prosperous reign on earth, you may, in Heaven, receive an unfading crown of glory, is the earnest prayer of,

May it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most loyal and most obedient subjects, the Ministers and Elders of this General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and at our appointment, by

James Craik, Moderator.

TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS, by an Act passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage, power is given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, from time to time, by Warrant under their hands, to alter and fix any of the rates of British or Inland postage payable by law on the transmission by the post of foreign or colonial letters, and to subject the same to rates of Postage according to the weight thereof, and a scale of weight to be contained in such Warrant.

And whereas further powers are given to the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury by another Act passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the post office."

And whereas it is expedient that regulations should be made for the transmission by the post of the letters hereinafter mentioned.

Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the power or authority in us for such purpose, vested in and by the said Acts or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do by this Warrant (under the hands of two of us, the said Commissioners, by the authority of the statute in that case made and provided) order and direct as follows:—

1. On every letter not exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, posted in the United Kingdom, addressed to Egypt, or posted in Egypt addressed to the United Kingdom, and transmitted by the post between any place in the United Kingdom and Egypt (the conveyance between the United Kingdom and Egypt being viâ Marseilles, by British packet boat, between that port and Alexandria), there shall be charged, taken, and paid an uniform rate of postage (British and foreign combined) of sixpence; if such respective letters be prepaid, and if such respective letters be not prepaid, an uniform rate of postage (British and foreign combined) of ninepence.

2. On every letter not exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, posted in or addressed to Egypt, and transmitted by the post between Egypt and any of Her Majesty's colonies, or any foreign country through the United Kingdon (the conveyance between the United Kingdom and Egypt being viâ Marseilles, by British packet boat, between that port and Alexandria), there shall be charged, taken, and paid the rates of postage following, that is to say :—

For the conveyance of every such letter between Egypt and any part of the United Kingdom, an uniform rate of postage (British and foreign combined) of sixpence, if such respective letters be prepaid, and if such respective letters be not prepaid, an uniform rate of postage (British and foreign combided) of ninepence; and for the conveyance of every such letter between the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and the colony or foreign country to or from which the same shall be forwarded such a further or additional rate of postage as shall from time to time be charged and payable for postage on letters posted or delivered at the port in the United Kingdom of the departure or arrival of the packet or ship conveying the same, and transmitted direct between such port and any such colony or foreign country; provided that in all cases where such additional rate includes both inland and sea services, there shall be deducted therefrom the sum of one penny in respect of the inland conveyance under this clause of every such letter sent through the United Kingdom.

3. On every letter transmitted as is mentioned in this Warrant, exceeding one quarter of an ounce in weight, there shall be charged taken and paid progressive and additional rates of postage as follows, that is to say :—

On every such letter exceeding one-quarter of an ounce in weight, and not exceeding one-half of an ounce in weight two rates of postage.

On every such letter exceeding one-half of an ounce and not exceeding three-quarters of an ounce in weight three rates of postage.

On every such letter exceeding three-quarters of an ounce and not exceeding one ounce in weight, four rates of postage.

And for every additonal quarter of an ounce in weight above the weight of one ounce there shall be charged, taken, and paid one additional rate of postage, and every fractional part of an additional quarter of an ounce above the weight of one ounce shall be charged as one additional quarter of an ounce ; and each progressive and additional rate chargeable under this clause shall be estimated and charged at the sum which any such letter would be charged with under this Warrant if not exceeding one-quarter of an ounce in weight.

4. The postage of every such letter addressed to any part of Egypt (Alexandria, Cairo, and Suez excepted) shall be paid at the time of the same being posted.

5. The rates of postage chargeable on letters transmitted by the post, under the provisions of this Warrant, shall be in lieu of any rates of postage now chargeable by law thereon.

6. The several letters transmitted by the post under the provisions of this Warrant shall be subject to the several orders, directions, and regula tions contained in a certain Warrant of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, bearing date the 19th day of February, 1855, relating to redirected rates of postage upon letters and packets which shall be redirected and again forwarded by the post, so far as the same shall be applicable to such letters.

7. Nothing in this Warrant contained shall in anywise annul, prejudice, or affect any of the exemptions or privileges granted by or under the said hereinbefore-recited Acts, or either of them, or by or under any other Acts of Parliament relating to the Post Office, or any of the privileges which officers, seamen, and soldiers employed in Her Majesty's service are by law entitled to, of sending and receiving by the post letters subject to the regulations and restrictions in respect of the same.

8. The several terms and expressions used in this Warrant shall be construed to have the like meaning, in all respects, as they would have had if inserted in the said recited Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her Majesty.

9. The regulations made and established by virtue of a certain Warrant, under the hands of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, bearing date the 8th day of February, 1860, so far as they relate to the letters authorized to be transmitted by the post, under or by virtue of the provisions of this Warrant, are hereby repealed revoked and annulled.

10. The Commissioners for the time being of Her Majesty's Treasury may, by Warrant, under their hands, duly made at any time hereafter alter, repeal, or revoke any of the rates of postage hereby fixed or altered, or any of the orders, regulations, conditions, and restrictions hereby made, and may make and establish any new or other rates, orders, regulations, conditions, or restrictions in lieu thereof, and from time to time may appoint at what time the rates which may by payable are to be paid.

11. This Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of July next.

Whitehall Treasury Chambers, the thirtieth day of May, 1863.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1858.

Braithwell, West Riding of Yorkshire.

WHEREAS on the 19th day of March, 1863, a Resolution for the adoption of the Local Government Act, 1858, was passed by the Owners and Ratepayers of the township of Braithwell, in the county of York, the said township being a place with a population of less than 3000 by the last census. And whereas proof has not been given to my satisfaction as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State that, by reason of special circumstances, it is expedient that the said township shall be allowed to adopt the said Act, I do hereby disapprove of such adoption.

Given under my hand this 30th day of May, 1863.

(Signed) G. Grey.

Home-Office, Whitehall.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1858.

Allerton (Yorkshire) and Great Crosby (Lancashire).

WHEREAS Resolutions for the adoption of the Local Government Act, 1858, have been passed by the Owners and Ratepayers of the township of Allerton, in the West Riding of the county of York, and also by the Owners and Ratepayers of so much of the township of Great Crosby, in the county of Lancaster, as is not comprised within the district of the Waterloo-with-Seaforth Local Board of Health, the said township of Allerton and the said portion of the township of Great Crosby, being each a place with a population of less than 3000 by the last census. And whereas proof has been given to my satisfaction, as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that, by reason of special circumstances, it is expedient that the said places should be allowed to adopt the said Act, I do hereby approve of such adoption.

Given under my hand this 30th day of May, 1863.

(Signed) G. Grey.

Home Office, Whitehall.

Notice is also given in this Gazette by the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that the Local Government Act, 1858, has been duly adopted within the township of Birkdale, in the county of Lancaster.—Dated the 30th day of May, 1863.

An order of the Poor Law Board, to the Churchwardens and Overseers of the Poor of the parish of Ashton-under-Lyne, in the county of Lancaster, and to all others whom it may concern, dated the 13th of May, 1863 (as set forth in this Gazette), directs that so much of the Act passed in the fourteenth year of the reign of Her Majesty, intituled "An Act to prevent the holding of Vestry or other Meetings in Churches, and for regulating the appointment of Vestry Clerks," as relates to the providing a room or suitable buildings for the purpose of holding vestry or other meetings for the transaction of any business of, or relating to, the parish of Ashton-under-Lyne, in the county of Lancaster, shall forthwith be applied to, and be put in force within, the said parish.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 5, 1863.

Whitehall June 4, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State, for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Acting Lieutenant-Governor, the Judge, the Jurats, the Queen's officers, the Minister, the Douzeniers of your Majesty's Island of Alderney, in the States assembled, beg to approach your Majesty in our own behalf, and in that of the inhabitants of this Island, to offer our sincere congratulations on the occasion of the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with the Princess Alexandra of Denmark.

We pray that it may please Almighty God to bless the union of their Royal Highnesses in happiness to your Majesty, and to the advantage of the nation in general.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 9, 1863.

Whitehall, June 8, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Archbishop, Bishops, and Clergy of the Province of Canterbury in Convocation assembled, approach your Majesty with the expression of our dutiful reverence for your Majesty's throne, and our loyal affection to your Royal person.

We desire to convey to your Majesty our hearty congratulations on the auspicious marriage of your Royal Son, the Prince of Wales, to Her Royal Highness the Princess Alexandra o Denmark.

We pray God for the sake of Jesus Christ our Lord, to pour out His heavenly blessing upon the Royal pair, to grant them a long, united, and prosperous life, and grace to exhibit the same bright example of Christian family life, which He enabled your Majesty and your Royal Consort for so many years to set before this nation.

And we pray God to cheer, with the sight of their happiness, your Majesty's widowed heart.

And we will ever pray, &c.,

C. T., Cantuar.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 12, 1863.

Whitehall June 11, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State, for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To Her Most Gracious Majesty VICTORIA, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Committee of the Baptist Union of Great Britain and Ireland, comprehending more than one thousand congregations of Protestant Dissenters of the Baptist Denomination in the United Kingdom, humbly offer to your Majesty our most hearty congratulations on the marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with the Princess Alexandra of Denmark.

We cannot but gratefully acknowledge the goodness of Almighty God in introducing at this juncture to your Royal house one so admirably adapted as Her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales to soothe your Majesty's grief.

It is our fervent prayer that the most sanguine hopes of your Majesty, and of the British nation, may be fully realised in the results of the auspicious union of their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales; and that when called by Divine Providence, at a day we trust far distant, to ascend the throne of his ancestors, his Royal Highness may prove a worthy imitator of his lamented father the late Prince Consort, and a lasting benefactor to a loyal and grateful people.

And the following on the same subject: from

The Ministers and Members of the Congregational Union of Scotland.

The Captain and Members of the Golf Club of St. Andrew's.

At the Court at Windsor, the 11th day of June, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

HER Majesty in Council was this day pleased, on a representation of the Right Honourable the Lords of the Committee of Council on Education, to appoint Joshua Girling Fitch, Esq., M.A., of London University, one of Her Majesty's Inspectors of Schools.

Arthur Helps.

At the Court at Windsor, the 11th day of June, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the "Foreign Deserters' Act, 1852," it is provided, that whenever it is made to appear to Her Majesty, that due facilities are, or will be, given for recovering and apprehending seamen who desert from British merchant ships in the territories of any foreign power, Her Majesty may by Order in Council, stating that such facilities are, or will be given, declare that seamen, not being slaves, who desert from merchant ships belonging to a subject of such power, when within Her Majesty's dominions, shall be liable to be apprehended and carried on board their respective ships, and may limit the operation of such order, and may render the operation thereof subject to such conditions and qualifications, if any, as may be deemed expedient.

And whereas it hath been made to appear to Her Majesty, that due facilities will be given for recovering and apprehending seamen (not being Italian subjects), who desert from British merchant ships, in the territories belonging to His Majesty the King of Italy.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers vested in Her by the said "Foreign Deserters' Act, 1852," and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order and declare, and it is hereby ordered and declared, that from and after the publication hereof in the London Gazette, Seamen, not being slaves (and not being British subjects), who desert from merchant ships belonging to subjects of the King of Italy, within Her Majesty's dominions, shall be liable to be apprehended and carried on board their respective ships; provided always, that if any such deserter has committed any crime in Her Majesty's dominions, he may be detained until he has been tried by a competent court, and until his sentence (if any) has been fully carried into effect.

And Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers vested in Her by the said "Foreign Deserters' Act, 1852," and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is further pleased to order and declare, that upon and after the publication hereof in the London Gazette, the Order in Council, relating to seamen who desert from merchant ships belonging to subjects of the King of the kingdom of the Two Sicilies, made by virtue of the said Act, on the 19th day of August, 1853, and published in the London Gazette on the 23rd day of August, 1853, and the Order in Council, relating to seamen who desert from merchant ships belonging to subjects of the King of Sardinia, made by virtue of the said Act on the 10th day of March, 1855, and published in the London Gazette on the 13th day of March, 1855, shall be revoked, and the same are hereby revoked accordingly.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and the Secretary of State for India, in Council, are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

Edmund Harrison.

At the Court at Windsor, the 11th day of June, 1863.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the "Foreign Deserters' Act, 1852," it is provided, that whenever it is made to appear to Her Majesty that due facilities are or will be given for recovering or apprehending seamen who desert from British merchant ships in the territories of any foreign power, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, stating that such facilities are or will be given, declare that seamen, not being slaves who desert from merchant ships belonging to such powers when within Her Majesty's dominions, shall be liable to be apprehended and carried on board their respective ships, and may limit the operation of such Order, and may render the operation thereof, subject to such conditions and qualifications, if any, as may be deemed expedient. And whereas it has been made to appear to Her Majesty that due facilities will be given for recovering and apprehending seamen who desert from British merchant ships in the territories of the Republic of Salvador, Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers vested in her by the said "Foreign Deserters' Act, 1852," and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order and declare, and it is hereby ordered and declared that from and after the publication hereof in the London Gazette, seamen not being slaves who, within Her Majesty's dominions, desert from merchant ships belonging to citizens of the Republic of Salvador, shall be liable to be apprehended and carried on board their respective ships.

Provided always, that if any such deserter has committed any crime in Her Majesty's dominions, he may be detained until he has been tried by a competent Court, and until his sentence (if any) has been fully carried into effect.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and the Secretary of State for India in Council, are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

Edmund Harrison.

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council was pleased to order with reference to the representation of the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State (as set forth in this Gazette), that burials be discontinued in the undermentioned parishes, as follows, viz.:

FULHAM.—Forthwith, with the exception of now existing family vaults and brick graves, in the portion of the ancient churchyard lying on the south-east of the diagonal footpath, and marked A, B, C, D, on the plan which was transmitted to the Vestry Clerk of the parish on the fourteenth of February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three; and from and after the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, with the like exceptions, in the remaining portion of the ancient churchyard marked E on the above-named plan: the family vaults and graves above exempted to be used on the following conditions—that when required they be opened without disturbing soil that has already been buried in, that each coffin be embedded in powdered charcoal and separately entombed in an air-tight manner, and that the only bodies interred therein be those of the husbands, wives, parents, unmarried children, and brothers and sisters of persons already buried therein. That in the new portion of the churchyard marked F in the above-mentioned plan, burials be conducted in accordance with the official regulations for new burial grounds.

LAMBETH.—Forthwith in the burial-ground of St. Luke's, Norwood, with the exception of now existing family vaults and graves, which shall be used in accordance with the regulations contained in the Order in Council, of the twenty-seventh of August, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, affecting burials in the said churchyard.

Also CARSHALTON.—Forthwith beneath the parish church of Carshalton, and from and after the first of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, in the Churchyard, with the exception of the now existing family vaults, brick graves, and family earthen graves, which are situated in that part of the churchyard which lies to the south of the church; and which shall be used in accordance with the official regulations for new burial grounds.

Also MARESFIELD, SUSSEX.—Forthwith beneath the parish church; and from and after the thirtieth of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, in the churchyard, with the exception of now existing vaults and family graves and reserved grave-spaces which can be opened without exposing human remains, and also with the exception of the plot of ground reserved for the use of the incumbent. ORMSBY, YORKSHIRE.—Forthwith in the church of Eston; and also forthwith in the old churchyard, with the exception of now existing vaults and family graves, which shall be used in accordance with the 5th, 7th, and 8th Official Regulations for New Burial Grounds. DIDSBURY.—Forthwith in the churchyard, except in existing vaults and walled graves, in which each coffin shall be embedded in charcoal and entombed in concrete or by masonry or brickwork properly cemented, and except in other graves which can be opened to the depth of five feet without exposure of human remains. WYMESWOLD.—Forthwith beneath the parish church.

At the Court at Windsor, the 11th day of June, 1863.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 16, 1863.

Whitehall, June 16, 1863.

THE following Addresess of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

Unto Her Most Excellent Majesty QUEEN VICTORIA of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Commissioners of Supply and Landowners of the county of Banff, in General Meeting assembled, beg leave to approach the Throne to express the continued and undiminished affection which we cherish towards your Majesty, and to tender our heartfelt and sincere congratulations on the event of the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales; we participate in the joy of the whole British people on this auspicious occasion and rejoice that His Royal Highness has formed an alliance with a Princess who is commended by such virtues of character.

We hope that the blessing of God may rest on the relation now sustained toward each other by their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales, and that this happy union may conduce to the honour and stability of the Throne so illustriously filled by your Majesty, and to the continuance of the manifold blessings which distinguish your Majesty's reign.

We fervently pray that your Majesty, under an allwise ruling Providence, may be blessed by length of years, prosperity, and happiness.

Signed in our name and by our appointment, at Banff, this 20th day of May, 1863 years.

Jachlon D. Gordon Duff, Convenor of the county of Banff.

And the following on the same subject: from

The Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Newbury.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 19, 1863.

Whitehall, June 10, 1863.

THE Queen, as Sovereign of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, has been graciously pleased, by letters patent under the Great Seal of the Order, bearing date this day, to dispense with all the Statutes and regulations observed in regard to installation, and to grant unto His Royal Highness Prince Alfred Ernest Albert, Duke of Saxony, and Prince of Saxe Coburg Gotha, Knight of the said Most Noble Order, full power and authority to exercise all rights and privileges belonging to a Knight Companion of the said Most Noble Order of the Garter, in as full and ample a manner as if he had been formally installed, any decree, rule, or usuage to the contrary notwithstanding.

Whitehall, June 18, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously :

To Her Majesty the QUEEN.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Ministers and Lay Representatives of the religious denomination, called the Primitive Methodist Connexion, which now numbers 146,581 Members, being now assembled in the Townhall, Leeds, for transacting the business of our Churches in Annual Conference, beg leave to lay before your Majesty our loyal congratulations on the accession to your Royal House of the illustrious Princess Alexandra of Denmark, by the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

It affords this Conference great pleasure to think that the oppressive grief of your Majesty under the afflictive bereavement which in the order of Divine Providence you were called to sustain in the early decease of His Royal Highness the late Prince Consort, is in some degree mitigated by the event which has not only brought an increase of happiness to your illustrious family, but of loyal gratification to all classes of your Majesty's subjects. And we earnestly and devoutly pray that your Majesty may long be spared to fill the throne you have hitherto so worthily occupied, and to rejoice in the happiness of the Royal pair to whom you have presented so excellent an example. And when it shall please Divine Providence to call His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales to fill the exalted position your Majesty now occupies at the head of this great nation, may your Majesty be found prepared on laying down an earthly crown, to receive an heavenly one, through the alone merits of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

May it please your Majesty, we are your Majesty's loyal and devoted Subjects, in the behalf of the Conference, William Antliff, President.

James Garner, Secretary.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 23, 1863.

Whitehall June 22, 1863.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Baronet, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State, for the Home Department, for Presentation, have accordingly been presented by him to Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal subjects, George Augustus Frederick John, Duke of Athole, K.T., John Whyte Melville, Esq., of Bennochy and Shathkinness, Francis Robert, Lord Loughborough, for ourselves and the other Office Bearers and Members of the Grand Lodge of Scotland, as well as in the name of the whole Fraternity of Scottish Freemasons, beg leave to approach your Royal presence with our dutiful and most cordial congratulations on the Marriage of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with the Princess Alexandra of Denmark.

We avail ourselves of this very auspicious occasion to convey our expressions of loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's Royal person and family with feelings of that true, paternal, and sincere sympathy with which we, as Freemasons, welcome every event which conduces to the happiness of so excellent and exemplary a Sovereign.

That it may please Him by whom Kings reign to shower down upon your Majesty and your Royal house His Divine blessing, and continue to prosper with long life and happiness a Union so very grateful to the Masonic Craft, as well as to the whole nation, is our humble but sincere prayer.

Given at Edinburgh, in full Grand Lodge assembled, this 4th day of May, A.D. 1863, A.L. 5863.

Athole, Grand Master.

Wm. A. Laurie, G. Secretary.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1858.

Withyham, Sussex.

WHEREAS a Resolution for the adoption of the Local Government Act, 1858, has been passed by the Owners and Ratepayers of the parish of Withyham, in the county of Sussex, the said parish being a place with a population of less than 3000 by the last census. And whereas proof has not been given to my satisfaction, as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that, by reason of special circumstances, it is expedient that the said parish shall be allowed to adopt the said Act, I do hereby disapprove of such adoption.

Given under my hand this 22nd day of June, 1863.

(Signed) G. Grey.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1858.

NORTHWICH, CHESHIRE.

WHEREAS a Resolution for the adoption of the Local Government Act, 1858, has been duly passed by the Owners and Ratepayers of the township of Northwich, in the county of Chester, the said township being a place with a population of less than 3000 by the last census. And whereas proof has been given to my satisfaction as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that all the requirements of the aforesaid Act have been complied with, and that by reason of special circumstances, it is expedient that the said township shall be allowed to adopt the said Act, I do hereby approve of such adoption.

Given under my hand this 24th day of June, 1863.

And to command that the said Royal concession and declaration be registered in Her Majesty's College of Arms.

Board of Trade, Whitehall,
June 27, 1863.

NOTIFICATION.

With reference to the publication, on the 27th ultimo, in the Official Gazette of this city, of the conventions entered into on the 4th of April last by all the Elbe-bordering States, the undersigned deputation deems it expedient to call the attention of those persons who are interested in the traffic of the Elbe to some (in a practical point of view) more important rules of the said convention.

From and after the 1st of July next, instead of all hitherto existing Elbe-tolls, including the equivalent of the recognition duty, only one Elbe-toll at Wittenberge will be levied for all the river-bordering States, and at the same time the so-called Essling-toll will be discontinued.

The obligation to pay this Elbe-toll is founded on the act of entering the Customs-district at Wittenberge, which begins 1,000 rods above the Chief Custom-house at that place, and ends 1,000 rods below the same.

Goods, which are sent from hence up the river to a place situated below the above-mentioned Customs-district, or arrive here from such a place, are therefore, from the 1st July, not subject to the payment of toll.

The new Elbe-toll for all articles, which are not enumerated in the list of the second or third class or in that of the articles exempted from tolls, amounts to sixteen silber-pfennige (1 silbergroschen 4 pfennige, or 1¾d. sterling per centner*), gross weight.

For those articles which will in future belong to the second class (viz., those which belonged to the class hitherto paying $\frac{1}{10}$ of the normal rate, as well as lie of all sorts, saltpetre of all sorts, and petroleum), the Elbe-toll will be eight silber-pfennige (8 pfe., or 0⅞d. sterling);

And for such articles as in future will belong to the third class (viz., those belonging to the class hitherto paying $\frac{1}{40}$th of the normal rate, as also salt of every kind excepting sodden), the toll will be two silber pfennige (2 pfge. or 0½d. sterling) for one centner, gross weight.

Ships which touch the Customs-district at Wittenberge, will have to exhibit to each of the two Elbe-toll Offices (to the United Elbe-toll Office for Austria, Prussia, Saxony, Anhalt, and Hamburg, and to the common Elbe toll office for Hanover, Denmark, and Mecklenburg), the original manifest, and will have to deliver a correct copy of the same.

place below Wittenberge, from whatever place they come, have, at the place of discharge, to deliver their original manifest to the proper authorities; and moreover, such ships which sail from places below Wittenberge must, as heretofore, have their manifests attested.

Except in the above-mentioned cases, the granting and delivering of manifests hitherto requisite for the Elbe-navigation, will be discontinued after the 1st of July next, as also as a matter of course the obligation of the ships to report themselves at the hitherto existing Elbe-toll offices, excepting at Wittenberge, will cease when the new Elbe-toll regulations come into operation.

With reference to the transition from the hitherto existing Elbe-toll system to the new one, the following transitory regulations will come into operation according to an agreement between the Elbe-bordering States.

"Those ships and rafts which have before the 1st of July next paid the toll at the hitherto existing toll offices according to the existing regulations, if they should on or after the 1st July next on the same voyage pass the Customs-district at Wittenberge, will only be obliged to pay the toll leviable there, in so far as the same amounts to a larger sum than the toll paid already by them on the same voyage according to the old rates."

"Those ships and rafts, however, which pass Wittenberge before the 1st of July next, but do not conclude the voyage before that day or after it, have to report themselves at the last of the hitherto existing Elbe-toll offices, which they touch on their voyage, and to pay in addition the Wittenberge Elbe-toll according to the rates fixed in the Convention, in so far as they have not already paid an equal sum for Elbe-tolls or more on the entire voyage."

Hamburg, 11th June, 1863.
